

CUTTING DOWN QUANTITY OF WHEAT FLOUR

Food Administrator Wattles Orders That Six Pounds Per Month May Be Sold to Each Person.

"It is absolutely necessary to reduce the consumption of wheat flour to six pounds per person per month. In no instance shall more than this amount for each member of the household be sold by any retailer or miller to the head of any family for the use of his household."

"All mills having food administration flour contracts must proceed to fill them immediately, regardless of all other demands for their products, running exclusively upon government business until uncompleted contracts shall be filled."

The foregoing order was issued by Gurdon W. Wattles, federal food administrator for Nebraska before he left on a brief coast trip.

Mills are becoming too greatly in arrears in their shipments of flour under government contract and the order is to expedite the movement of flour. Enforcement of the order is centered in the southwestern milling division, with offices in Kansas City, New Rules in Line.

"This order only emphasizes the necessity for flour productions," said Mr. Wattles. "The new wheat conservation rules and regulations are in line with this order. While these rules may seem drastic and annoying, to some, yet they ask very little."

"We have sent our young men across the water to fight for us and to help our associates in the war. Are we going to send them the food that is necessary to keep them in health and put up their greatest fight for democracy? Or are we going to eat this flour ourselves?"

"The answer is with us. We are going to send the flour across, even if we have to go without ourselves."

"Today our associates are putting up the greatest struggle in the history of the world for an ideal—the rights to live under democratic form of government. It would be the greatest crime in history if we failed to provide the necessities to successfully wage this battle. Food is the prime necessity, even more important than munitions."

Sacrifice Is Slight.

"What is the sacrifice we are asked to make in comparison with the sacrifices that have been made for years by our associates? So when we are asked to limit our consumption of wheat, we are asked to contribute a very small part of what those who are fighting for us are giving."

In a bulletin to county food administrators, Mr. Wattles permits a slight modification of the substitute order. Permission is given to millers and retailers to sell wheat flour without substitutes to consumers, who grind their own corn meal, or presentation of a written statement that purchaser has on hand corn meal to the amount of the flour he desires to purchase and will use it for human food at the same time and during the period that flour is used.

In all cases the statements must be signed by the county food administrator or his local representative.

CAIRO FEARS AIR RAIDS; HOSTILE PLANE NEAR CITY

London, March 28.—The inhabitants of Cairo, Egypt, were informed officially last Thursday, according to a Reuter dispatch, that a hostile airship had been observed over the coast.

The public was warned of the possibility of air raids and ordered to observe the necessary lighting regulations.

Cairo, the capital and most populous city of Egypt, has been in no danger from air raids since the Turks were driven back from the Suez canal. The Turkish lines in Palestine are the nearest enemy points to Cairo and they are 320 miles northeast.

An enemy airship might also come across the Mediterranean sea from the southern coast of Asia Minor. The distance by that route would be 450 miles one way. A German airship recently attacked Naples, Italy, after a trip of 300 miles from the Austrian coast along the Adriatic.

An official statement issued in Athens on Saturday says that on Thursday Zeppelins passed over the Island of Crete, traveling in a northerly direction.

Recruiting Service in Need of Timely Posters

The army recruiting service is in need of posters, according to local officers who say that the posters supplied to the War department earlier in the war are now untimely. Posters with the human touch, the appeal to a man's sense of duty are wanted.

The United States Army National Recruiter is promoting a contest to obtain posters with a punch and offer three prizes, $50, $25 and $10. The prize-winning poster will be submitted to the War department for adoption. The contest closes April 20.

Germans Over Korea.

San Francisco, March 24.—The Chinese World, a local publication, received advices from Shanghai tonight reporting that an airplane, believed to be a German machine on scout duty, had appeared over Korea.

Chinese Mission Head to Publish Magazine Here

Rev. Father Edward Galvin, who is the head of the Chinese Irish mission, returned a short time ago to this country, has made arrangements for the publication of an American edition of his original publication, called the "Far East."

Officers have already been elected and the American home office will be located in Omaha. It is anticipated that the first edition will be given to the printers within the week.

Nearly five years ago Father Galvin entered the Chinese mission field and his return to this country was for the purpose of obtaining additional volunteers so that he may return better prepared to convert and educate the Chinese. He has received the approval from the American cardinals and more than $250,000 has been subscribed, with 23 volunteers and 300 nuns, who will return with him in the near future.

A college has been opened in Ireland and seven of his priests have been detailed to prepare and teach these volunteers.

STAMP DEPOSITS MAKE NEW RECORD

Omaha Goes Far Ahead of Larger Cities in the Sale of "Baby War Bonds."

New evidence of the liberality of the people of Omaha and Nebraska in war activities is furnished by the gigantic deposits made Monday by the Omaha postoffice for war savings stamps sold in Nebraska. This deposit for one day was a little more than $500,000.

