Dates for Opening Dinner-Dances of Country Clubs Set for Month of May

THE COUNTRY CLUBS are beginning to show signs of life. The golf links are growing green and on these sunny days they are dotted with players. The club houses, too, have a rejuvenated look. Gardeners are busily spading up the flower beds and caretakers are seen working busily in preparation for the coming summer season.

This year promises to be a bright one at the clubs, for with the large number of officers stationed at the nearby forts, the dances will no doubt be real military affairs.

Country and Happy Hollow clubs will have their formal openings the latter part of May, and so it will not be long until the pretty girls will be running up and down the broad stairways again and alluring strains of the orchestra will come floating out over the grounds. The Field club will probably open about the same time and if the girls don't wear their filmiest frocks and the young officers their shiniest bars, Mellificia will be mistaken.

The Prettiest Mile club has been open all winter and every week it has been the scene of a large number of gay dinner parties. It is really a very "homey" club, for the little group of people who belong are warm friends and neighbors and you will find a group of married folk enjoying a game of billiards down stairs, while the younger folk one-step to their hearts' delight in the ball room.

For those who love sailing and other water sports there is nothing so attractive as Carter Lake club. A number of people have already opened their cottages and the formal opening of the club will take place some time in May.

For Miss Hartigan.

Miss Kathleen Hartigan of Fairbury, Neb., who is Miss Dorothy Hippie's roommate at the Nebraska university, will spend the Easter vacation with Miss Hippie. Miss Hippie will entertain at luncheon at the Blackstone Saturday in honor of her guest, and this afternoon Miss Katherine Goss gave a matinee party at the Orpheum.

High School Set Affairs.

The Maltese club will give a dancing party this evening in Harte hall. A number of the students at the university in Lincoln will be guests at the dance. Miss Frances Howell and Miss Margaret Harte are inviting their friends to the "Harte-Howell hop at Harte hall," which will be given April 19.

The Cheopian club has issued invitations for a dancing party to be given May 10 at Harte hall. A subscription dance will be given May 17 at Harte hall for the high school set. Mr. Robert Wylie has charge of the affair.

Pleasures Past.

Mrs. Gus Hollo, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Lucke, entertained the Loyals club at her home Wednesday. Mrs. Wulf was a guest of the club.

Colonel and Mrs. F. A. Grant entertained informally at dinner at their home Thursday evening. Covers were laid for General and Mrs. John C. Cowin, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Ellis, Captain Kliese and Major Stearns. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Raymer of Chicago entertained at dinner at their home Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. I. H. Strong of Cleveland and Mr. Theodore Fertig, the occasion being his birthday. St. Patrick's decorations were used on the table.

On the Calendar.

Mrs. Ward Bueking will entertain the Original Cooking club at her home at luncheon Thursday.

Ellen Harriet Capon worked in male attire in an English-munition factory for two years before the army authorities discovered that "he" was a girl.

In Multnomah county, Oregon, which include the city of Portland, nearly 40,000 women voters have registered for the coming primary election.

Visitor from Chicago Entertained by Friends

Mrs. I. L. Longworth

Mrs. I. L. Longworth, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. F. Truelsen, for the last 10 days, has been honor guest at a number of affairs. Mrs. Longworth has a little coterie of friends in the city, who entertain extensively for this Chicago visitor on her yearly visits. Luncheons, card parties and matinee parties have been given for Mrs. Longworth almost every day of her stay.

Girl Obtains Order for One Million Smokes

Miss Martha Welsh, known as the most successful cigar saleswoman in the country, has just put through a deal with Uncle Sam for 1,000,000 cigars.

From time to time Miss Welsh is commissioned by manufacturers to go after certain big orders where the regular salesmen have fallen down. She formerly was a newspaper woman in New York.

Personals

Miss Lois Robbins will spend the Easter vacation with a school friend in Boston.

Miss Ruth McCoy, who is a student at Smith, will not be home for Easter, but will visit friends in Erie Pa.

