

CROWDS GREET MOVIE STARS AT UNION STATION

Mary Pickford, "Doug" Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin Pass Through City Enroute to Washington.

Pretty Mary Pickford, smiling Douglas Fairbanks and funny Charlie Chaplin arrived in Omaha at 10 p. m. Wednesday and cast their "million dollar radiance" upon the city for one honored hour.

If they were "out on location," instead of resting, the scene would have been for one reel thriller called "Home Again," the way everybody greeted Mary and "Doug" and Charlie.

The resting part was comedy. There wasn't a second of that for the movie idols, nor for the young mob of welcoming fans. Before the 9:35 showed signs of hesitating in Omaha, Douglas assembling "this old pep," fastened on the adored "Fairbanks smile," brushed Mary and Charlie into opposite corners of the observation car and leaped right into the "center front" of the observation platform.

Doug Makes Speech.
A cheering, excited throng had a lifetime's ambition realized, while Douglas registered patriotism. Here is what he said:

"Greetings, everybody! We're supposed to be crossing the country for a rest, but we've got a great big message to tell you folks. Get back of the third Liberty loan. Exceed your quota, whatever it is, and let Omaha go over the top 100,000. It's $2,000,000, subscribe $2,000,000 and when the showdown comes, you want to make Kansas City look like a dirty deuce."

The oratorical outburst was the finished article, accompanied by all the usual rapid-fire poses, for the mere glimpse of which so many people are separated from their coin plus war tax, please.

Front, Mary Pickford.
"Where's Mary?" demanded the wear of the Fairbanks smile. "Come out here, Mary Pickford!"

"Here I am," sweetly answered Mary struggling to the front line. And there she was. She was all buttoned up to her dimpled chin, inside of a stunning coat of broad velvet of peacock blue, worn with collars and cuffs of beaver. Her precious curls tucked up under a close fitting turban of sand-colored caterpillar braid and brown silk. Three tiny brown ribbon bows perched in a row right in front and over Mary's shoulders fell a taupe colored veil. She wore tan spats, black patent leather pumps, and only one solitary diamond ring.

After recovering from the shock of a real true living "close-up," the crowd began a perfect barrage of love greetings, but Mary had another thought. Were they going to let Charlie get lost in the shuffle. Certainly not. So the last, but not least of the famous three, flashed into view, and tipped his Charlie Chaplin derby to the fans on the tracks.

Now just to show that movie idols are human after all, one of them noticed a little gray-haired old lady, who was being badly crushed right in to the car. The ever gallant exponent of the smiles leaned over and picked her right up onto the platform. Mary Pickford smoothed her hair and helped her put on her hat. Oh the joy of it!

In the midst of the excitement, a man enticed Douglas to alight for a picture. Of course he cleared the brass rail of the car true to his own speed. Then photographer wanted Mary.

"But I can't do Douglas Fairbanks stunts," objected Mary, as she measured the rail which was more than half as high as she was. A dozen men lent a hand and Mary took the fence.

Charlie slipped down very modestly. "Oh Mary," some one called out, "you're just as sweet as our picture."

"Which one do you like best?" eagerly answered Mary. "I hear Omaha people liked me in Stella Maria."

Mary's Mother Presented.
"You were better in 'The Little American,'" shouted a boy.

"Was I?" she asked. Then, "Oh mother, where's mother and Charlie Chaplin stepped forward bringing mother. He spoke in a rather low voice.

"Allow me to present the lady who is responsible for Mary Pickford. This is Mrs. Pickford."

"Oh mother, won't you send for those yellow flowers I got to give these good friends something?" Mother brought the daisies and there ensued a wild scramble, as the flowers fell in a shower.

Meanwhile, Fairbanks got very chummy with the few Omahans, who got within his reach. Some one asked him if he wanted to go "over there."

"I'm dying to," he confided. "Why, six months ago I tried to enlist. They drafted me into this Liberty loan work. But I'm going to be through with that pretty soon, and then it's me for the front line trench. Just between us I'm trying for a commission now. I think I'm going to be able to get it, too."

