

HARD WORK AND RIFLES TO WIN RUSS FREEDOM

Regular Army, Dictators and Organization Only Salvation From Germans, Declares War Minister.

Moscow, March 28.—Russians must take a rifle in one hand, and a hammer in the other, submit to the most strict discipline and work 16 hours a day if they hope to combat the menace threatening them, declared Mr. Podvoisky, assistant minister of war, in an address advocating the immediate creation of a regular army. He ridiculed the idea of guerrilla warfare and said that such an effort would only be a "flea bite."

Russia, he said, wants dictators and business organization instead of pious intentions. Mr. Podvoisky urged compulsory training, and commercial as well as military mobilization.

The Bolshevik Pravda says that recruiting for the Red Guards is unsuccessful, so far, because of the opposition of the bourgeoisie, who "must be removed by merciless terror if necessary."

Russ Town Threatened.

Petrograd, March 28.—Official dispatches published here confirm the report that Odessa has been recaptured by the bolshevik troops.

Odessa was first bombarded by cruisers which came from Sebastopol. There was desperate fighting for three days, in the vicinity of Sebastopol, between the bolsheviks and Austro-German detachments.

The latest war bulletin reports Austro-Germans to be within 40 miles of Yekaterinavsk, a commercial and industrial town about 250 miles north-east of Odessa.

T. R. PRAISES G. O. P. FOR WORK DONE TO VANQUISH ENEMY

Maine 55 years ago, in the days of the civil war.

The republicans of Maine and republicans of the nation generally have in this crisis subordinated all other questions to their devotion to the nation. Not in all our history has any political party when in opposition shown as fine, as whole-hearted and as completely disinterested patriotism as has been shown by the republican party, especially by its representatives in the senate and congress of the United States during the year and two months now closing. Their devotion has been to the interests of America. They have sought to serve their party only by making it serve America; and they have realized that by serving America they could best serve the free nations of mankind.

Must Be Americans.

The events of the past three and a half years have brought home to us in startling fashion the truth that in this country the man who is not wholly American and nothing but American is a traitor to America. There can be no such thing as a 50-50 allegiance. There are no better Americans in this land than the Americans of German blood, who are Americans and nothing else. It is a shame and a disgrace not to treat these men precisely as all other Americans are treated. They are fit to serve in our armies in any position from the major general down; they are fit to hold any position in civil life from the president down. But the men of German blood who have tried to be both Germans and Americans are not Americans at all, but traitors to America and tools and servants of Germany against America.

The immediate need while the war lasts, and while it is necessary in every way to speed up production, is for the government so to act as regards every industry connected with the war as to secure the necessary raw material for the capitalists and yet to stop all excessive and improper profiteering; so as to secure an ample reward for the wage-worker, and also to insist that for the full wage a full day's work be done. In the past too often capitalists in the name of efficiency have speeded up the work of the laborers to the point of exhaustion and themselves absorbed almost all the profits. Naturally this has produced a revolt in which the workman has sought to protect himself against exploitation by limiting production and by reducing the work of all to the level of the work of the least efficient. We cannot accept such attitude by either side as proper. We have a right to insist upon the utmost efficiency. But a due proportion of the reward for the efficiency must go to the wage worker; and he must have some representation in the business which will satisfy honest inquiry on his part that justice is being done.

Pledged to Win.

We are pledged to the hilt as a nation to put this war through without flinching until we win peace of overwhelming victory. We owe this to our own honor and to our future well-being. We owe it to the liberty-loving peoples of mankind. We are pledged to secure for each well-behaved nation the right to control its own destinies and to live undominated and unharmed by others so long as it does not harm others.

This is the people's war. It is not the president's war. It is not congress's war. It is the war of the people of the United States for the honor and welfare of America and of mankind.