Mr. A. L. Reed has returned from Excelsior Springs, where he has been recuperating from an attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. David Gross is at Nicholas Senn hospital for a six weeks' rest cure.

Mrs. E. L. Robertson and daughter, Miss Anne, are now in Los Angeles and have taken an apartment for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhn and daughter, Miss Marion, who spent the winter in Los Angeles, visited in Santa Barbara last week.

A daughter was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schoessel in Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Schoessel was formerly Miss Helen King of Omaha.

Lieutenant Neil L. Criss of the army medical corps has been ordered to immediate duty at Camp Kelly, San Antonio, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cornish, who have been the guests of Mrs. Anna Cornish Metcalf for the last week, will leave for New York Sunday evening.

Captain and Mrs. J. M. Patton will leave next week for Fort Des Moines, where Dr. Patton will join the Nebraska base hospital unit. Mrs. Patton will remain in Des Moines until Captain Patton is ordered abroad.

Mrs. Edwin Bannister arrived home this morning. Captain and Mrs. Bannister spent several days in New York, Mrs. Bannister going for a short visit to Smith college. She was accompanied home by Miss Eleanor McGilton and Miss Florence Russell, who came as far as Chicago, where she will spend a few days. Captain Bannister is now stationed at Camp Merritt, in New Jersey, and expects an order daily that will take him to France. Mrs. Bannister will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sherman, until his return.

Lady Furness, wife of the great English financier and shipbuilder, is serving behind the lines in France as a Red Cross nurse.

Arizona has a woman live stock inspector in the person of Mrs. Okla Noonan.

Woman's Clubs

College Red Cross.

The Red Cross auxiliary of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae will meet from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Saturday at the Red Cross rooms in the Masonic temple.

Liberty Loan Meeting.

All workers of the women's Liberty loan committee are urged to attend an important meeting Monday at 4 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce, when State Chairman T. C. Byrne and Franklin Mann, head of the bond solicitors, will give instructions on the parade and in the bond campaign. Miss Kathleen Burke of the Scottish Women's hospitals will address the women.

Membership Campaign.

One thousand new members of the Visiting Nurse association is the record of the past month's membership campaign under the able direction of Mrs. W. E. Rhoades. But the goal set was for 5,000 members, so Mrs. Rhoades and her committee are hoping the numbers of new members will increase.

Central Congregational church sent in 30 and North Presbyterian church, 35 new members.

At Social Settlement.

The Story Tellers' league of the South Side High school will give a program at the Social Settlement Saturday afternoon. A feature of the program will be a harp solo by little Miss Irma Clow, the youngest harpist in the city. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Clow of the South Side.

Where Luxury Foods Save the Staples

Hotel men are now dealing with the problem of banquets in an entirely new way. There is a disposition on the part of the public to eliminate banquets of organizations which gather regularly each year, or often, in the belief that food saving is thereby furthered, and the public now maintains a critical attitude toward such affairs, assuming that they are wasteful. The cry of extravagance is being raised against the best class of hotels despite the progress that they made in food saving during the past five months. This same criticism has been in evidence in England, and the Hotel World publishes some information brought out recently in the annual report of a big London hotel company.

Careful analysis of the food served during 1917 showed that 51 per cent comprised commodities which did not, and never have, and probably never will affect the general public. These articles were quail, grouse, partridge, pheasant, smoked salmon, live trout, lobsters, oysters, crayfish, asparagus and so forth. Guests who pay for such foods in high-class hotels are really saving meats and other staples needed for the fighting force and the munitions worker. To stop the use of such foods would merely throw a certain part of the population back upon staple articles. It is perhaps well to explain that in England oysters, asparagus and lobsters are comparatively expensive luxuries, not generally known to working class people, as in this country, even in canned form.

Dress Hints

Callot is featuring acacia red veiled with black tulle.

Bronze laces are newer than silver or gold weaves.

Dancing frocks show old-timey overjackets of taffetas.

Half-inch satin ribbons in two tones trim negligee robes.

A French robe is of black satin with fitted basque and every seam corded.