Stars Pull Camouflage.
"All aboard! yelled the kill-joy conductor, and everybody began waving goodbye and throwing kisses and calling Goodbye to the departing ones. All the notables went inside, but the fans lingered. It was well for those who stayed for the business of leaving was only a camouflage. The travelers walked through the train and the most persistent ones watched their favorites through the flickerings of the car windows until they halted.

"Oh Doug! Open the window! Get Mary, Mrs. Pickford. Look here she is. Come on Mary, let's talk to you, oh kid, look she's sitting down."

Then Mary did get chummy. For the second time she left the others in the background. Some one told her she was better in her last pictures than she ever was.

Compliments Appreciated.
"Oh, you good child!" and threw three kisses. In feminine fashion she asked:

"Do I look any older? Could you see any wrinkles?"

"No," chorused the crowd.

"Oh, Mary, will you come to my house for breakfast?" a tiny girl begged.

"Never eat any breakfast," declared friend Mary. "I only drink cocoa. That's to make me fat. Oh, yes, it will make you fat. Just try it and see."

"Maybe I'll go and take a real long rest and not make any pictures for a long, long, while. How would you like that?" she kept right on. Then some one brought out a big box of candy and the happy ones clamored for the sweets, and the little paper cases, and tore up the box as souvenirs.

Going to Washington.
The three stars are on their way to Washington, and are making a flying trip from the studios of California to the capital. They will officially inaugurate their Liberty loan boosting from that place. Their itinerary will take them over many parts of the country, although it is doubtful if they will return to Omaha soon.

SLOAN OUTLINES
DISCOUNT PLAN
ON FARM PAPER

Washington Bureau of The Omaha Bee, 1811 G Street.

Washington, April 4.—(Special Telegram.)—While the house had under consideration today a bill in charge of the banking and currency committee, permitting banks to take on more liability, Congressman Sloan was given an opportunity to outline the purposes of a bill which he has introduced extending the time in which farm paper may be discounted by member banks of the reserve system, from six months to one year.

Mr. Sloan emphasized that all farm transactions dealing with live stock and grain products were treated in terms of a year, and as it takes almost a year to plant and harvest a crop he asserted it would be a great advantage to the farmers, to be assured that they would not be disturbed at any midway period.

Chairman Glavin of the banking committee assured the western representatives that hearings would be granted on the Sloan measure.

All Aboard for St. Louis; Boats Leave Any Time

Steamboats on the Missouri between Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis are a possibility for this summer, according to R. B. Howell, who has returned from Washington, D. C., where he made a report on river conditions to the inland and coastwise waterways commission. He told of his trip at a meeting of the River Navigation league Wednesday noon at the Chamber of Commerce.

The commission, he said, promised to send an inspector to Omaha to make an immediate report on the feasibility of putting on government boats experimentally. The commission has the power to act and is especially alert to make use of all available waterways, even where there is only seven or eight feet depth of water.

"The commission will act immediately wherever it finds available water and the opportunity to relieve freight congestion by immediate use of that water this summer. We believe such a condition exists on the Missouri river and are prepared to show the commission's inspector."

Mr. Howell left with Major General Black, chairman of the commission, a complete report of present steamboat conditions on the river, with photographs of the boats now plying the river and the loading and unloading facilities at Omaha and other ports.

SHALLENBERGER DELAYS ACTION ON DRAFT MUDDLE

Special Rule to Expedite Passage of Senate Draft Resolution Must Await Return of Nebraska Congressman.

Washington Bureau of The Omaha Bee, 1811 G Street.

Washington, April 4.—(Special Telegram.)—Disposal of the draft muddle must wait on congressional courtesy. Chairman Pou of the rules committee has brought in a special rule to expedite passage of the senate resolution, basing the draft on the number of registrants in class one, instead of on population, and expects to have this subject brought up tomorrow.