About the time this deposit was being made a circular letter was received from the postoffice of Portland, Ore., stating that the people of that city had bought $376,000 worth of war savings stamps up to March 1. "Portland claims a population of nearly 100,000 more people than Omaha," said Postmaster Fanning, "and yet the people of Omaha had bought more than $600,000 worth of war savings stamps up to March 1. I don't believe there is another city in the world that has given so liberally to war causes of various kinds as Omaha. We have gone over the top in everything that has been put up to us. The outpouring of money from our people is simply astonishing."

Carriers to Aid.

This week the letter carriers have added to their duties the collecting of money for the Salvation Army's drive for war funds. The department has given this organization the privilege of soliciting through the carriers because they have not the workers as have the Young Men's Christian association and Knights of Columbus.

The postmaster says subscriptions to this fund are being received rapidly. In the face of all the added work the depleted local postoffice force is doing, a letter came Monday from Assistant Postmaster General Chance asking whether the Omaha office can spare a few experienced letter distributors to help in the Washington office. Mr. Fanning immediately replied, stating that the Omaha office has already lost one-third of its force and cannot spare a single man.

Nebraskan Mentioned in Official Paper at Front

Harry A. Tukey is proud of a copy of the first issue of "The Stars and Stripes," official newspaper of the American expeditionary forces in France. The paper is dated "France, Friday, February 8," and the price is 50 centimes per copy. Allan Tukey sent the paper from France to his brother.

One of the news articles in this paper refers to Bud Lehr of Albion, Neb., member of a basketball team which won the Nebraska championship. Lehr is a member of a French flying squadron. Recently, while flying over Rombach and Ludwigshafen, he experienced engine trouble and was forced to lower his machine a considerable distance before mechanical troubles were corrected. The story relates that he and several companions were exposed to enemy fire during this experience.

POLITICAL SHRAPNEL

"Smash the slate" is the primary campaign slogan of Mayor Dahlman's lieutenants. The mayor reiterated in his Saturday night talk that insofar as he is concerned there will be no city hall slate before the primary. Commissioner Hummel made a similar statement a few days ago. A Dahlman leader was asked what slate the mayor referred to.

"Haven't you heard of the slate 'Bob' Smith and his bunch are trying to line up to put Ed Smith over?" he asked.

The election commissioner's office will be open until 9 a. m. each day this week until Friday, when registrations for the primary will be closed. Filings will be closed on the same day.

J. M. Cahill, former county jailer, announces in his campaign cards that he is making the race for "police commissioner," which means, it is understood, that he is specially after City Commissioner Kugel's job.

Henry Rohlf has filed for city commissioner. He informed the election commissioner that his petition contained 1,181 names.

H. A. Foster, Cornelius Farrell and Dan C. Whitney are willing to serve on the city charter commission and have gone through the necessary formalities.

"Patriotic" Crap Game Ends

In Grief for Two Battlers

Police interrupted a "patriotic" crap game Saturday afternoon, when they arrested William Carack, 1504 Corby street, and Sam Malanek, 1916 North Twenty-fifth street, at the home of the former. They surprised the men just as Carack shouted, "come seven!"

In police court Monday morning it developed from the men's testimony that Malanek was initiating Carack into the mysteries of the game, but that the "pupil" had obtained most of the "teacher's" bank roll. Carack started with about $5 and had $105.05 in his possession when arrested, while the "teacher" had about $13 left.

The patriotic feature of the game became apparent when Carack testified he intended investing his winnings in thrift stamps. Judge Fitzgerald let them off with a fine of $5 and costs each.

Judge Excuses Jurors So They Can Work on Farm

"Courts are of secondary importance at this crisis," Judge Wheeler announced yesterday morning, when he excused a large number of jurors and told them that a few hours of work in the fields was worth more to the country than long periods of service in the jury box.

Out of a panel of 60 jurors called for service Monday morning, 28 had been excused.

Encloses Poem With Opera Glasses Loaned to Navy

Mrs. W. R. Johnson, 123 North Twenty-third street, enclosed the following message with the opera glasses which she loaned to the navy:

"My glasses I am pleased to lend, To the U. S. to help defend From what is called a submarine, Which very often may be seen, That with their deadly torpedo Try at our ships to strike a blow. Could a victory be won Sinking a U-boat with the Hun, My loan to U. S. would be repaid And more highly I'd prize them for their aid."

W. R. WATSON SAYS HE HAD SUFFERED FOR TWENTY YEARS

Takes Tanlac and Now Feels Like New Man; Gains Fifteen Pounds.

"I am just now on my third bottle of Tanlac and have actually gained fifteen pounds," was the remarkable statement made by W. R. Watson, 428 West Fifth South Street, Salt Lake City, recently. Mr. Watson, who was a railroad man for a long time, has for the past two years been employed by the city in the bridge department.

