

SOUTH SIDE SWINTON TELLS OF CONDITIONS ON BATTLEFIELD

General Gives Vivid Portrayal of Hun's Fiendish Glee and Inhuman Methods of Warfare.

Major General E. D. Swinton, inventor of the British war tank, spoke to a crowd which overflowed the lobby of the Live Stock Exchange Thursday afternoon. He told in vivid language of some of his experiences on the European battlefield, and described the inhuman treatment of prisoners of war by the Germans.

One instance which the General cited was that of a young Canadian aviator who was shot in the arm during an air battle with the Germans and forced to bring his machine down. German officers took him to a shed and with a pile of straw for a bed left him five days without medical attention with barely enough food to keep him alive. His arm had grown stiff, gangrene had set in, and his arm had to be amputated to save his life.

Another instance of the Germans' fiendish glee over inhuman methods of warfare was that of a captured German officer who was being escorted to the rear by a British officer, a recognized courtesy of warfare extended to captives of high rank. They came upon two British Tommies lying by the roadside who were suffering death agonies from a poison gas attack. The German officer pointed to the dying men, and laughed derisively at their plight. "The British officer had a pistol in his belt, and that German brute never laughed again," said General Swinton.

Frank G. Odell of Omaha, who has been with General Swinton on a speaking tour for Liberty Bonds, made a short, stirring address and introduced the speaker.

South Siders Preparing For Liberty Day Parade

South Side merchants, business and professional men will form a part of the sixth section of the second division in the Liberty parade, Saturday. This division will be in charge of W. B. Cheek, head marshal, and his assistants, W. B. Tagg, C. A. Smith and J. B. Watkins.

A standard or marker will be placed on Twenty-seventh street between Farnam and St. Mary's avenue, designating the place of formation for this section. American flags will be furnished the marchers by Captains Coad, Cullen, Yager, Etter and Krause at the time and place designated. Merchants entitled to carry service flags must furnish them themselves.

Ladies will march with the men if they desire, or, if members of the Red Cross prefer to, may report to Mrs. W. B. Tagg on Twenty-sixth street north of Farnam and form a part of the women's section of the second division. A signal gun will be fired at 1:30 o'clock, at which time all are expected to be at their appointed stations so as to be ready to move promptly at 2 o'clock, when the starting gun will be fired. The arrangements will permit each participant to view the entire parade. All business places are requested to close during the parade.

War Savings Heads Boost Sales of Liberty Bonds

Following on the suggestion of Secretary of the Treasury W. G. McAdoo, in a recent letter to War M. Burgess, state director of war savings for Nebraska, the Nebraska war savings committee is devoting itself now to organization of war savings societies to be used in promoting the sale of the third Liberty loan bonds, and the stimulation of the habit of thrift and saving throughout Nebraska and the continued purchase of war saving stamps by those persons who are not able to purchase of the Liberty bonds. The Omaha war savings committee, headed by Joseph Barker, who is assisted by Charles T. Kountze, Harry McCormick, Guy H. Cramer and Robert H. Manley, has begun a systematic campaign for the establishment of war savings societies in Omaha. C. E. Corey has charge of this work among the industrial and business houses and Hugh Wallace will assist Superintendent J. H. Bevedige, who will have charge of the work among the Omaha schools. County Chairman of the War Savings W. M. Rainbolt will name a county director of war savings societies at once to carry on this work in Douglas county.

Omaha Man Disappears Mysteriously in Minnesota

MUSIC

Miss Nielsen, in Recital.
The last of the series of concerts given for the benefit of the Associated Charities took place last evening at the Boyd theater, when Miss Alice Nielsen, soprano, gave a song recital before a comfortably filled house. Miss Nielsen charmed her listeners by the beauty of her lovely lyric voice, by her skill in using it and by the exquisite art of her interpretations.

Miss Nielsen knew well the charm of the small song and last night she brought many of this type of artistic song into her program, singing them as they should be sung, and making the audience feel their loveliness.

She also knows the type of song which best suits her voice, and with contrasts of tone color, with entrancing pianissimos and beauty of sustained legato, she makes them distinctly her own.

Miss Nielsen's program was subject to change and to a great deal of it, the first group being the only one which went according to schedule.