Chairman Dent, of the house military affairs committee, and Representative Kahn of California, the ranking minority member, have notified Mr. Pou that they have an agreement with Representative Shallenberger of Nebraska not to dispose of this question until after his return to Washington.

Chairman Pou told the house that the resolution was vital to the War department's plans for the next draft call. Opponents of the resolution want the draft based on the total number of registrants.

It will be interesting, therefore, to see the outcome of the contest with Representative Shallenberger, chief opponent of the senate resolution, in Nebraska.

Former Omaha Officer
Promoted to Colonel

F. C. Bolles, the first commanding officer of the Omaha quartermasters' depot, Twenty-second and Hickory streets, when it was made an independent depot in 1910, has been promoted to colonel of the 39th infantry and is now stationed at Fort Shafter, Hawaii.

Colonel Bolles changed the Omaha depot from a "corral" to the well-kept place it is at present. During the civil war government mules were shipped to the place, which was low and muddy, and the soldiers nicknamed it "the corral." Colonel Bolles installed drainage and paving and replaced the wooden fence with an iron railing.

While in Omaha Colonel Bolles joined the Elks and was prominent in lodge and business circles.

Germans Doubt Loyalty of Former French Subjects

Paris, April 4.—Documents found on prisoners taken by the French show that German commanders have no illusions as to the sentiments of men from Alsace and Lorraine. Large numbers of these troops have now arrived in France with units from the Russian front, in which they have been incorporated and the German crown prince has found it necessary to issue confidential orders to his subordinates not to put Alsacians or Lorrainians in the first line nor to employ them as clerks, as officers' servants, or in other positions where they are likely to have access to information.

Retailers Requested to Close Saturday at 1:30

All retailers in Omaha are requested to take note of the fact that the Liberty day parade, Saturday, will be held a half hour earlier than at first announced. The Associated Retailers previously asked that retail stores close Saturday from 2 to 4 o'clock, but now they ask that business be suspended from 1:30 o'clock. Retailers will meet at 1:30 o'clock Saturday on Twenty-sixth street, just south of Farnam. Promptness is necessary, as the march starts at 2 o'clock. Big stores will take their employees in a body to the assembling point.

Divorce Action Dropped by Wife of Omaha Lawyer

Suit for divorce brought by Florence G. Waldron against Herbert B. Omaha attorney, in which she alleged abandonment and extreme cruelty, was dismissed by Judge Day on motion of Mrs. Waldron's attorneys.

E. Gladys Taggart has been granted a divorce from Arthur W. Taggart, Omaha undertaker. The couple were married in Rapid City, S. D. She alleged extreme cruelty. Mrs. Taggart also was given custody of her 4-year-old daughter, Marion, and $15 monthly alimony.

D. S. Yargis Sues Nine

Shepherd, Thomas Young, Lloyd C. Newcomb, E. E. Otto and Fred Hunziker. He alleges they transferred the interests of the Omaha Coupler company, of which he was a member, to the Auto Power company without his consent.

DISTRIBUTION OF ANTHRACITE COAL

Details Announced by United States Fuel Administrator; Figures Soon Available for All Communities.

The United States fuel administration announces a plan for the distribution of domestic anthracite coal from the mines to the retail dealers for the coming year. The details of this distribution will be supervised by J. B. Dickson, S. D. Warriner and W. J. Richards, who have been appointed district representatives in the Pennsylvania anthracite producing fields for the United States fuel administration under the general direction of J. D. A. Morrow, manager of distribution.

These district representatives, acting as a committee, will confer with the state fuel administrators, as to the needs of the respective states and will meet these requirements as far as possible. The committee will have at hand data showing the amount of coal furnished to all communities in the past and this data will be available for the state fuel administrators.

Comprehensive figures have been compiled, which show the tonnage by sizes sent into the various states during the coal year, April 1, 1916, to April 1, 1917, and during the coal year, April 1, 1917 to date. The season of 1916-17 the last normal year, will be used as a basis of distribution for the coming year beginning April 1.