"For twenty years, that is, until I began taking Tanlac," continued Mr. Watson, "I have suffered more than I can tell from gas and pains in my stomach. These attacks would come quick and sharp and in ten minutes I would be compelled to give up whatever I might be doing. For five years I suffered the greatest agony. About fifteen years ago my condition became so serious that I had an operation, and after this I seemed to get better, but in about a year the pains returned just as bad as ever. My stomach would knot up in great ridges and the pain was perfectly awful. Nothing I would eat agreed with me. I had no appetite and all my food would sour and make gas and misery for me. My nerves were so shattered that I could hardly sleep at all, and many a day I could not go to my work at all. My color was bad and my strength was getting away from me rapidly. I fell off some fifty pounds in weight and nobody will ever know how I suffered, because I can only partially describe it."

"But my relief has come at last, thanks to Tanlac. I saw where it was proving of such benefit to people here, and as I had tried everything else without getting any results, I concluded to see what it would do for me, and wonderful is the only word that expresses it. After taking about a half dozen doses my appetite began to pick up and I found my stomach was beginning to digest my food. When I finished my first bottle, that tired feeling had left me. I felt stronger and could walk without my legs giving out. Well, when I first began on Tanlac I just weighed one hundred and thirty pounds. I now weigh one hundred and forty-five pounds, an actual gain of fifteen pounds, and I'm beginning to feel like a brand new man. My nerves are greatly improved and I sleep better every night. I notice my kidneys and bladder are more regular and natural, and so I have gotten good results all over. I am fully convinced by what those two bottles have done for me that two or three more will put me in as good health as I ever was in my life. I'm simply feeling altogether different in every way and I can't praise Tanlac too highly for the good it has done me."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, corner 16th and Dodge streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Harney streets; Harvard pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; Northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets, and West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

AMIENS IS POINT TOWARD WHICH TEUTONS STRIKE

Capture of Important French City Would Endanger Paris; Germans Gain Little in Great Drive.

London, March 25.—"The ultimate object of this rapid and intent enemy advance is clearly the great strategic point of Amiens," says the Times, "and, though it is still remote, the situation is sufficiently serious to warrant a contemplation of this catastrophe."

"The fall of Amiens might have threefold consequences: It would bring the enemy to a point from which to threaten our northern line it would assist them to strike at the channel ports and it would endanger seriously the safety of Paris."

The Times advises the British people to take seriously the long range gun which has bombarded Paris and adds:

"We may be quite certain that our own inviolate shores will soon learn what the new gun can do."

Germans Gain Little.

Commenting on the results of the German offensive, the Daily Chronicle says:

"Assuming that the German losses are at least 150,000, the enemy has sustained a reverse, for he has not obtained a strategic success directly conducing to a decision, while he has lost 8 or 10 per cent of his effectiveness without similarly lowering the efficiency of the allies."

"This matter is of the greatest importance, for Germany at present is at the critical moment when the man power pendulum is swinging in favor of the allies. No weakness at the Anglo-French junction has yet been disclosed and the task before the enemy in the next days of the battle is more formidable than that already accomplished."

Choir of 30 Voices Sings In Big Department Store

A choir of 30 voices sang patriotic and sacred songs from the balcony in the Burgess-Nash store Monday noon to the crowds that thronged the store to capacity.

George Hruschka, 12-year-old boy, sang the solo, "Hold Thou My Hand." He has a clear, bell-like voice and could be heard in every part of the big store.

The choir, which is the largest store choir west of Chicago, was organized by A. L. Green a year ago Christmas, and has grown to be a successful institution.

"America," "The Palms," "Awake Thou Who Sleepest," "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," were some of the selections which were sung Monday. Different programs have been prepared for every day of the week.

Mother Smiles When Son Takes Oath to Enter Navy

When Walter McNamara, Fremont, was sworn into service in the navy in Omaha Saturday, his mother witnessed the ceremony and smiled at her boy when he replied, "I do," in answer to the reading of the oath of service read by Ensign Condie.

Walter is an only son, but his mother smiled as she saw him off in war. "Smiling is a part of our life," she explained.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

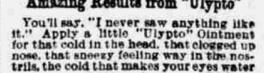

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mul-tilified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mul-tilified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

Back in the forties, when San Francisco was twenty days from New York and Europe was another planet, cities were mostly interested in themselves. Newspapers had space only for the city hall reporter, weddings and other local happenings. But as American life expanded into national, and then international compass, people demanded news from other cities and countries. And so, in 1848, the publishers of a number of leading American newspapers formed a mutual organization which was named the Associated Press. In effect, these newspapers combined their newsgathering staffs, supplying each other with the important news, each within his own particular territory. Later were added special Associated Press correspondents and foreign correspondents. Incidentally, a vast organization was set on foot to transmit the dispatches over the telegraph wires. From this beginning has grown the great Associated Press of to-day. Its membership reaches into almost every city and town of importance in the country—1,080 are on the rolls. It commands the services of 52,000 special correspondents, and its foreign correspondents cover every city in the civilized world. It operates 22,000 miles of leased telegraph wires every day, and 30,000 miles every night. It is the largest and most efficient news gathering organization in the world.