This consisted two unusual songs to Omaha audiences—the "Weathercock," by Liza Lehman, and a brilliant "Under the Greenwood Tree," by Buzzi-Peccia. Of her French song, "Si mes vers avaient des Ailes," was given with excellent effect, also "Le Papillon," by Fourdrain. Two negro spirituals arranged by Burleigh were her next contribution, "Deep River" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," each delightful with its own sentiment, and the repose of her presentation. "The lark" did not leave its watery nest, as it was supposed to, at the beginning of her next group, nor did she ask, "Why should we fear the darkness?" even though all Farnam street was dark when the audience came out. Instead Miss Nielsen sang the old Irish, "When Love Is Kind," and followed it by the "Fairy Pipers," although I do not at present recall the composer.

In "But Lately in Dance," by Arensky, Miss Nielsen did some of her very finest work of the entire evening, singing this highly poetic song with consummate art.

Mr. Thomas Griselle was thoroughly enjoyable, both as an accompanist and as a soloist. His own composition, "Japanese Arabesque," was unique and fascinating, and his other piano solos won him deserved recognition. Mr. Griselle responded to an encore with Chopin's "Butterfly Etude," and Miss Nielsen responded to several. She also graciously sang at the close "One Fine Day," from "Madame Butterfly," by Puccini.

Farmers Pay Big Interest On Farm Mortgages

Farmers of the United States pay $418.56 per minute in interest on farm mortgages, says R. C. Peters of the Peters Trust company. This is more than $600,000 per day. Mr. Peters is vice president of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' association of America, which will hold its next annual convention in Kansas City October 1 to 3.

The figures compiled by the association show that more than $4,000,000,000 of farm mortgages are in effect in this country. The census of 1910 showed that there are more than 1,350,000 mortgaged farms in the United States.

"Investigation proves that farm mortgages are not evidence of poverty," said Mr. Peters. "They merely represent borrowed working capital. Iowa and Wisconsin are conceded to be among the leading prosperous farming states and in both over 51 per cent of the farms were mortgaged in 1910. The average merchant or manufacturer does business largely on borrowed capital, carried on short time bank notes. The farmer borrows his working capital on long time by using his farm as security and is not subject to the same anxieties as the merchant whose obligations usually mature in 60 or 90 days."

High Art Students Ply Brushes to Boost Bonds

Pupils of the art classes of Central High school have prepared an interesting series of colored posters presenting pictorial arguments in favor of the $1,000,000 school bonds which will be submitted to the voters next Tuesday.

The need of a new High School of Commerce is the chief argument, and in presentation of that thought one of the young artists depicted a Commercial High pupil traveling on a motorcycle to cover the distance between the detached buildings of his school.

Women Find Clear Skin In Simple Laxative

A sense of false modesty often prevents women from admitting that many of her ills and disorders are due primarily to constipation.

But women who know themselves have learned that headache remedies and beautifiers only cover the trouble but do not dislodge it.

What is needed is a remedy to move the bowels and stir up the torpid liver. An ever-increasing number of sensible women take a small dose of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold by druggists under that name.

It will save a woman from the habitual use of headache remedies, skin lotions and similar makeshifts. Once the bowels are emptied and regulated, the headache and the pimples and blotches disappear. It is the rational, natural method.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin lasts a family a long time, and all will find use for it from time to time. Thoughtful people are never without it in the house.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

NO INCREASE
In spite of government increased laboratory costs due to the war the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sacrificing their profits and absorbing the war taxes, so that this family laxative may remain at the former price of 50c and $1 a large bottle. So sold by druggists for 25 years.

FREE SAMPLES—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in America. If you have never used it, send your address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 464 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. If you have babies in the family send for a copy of "The Care of the Baby."

LIBERTY!

WHAT a wonderful meaning is expressed in that word—yet so few of us fully realize that meaning.

We are fighting one of the most absolute autocracies the world has ever seen. If democracy is to survive and we to retain our liberty, we must prove that democracy is equal to the gigantic task before her. That the voluntary endeavor of a free people, united in a just and common cause, is more vital, more efficient than the iron rule of military masters whose unbridled will is law.

Every American must enlist in this war.
Every American must take a definite part.
There are many ways in which you can help hasten the day of victory at home and victory abroad and one way is to—
Invest in all the Liberty Bonds you can.