Tonnage Subdivided.
The tonnage shipped into each state has been subdivided into the amounts shipped into the various communities in each state, and the figures for all communities will eventually be available. Prior to April 1, this information will be given to the state fuel administrators, who will advise various county and city chairmen.

From then each dealer may learn the total tonnage allotted and ample opportunity will be given for necessary adjustment. The figures as above described will be of assistance in the broad and equitable distribution of anthracite coal during the coming months.

Retail dealers will place their orders in the regular way with the ordinary sources of supply, which they patronized in the winter of 1916-17.

Cut Tonnage in West.
Because of the greatly increased needs of the territory adjacent to the Atlantic seaboard and the large increase there in population and industrial activity due to the war, and because of the transportation features, it may be necessary to reduce somewhat the normal tonnage to the west and northwest.

Except for such changes each operator will distribute his tonnage as during 1916-17. In case there is need of diversion from the normal lines, to meet changed conditions, such as providing for movement during open navigation, or in order that distribution may be more equitable, this will be done. The district representatives named above have the figures as the tonnage sent into each state and community, and will notify the various state fuel administrators.

MARY KUNDRAD IS TURNED OVER TO THE AUTHORITIES

Mary Kundrad, 9 years old, was brought to the police station Wednesday noon by Hans Christopherson, who said he found her crying on the street. He said he thought a man had been abusing her, but could give no plausible reason for his assertion. He talked ramblingly on various subjects. The child was questioned by Captain Vanous and Officer McCarthy, but could not be induced to talk. Later she told Captain Vanous, who spoke to her in Bohemian, her name, but refused to tell where she lived, or answer any other questions. She was turned over to the juvenile authorities, who are investigating.

Later in the afternoon, Christopherson, who, police say, is demented, was arrested and lodged in jail, where he caused a commotion by attacking one of the prisoners. He is held for investigation.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

MRS. D. L. PERRY GAINS 28 POUNDS HUSBAND GAINS 10

Salt Lake Business Man Tells Of Wife's Remarkable Recovery On Tanlac

"It may sound unreasonable and you may believe it or not, but my wife has gained twenty-eight pounds and I have gained ten pounds during the past few weeks by taking this Tanlac," was the remarkable statement made by Don J. Perry in conversation with the Tanlac representative recently. Mr. and Mrs. Perry reside at 370 Quince street, and Mr. Perry is a wellknown Salt Lake City business man with offices at 3 West Second street, that city.

"Mrs. Perry has suffered from stomach trouble for a long time," Mr. Perry continued. "She had no appetite at all and could eat nothing but a heavy feeling in the pit of her stomach. She was extremely nervous and I don't believe she slept as much as two hours out of every twenty-four in the past five years. She lost weight and strength until she was unable to attend to her household duties. She seemed to get no nourishment at all from her food and had that tired, wornout feeling all the time."

"It seems to me that she just tried everything but found no relief until she began taking Tanlac. She has gotten rid of the gas entirely and now she can eat anything she wants without the slightest discomfort from it. She sleeps like a child and her nerves are practically normal. She can do her work now without any trouble and has improved so much she looks almost like a different person."

"As for my own case, I had been in a nervous rundown condition for three years. I felt tired and listless and had no energy or ambition. I would just roll and toss all night never getting sleep enough to rest me. My appetite was so poor that I would hardly average eating more than one meal a day and the little I did eat failed to give me any strength. I never felt like doing my work and was losing ground all the time."

"I find since I have been taking Tanlac that I am picking up rapidly in every way. My appetite is so good I can hardly eat enough to satisfy me. I can eat three hearty meals a day and then want more. My sleep is sound and restful and besides gaining in weight, my strength and energy have been so renewed that I feel more like doing my work than I have in a long time. I had to insist on my wife taking Tanlac but now she feels like I do, that it's the greatest medicine in the world. Tanlac has certainly proven all and more than is claimed for it with us and I am glad to tell everybody what I think about it."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, corner 16th and Dodge streets