We are in this war because of special and intolerable grievance against Germany; because in addition to many other misdeeds she for two years followed a course of deliberate murder of our unarmed and unoffending citizens, men, women and children; because her continuous and contemptuous maltreatment of our country rendered it imperative for us to go to war in order to ensure our future safety against such maltreatment by any foreign nation. Our first duty is to beat down Germany in order to save ourselves and our belongings, in order to save our women and our children and our homes. We fight for the future of our own dear land, but we are also in the war because in common with all civilized mankind we have been outraged by Germany's capricious and cynical brutalities against well-behaved weaker nations. This is a war on behalf of treaties as against scraps of paper; for the freedom of the sea against world enslavement (for Germany has been the real foe of freedom of the seas); it is a war on behalf of small well-behaved nations against the dominating and infinitely cruel arrogance of the brutal and scientific German militarism; a war for helpless women and children against murderers; a war for civilization against barbarism, honor against infamy, right against wrong; a war against the powers of darkness, or death and of hell. As for our own special grievance it is far more serious than any grievance for which ever before we had to fight a foreign foe. Germany has wronged us far more seriously than Great Britain wronged us during the years that led up to our Declaration of Independence. No man can advocate submission to Germany now without proving false to the spirit of the men of 1776.

We must work in the spirit of Washington and Lincoln, and this we can only do if we apply that spirit to the issues of the present day. It is in peace as it is in war. Washington's Continentals, with their flintlock muskets and short-range cannon, would have been helpless before the men in blue and gray, who bore the weapons of the civil war, and the weapons that were formidable in the days of Grant and Lee would now count for no more than stone-headed axes against the tremendous machinery of modern warfare. But the spirit that now conquers in war is the same as it was in 1776 and in 1865. Weapons change, but the soul of the man who is to handle the weapon does not change.

been in the service continuously. He was appointed as sergeant in April, 1901; captain, November 15, 1910; chief of detectives with rank of assistant chief, July 26, 1917.

No Plans for Future.

"I have no plans for the future beyond trying to restore my health," stated Mr. Dunn. "I expect to have a garden this year. Omaha will be my home town as long as I live, because I could not be contented in any other place. I had some thought of running for city commissioner, but decided that my health would not permit me to make the race."

Mr. Dunn has been active in Ak-Sar-Ben affairs for years, taking one of the leading singing parts in the initiation exercises at the "den."

Favors Frank Murphy.

Superintendent Kugel favors the appointment of J. T. Dunn to the position of chief of detectives, but Chief-elect Dempsey favors Sergeant Frank Murphy, who is now head of the morals squad. The city commissioners are inclined to stand by their resolution of last summer, which in effect was that the chief of police should reorganize his department according to what in his judgment was best. The commissioners believe that the chief, whoever he may be, should name his subordinates.

GERMANY CAUSED HORROR IN WHICH WORLD NOW LIES

Former Teuton Ambassador Admits His Government Alone to Blame for Carnage.

London, March 28.—The personal memorandum of Prince Lichnowsky, revealing the inner workings of German diplomacy, which has caused much feeling in Germany against the former ambassador to Great Britain, leaked out last summer through the German general staff after the fall of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg. This statement is made by the socialist Vorwarts of Berlin, and is published by the Times, which also reprints from the Vorwarts the most important points of the memorandum.

In an editorial on the disclosures of the prince the Times says: "By a coincidence as strange as it is opportune passages of the memorandum in which the former German ambassador fixes the guilt for the war upon his own government reach us as the fiercest and bloodiest conflict of the long struggle is at its height. Moment of Horror."

"At the moment when mankind is filled with horror and anguish at the carnage on the great battlefield, all eyes will turn to his account of the policy which brought this dread visitation upon the world."

"He has not a shadow of a doubt about the responsibility for the war. Without hesitation he fastens it upon Germany. The German militarists were inexorable. They would not suffer Count Berchtold to give way. When he flinched from plunging Europe into war they forced his hand. They delivered an ultimatum to Russia and the next day declared war upon her, although the Russian emperor had pledged his word that while the negotiations continued not a man should march."

Destroys Chance of Peace.

"We deliberately destroyed the possibility of a peaceful settlement," is the former ambassador's considered judgment. He cannot feel surprised that "the whole civilized world outside Germany attributes to us sole guilt for the world war." The whole story which he records corroborates this judgment and cannot be reconciled with any other.

