CLASSICAL BODY CLOSES SESSION

Committee Appointed to Establish Another "Classic" School; Visitors Banqueted by C. of C.

Classical education will have a chance to compare results with the "bread and butter" system of education, if the resolution adopted this morning at the Central High school by the Classical association accomplishes its purpose. The association appointed a committee to urge the general education board of New York, which maintains a school in New York teaching only the achievements of man since 1800, to establish another model school for the teaching of the classics, mathematics and history. Its results are to be compared with the so-called "Modern School" of Abraham Flexner.

The following officers were elected at a business session Saturday morning: Campbell Bonner, University of Washington, president; Laura Woodruff, Oak Park High school, Oak Park, Ill., vice president, and Louis Lord of Oberlin college, secretary and treasurer. C. E. Little of Vanderbilt university was elected a member of the executive committee. A committee to report on reducing the amount of Latin in the courses was appointed.

Thank Omahans.

A resolution was adopted thanking the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Education, Everett Buckingham, Miss Fullaway of the Central High lunch room, Miss Susan Paxson, the retiring president; C. N. Smiley, and the pupils of the high school who presented the Latin play. F. C. Eastman, Daniel A. Penick, Mary L. Harkness, Josiah B. Game, and C. E. Parmenter read papers at the morning session. The convention closed with papers read by the following: R. J. Bonner of the University of Chicago, Frank H. Cowles of Wabash college, Arthur L. Keith of Carleton college, J. B. Pike of the University of Minnesota, and Francis W. Kelley of the University of Michigan. The visitors were guests of the Chamber of Commerce for luncheon Saturday noon.

The secretary's report showed that the membership of the association had increased 200 during the year, making a total of 2,149.

Here's Another Gingham Boy Scout Troop No. 5 is Presented With Silk Flag

Boy Scout Troop No. 5 is presented with a handsome silk flag sent to them by President Wilson for their work in the second Liberty loan drive, Saturday noon on the lawn of the court house.

This troop of 36 young boys obtained $196,000 in bonds during the last drive. This was the largest amount turned in by any troop in Nebraska. The flag was promised as a reward to the most successful troop.

The presentation ceremony was conducted by the woman's division of the Liberty loan committee. Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, chairman, presented the flag. Vincent Hascall, scoutmaster, accepted it in the name of the troop.

The flag is 6x10 feet. It is of heavy silk with the stars embroidered on it and entirely bordered by a deep band of gold fringe. It is mounted on a staff decorated on top with a spread eagle of gold. The flag will be used as a troop flag and kept on display at troop headquarters.

"DRESSED up in her gingham gown"—that is what every girl must be this summer. Black and white stripes make the effective simplicity in this shirt waist model. White pique supplies the double breasted vest, cuffs and skirt border. White pearl buttons give the touch of smartness which white pearl imparts so well. Black patent leather, with a silver buckle, supplies the belt, while the sailor is red red red. Sailors of this brilliant hue are a pleasing bit of color in a summer landscape.

Sex Has No Part in Work; Men Knit and Women Stoke Furnaces

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"Man and Woman Stuff"—The man who makes love to his employees—the girl who flirts with every man in the office.

As a very clever author recently stated: "There is no sex in brains." Present conditions are giving us a practical application of that statement. Women munition workers—women ambulance drivers—women in the forefront of activities dangerous and difficult, are all proving that in spite of the old togies who once argued that women could enter only a limited portion of the field of work, woman is capable of performing whatever tasks the requirements of her.

Very well, then, sex does not interfere with woman's doing work of practically any sort; sex has no part and parcel in work. A man may knit and a woman may stoke furnaces if needs must. These tasks are done, not by creatures of sex, but human beings.

Won't you ponder this carefully, girls? Too many of you write me questions something like this: "My employer often tries to make love to me. I have reproved him, but he says he can't help it. Shall I leave my present well-paying work and try to find employment somewhere else at a fraction of my present pay—or shall I stay and make the best of it? My folks need all I can earn."

Now, in the first place, the normal man does not force his attention on protesting women. The normal man is decent and square. In the second place, most men are very much in earnest about their business, and love has no place in their working day.

So when a man tries to "make love" to a woman in his employ it is because she has forced consciousness of her sex upon him. Make up that ought to be relegated to the stage and clothes that smack of the chorus do not belong in a business office. The woman who takes them there is deliberately carrying the atmosphere of sex into a sexless world.

Normal men are decent, I repeat—decent and earnest and ambitious. And from the employ of any other sort of man a girl cannot escape fast enough.