Exclusive French

Shop Opened by the House of Menagh

Do you want to be whisked from prosaic Farnam street into an exclusive little French rose and gray shop? Then just walk on your toes and follow your nose straight through the House of Menagh and enter the low doorway in the rear of the store. You will be entranced before you enter for cunning little windows twinkle at you with pretty flower boxes full of trailing vines and flowers under each one.

The first impression of the little salon is a mist of rose and gray for the walls are a soft shade and the warm tints are brought out in the cheery cretonne curtains and the rosy shades on the lamps. But aside from the artistic points in this charming little shop there is another alluring side. Here milder car shop in quiet and in the easiest way possible. Full length mirrors are placed off with rose velvet are ideal fitting booths and a bright drop light in each one will enable her to see the colors just as in day light.

Comfortable wicker chairs are placed around the room where you can rest, a convenient telephone stands near by so that you can make appointments with your friends and the whole thing has such a restful look that it will be a great pleasure to shop in this little cozy, cretonned nook.

Deaf Boys Will Give A Pantomime Play For the Red Cross

Something really unique in Red Cross benefits will be staged by the Clifton Hill Red Cross auxiliary, Friday night, April 5, in the auditorium of the School for the Deaf.

A play in pantomime, "For Freedom's Cause," written and presented by deaf boys, students at the school, will be the feature of the evening. Mrs. O. A. Blankenship, a teacher at the school, is coaching the members in their parts.

The High School cadet band and a singing quintet from Fort Crook will contribute to the program. Little Margaret Showtell will appear in a fancy dance. Vy Harrington's whistling solos will conclude the entertainment.

Mrs. O. W. Hendee is chairman of the auxiliary.

Conservation Recipes

Given by Mrs. Masters

Mrs. Joseph G. Masters, wife of the principal of Central High school, is attaining prominence in her own way among food conservationists of the city. Mrs. Masters, who is one of the block chairmen of the Central Conservation council, has won local fame by the excellence of her recipes, some of which are here given:

BREAD RECIPES.

Whole Wheat Bread.
2 c. scalded milk (or solved in 4 c. lukewarm water.
1/2 c. molasses. 1/2-3/4 c. whole wheat flour.
1 t. salt.

Yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm and salt to milk; cool, and when lukewarm add dissolved yeast cake and flour; beat well, cover and let rise to double its bulk. Again beat and turn into greased bread pans, having pans one-half full; let rise, and bake. Whole wheat bread should not quite double its bulk during last rising. This mixture may be baked in gem pans.

Oatmeal Bread.

2 c. scalded milk. 1 T. salt.
1 c. corn syrup. 1 T. Crisco.
1 c. rolled oats. 1 c. cake compressed flour.
yeast.

Scald the oats with the hot milk, when warm add corn, syrup and yeast and proceed as for wheat bread.

Rice Bread.

1 1/2 c. scalded milk. 2 c. rice flour.
1/2 c. corn syrup. 2 c. wheat flour.
1/2 c. cake compressed flour. 1/2 c. rice flour.
1 T. Crisco. 1/2 c. wheat flour.

To scalded milk add corn syrup and Crisco. When lukewarm add yeast. When yeast is dissolved add two cups rice flour and two cups wheat flour. Beat well. Let rise. Add other ingredients and knead well. Let rise. Make into loaves or rolls. Let rise and bake.

Barley Ginger Cookies.

1 c. molasses. 1 t. salt.
1/4 c. shortening. 1-2-3 c. barley flour.
2 t. ginger. 1/2 c. soda.
1/4 t. cinnamon. 2 t. warm milk.

Heat molasses to boiling point. Add remaining ingredients, dissolving the soda in the milk before adding it. Chill the dough, roll out and bake.

Cinnamon Cake.

1 c. corn syrup. 1/2 c. flour.
4 T. fat. 1/2 t. baking powder.
1/4 cup milk. 1 egg.
Pinch salt.

Make in a thin cake, dot with bits of butter. Sprinkle with two teaspoons cinnamon and one teaspoonful sugar, mixed. Serve hot.
