COUNCIL BLUFFS

Mrs. S. G. Dowd, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Dowd at the Grand hotel, has returned to her home in Colorado.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Hargens entertained the members of South First street chapter of St. Paul's guild at the Creche. The entire afternoon was spent in preparing spring outfits for the Creche. Late in the afternoon tea was served by the hostess.

A dance for the benefit of Company L boys has been arranged for April 6 at Gilliat under the direction of Mrs. H. Frandsen. Committees from the local comfort club have been appointed to assist her and earnest cooperation and aid has been promised her in the effort to provide our boys with all the comforts possible and a few of the luxuries they appreciate so much.

At the Young Women's Christian association on Tuesday evening the children of our city staged one of the most successful parties of the season. The occasion was the March party so dear to the members of that organization and they surely enjoyed the games and frivolities so dear to the childish heart. Fond parents saw to it that the necessary pennies were not lacking with which to purchase the longed for peanuts and cracker-jack and each child had the time of his life in the effort to outdo his neighbor. All the guests were dressed in appropriate costumes and each competed for the prize for the best, which was won by Percy, the city boy. The best behaved child and the one who found the most peanuts also came in for their share of the honors, each receiving a prize. The 90 joyful guests played the same old games of "London Bridge" and "Pop the Handkerchiefs" till 10 o'clock, which came all too soon and like good children they went promptly home to bed.

Mrs. Thomas Maloney has returned home from a two weeks' southern trip. Most of her time was spent in Hot Springs and points south of there.

Miss Margaret Maloney has returned from Des Moines, where she was the guest of Mrs. Wallace Graham, formerly Miss Orpha Quin of this city.

Mrs. Swaine was leader at the meeting of the history and literature department of the Council Bluffs Woman's club on Thursday afternoon at the library. Very delightful talks were given by Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Hollenbeck and Mrs. Towles, each of whom illustrated her subject so beautifully that in itself was a joy to the listeners. Each of the subjects was so well arranged and prepared by the speaker that no one could fail to appreciate the care and enthusiasm of the speaker as well as the great value of the material so offered.

Mrs. Theodore Peterson entertained 16 members of the True Blue Red Cross unit on Thursday afternoon and they were joined by Mrs. W. R. Lewis. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Chris Nelson. Mrs. L. T. Pryor on Route 3 will be the next hostess.

The meeting of the art department of the Council Bluffs Woman's club at the library on Monday was led by Mrs. Emma Ingalls. The subject of the lesson was the "Amiens Cathedral," the famous gothic cathedral of the 13th century. Some very interesting papers were given by Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. Nina Children, Mrs. Ingalls and Mrs. J. E. Wallace. Each of the papers was rich in descriptions of the wonderful old building, which has represented so much of the history of the world, present and past, and which we have every reason to believe will take as important a place in the years to come. The deep religious thought of the last few centuries is typified by this one building, with its magnificent towers, flying buttresses and lofty spires. The beautiful interior with its marvelous organ, panelled history of John the Baptist and other art treasures all came in for their share in the study and were fully appreciated by the auditors.

Mrs. A. I. Ingram was very delightfully surprised on Monday afternoon by a birthday celebration planned for her by 13 of her friends and neighbors who gathered to do her honor. The self-invited guests arrived laden with huge baskets of all the good things so necessary to a party and spent the afternoon in making their hostess wish she had a birthday every day.

Pillows for Soldiers

Wives, widows and daughters of Civil war veterans are making feather pillows for soldier convalescents. These women, many of whom are between sixty and eighty years old, are sewing on seams and filling the cases with feathers. The work is done in the name of the Legion of Loyal Women, who have made the supplying of feather pillows for military base hospitals at home and abroad part of their work. The American Red Cross hospital at Neuilly, France has been provided by them with hundreds of these pillows.

Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, daughter of the late General John A. Logan, and president of the Legion of Loyal Women, stated that last year the women made up about 2,000 pounds of feathers which had been donated for the purpose by women all over the country. After the feathers were renovated they were made into hundreds of pillows, not only for beds, but for train pillows and little comfort pillows to be used for resting broken arms and wounded limbs.