"The first hint of coming trouble which reached him seems to have been Von Bethmann-Hollweg's refusal to share his optimism when he visited Wilhelmstrasse early in July, 1914. The chancellor and the under-secretary for foreign affairs complained of Russian armament and the latter declared that Russia was everywhere in Germany's way."

"At the same time he learned that Von Tschirsky, the German ambassador at Vienna, had been rebuked because he had counseled moderation towards Serbia. But these were mere straws showing the direction of the current."

Senator Gallinger is 81.

Washington, March 28.—Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, the republican senate leader, today received many congratulations upon his 81st birthday anniversary. He was born in Cornwall, Ont., Canada, in 1837.

GOVERNOR SAYS NO INTENTION TO ASK FOR DRY MOVE

extraordinary session the matter of ratifying the national prohibition amendment. It is not my intention to submit the question of its ratification for the consideration of the legislature at this session. I shall be very glad, however, if your honorable body so desires, to submit for its information a copy of the communications in my possession with reference to this question, or to submit the original copies for the information of individuals or committees of the house who would care to examine them in my office."

Letter From Lansing.

The letter which Governor Neville received from Mr. Lansing was simply a notice that the amendment had passed the national congress and that he should bring it to the attention of the legislature. The letter was written January 1, 1918, and read: "I have the honor to enclose a certified copy of a resolution of congress with a request that you cause the same to be submitted to the legislature of your state for action as may be had."

There was no mention of a special session or that it be incorporated in a call. At the time it was written the governor had not figured on calling a special session.

The senate this morning listened to the reading of a resolution by Henry of Colfax, which stated that the senate would consider no legislation except that in the call of the governor. This went over under the call and will come up later.

Houses Far Apart.

It is an indication that the two bodies are just about as far apart on the wet and dry issue at this session as they were before and is evidence that the governor knew what he was about when he feared to place the matter in the special call for fear that there would not be harmony and the real legislation for which the call was made would suffer thereby.

The senate resolution reads: "Whereas, The legislature of Nebraska is now in extraordinary session, convened by the exercise of his constitutional powers and limited in its scope of action by the constitutional restrictions which give the only legal force and effect to the acts of this extraordinary session, to-wit: 'The governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the legislature by proclamation, stating therein the purpose for which they are convened, and the legislature shall enter upon no business except that for which they were called together.'"

"Therefore, On the part of the senate of Nebraska, convened in extraordinary session, be it

"Resolved, That the senate confine its deliberations and enactments to the purposes definitely set forth in the official call of the governor authorizing this extraordinary session, and that the senate hereby makes of record its purpose to consider no proposed act for a law, joint or concurrent resolution, outside of and foreign to the specific purposes declared by the governor in his official call authorizing the extraordinary session in which the legislature is now convened."

Says Brewers' Move.

Charles W. Bryan is not satisfied with the action of the governor and to The Bee stated this afternoon that it was a move in the interests of the brewers, who will be permitted to continue just a little while longer to grind up food stuffs for beer if Nebraska fails to ratify the amendment. Mr. Bryan says that as soon as 36 states have ratified the amendment, then within 12 months the whole country will have to go dry, and by Nebraska holding back it may mean that country will not be able to take water only, as soon as it otherwise would.

He is bitter against the state executive and says some things which he may conclude to have printed later.

Rheumatism Cause Is One Easily Removed

Painful passage of uric acid through tiny veins warns you of rheumatism. The formation of uric acid in the blood is due to faulty action of the liver and kidneys in changing food and water so that it may be taken up by the blood.

The liver and kidneys—like any other part of the body—depend upon the nerves for life and activity. Normal nerves to the liver and kidneys mean normal and healthful preparation of food and water for the blood stream.

The cause of rheumatism then is nerve interference, which can only be corrected as the spine by the spinal adjustments. The record of hundreds of cases of rheumatism all over the country is that spinal adjustments by skilled chiropractors have brought complete and permanent recovery.