There are today, more good, well-paying jobs than there are women to fill them. Don't flirt with danger—and a man of the wrong type—assuming all the while an elaborate air of innocence that cloaks a feverish desire to balance on the edge of the precipice. Get out and look for a safe job, if your present one is not the place for a dignified, self-respecting worker. Youth is emotional—it longs for adventure, for love, but youth must learn to look for these things in their normal place.

Just ponder this: When you go to work you are a worker—not a woman. Dress like a worker, conduct yourself like a worker; trade on the great assets of all workers—brains, earnestness and ability—not your consciousness, flaunting femininity.

The girl who bills and coos instead of talking like a sane woman; the girl who makes eyes at office boy, janitor, salesman and manager alike is courting insult. She is introducing into an atmosphere of orderly sexless business currents of emotional electricity—and they are likely to overcharge that atmosphere and give her a pretty bad shock.

"There is no sex in brains"—there should be none in business.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair; that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt; can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox (which you can get at any drugstore) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid—enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head.

This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After Canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

Lost 84 Lbs. of Fat

Miss Laura A. Pusch, McCookville, Ohio, says: "Since taking your ADIPO my health has been fine, better than it has been in years. Three years ago I was fat and miserable and could hardly get around. Your treatment took off 84 pounds of excess fat and reduced my waist measure from 48 to 38 inches, hips from 48 to 38 inches, bust from 48 to 38 inches, and what is more, the reduction is permanent. It has been over two years since I stopped the treatment and my weight still remains the same, although I eat everything I want and as much as I want. I wouldn't take you and be back where I was three years ago!"

These Pictures Show Gradual Reduction of Excessive Fatness

Figure No. 1, in this illustration, shows a lady with a really pretty face, good features, and fine head of hair, but EXCESSIVE FATNESS HAS SPOILED HER CHARM. She is out of the room as far as appearance goes. Now note the wonderful improvement in appearance shown in Figure Nos. 2 and 3, as the fat gradually disappears until we see in Figure No. 4 the lady in all her charming beauty, normal in weight, with a PERFECT FORM, GOOD HEALTH, NEW ENERGY, NEW INTEREST AND NEW AMBITION. Note what a few users say:

"Mrs. Susan C. Smith, New York, says: 'Your ADIPO treatment reduced me from 220 to 120 pounds and I am now a general health. I am now better than ever. Before taking it I could hardly walk any distance, but now I can run and get around as well as a child. It has been several years since I took the treatment and the reduction has been permanent.'"

"Miss Ella G. Smith, Washburn, Iowa, says: 'Your treatment made a new woman of me, as I took off 120 pounds and have not regained a single pound since I stopped the treatment two years ago.'"

"Mr. John McManus, Mount Pleasant, S. D., Canada, says: 'I believe I would be in my grave to-day but for ADIPO treatment. I lost 100 pounds of fat for me and I am feeling fine.'"

We are sending out thousands of FREE testing packages of ADIPO everywhere so do not hesitate or delay. Simply write to your address on postal and receive by return mail, in plain wrapper, a complete test trial box of ADIPO ready for use. We will also enclose a copy of our new book giving the secrets of self-reducing. After using the FREE testing supply if you need more, we will gladly send it with the distinct understanding that it will cost nothing, unless you are exceptionally reduced. ## To the Voters of Greater Omaha

I am one of the many candidates who have filed for the office of City Commissioner, subject to the primary elections next Tuesday. It is important that you select men whose integrity is unimpeachable and who in the discharge of their duties will represent you fairly, fearlessly and industriously—men who believe in equal and exact justice to all persons regardless of creed, color or nationality—men who are conversant with national, state and city affairs and who have given time and thought to the science of government.

As an attorney for the government in naturalization and citizenship matters during the last five years, I have labored to assist thousands of aliens residing here to intelligent, English-speaking, liberty-loving American citizenship. I have made a special study of municipal government in many of the large cities of the country, and believe I can be of assistance to the people of this my home city as a commissioner charged with the sacred and important trust of administering their local public affairs. I respectfully solicit your vote at the polls next Tuesday.

Omaha Central Labor Union

Tom P. Reynolds

FOR

City Commissioner

No more important question is before the citizens and taxpayers of Omaha than the duty of selecting a truly representative body of men, on April 9th, as candidates for City Commissioners. The labor unions of Omaha have selected from their membership a list of men for which they ask the public's favorable consideration.

Among these, and perhaps the best known, is Tom P. Reynolds, who is now and for the last ten terms has been president of the Central Labor Union, and for five years the president of the Nebraska Federation of Labor, to both of which offices he was last re-elected without any opposition whatever. No one, therefore, can offer better evidence of the confidence which organized laboring men have shown, and no one can offer better credentials to the voting citizens of Omaha, as a real representative of the laboring classes.

Efforts are being made, as always, to sow dissension among those who believe that labor should have some representation on our city commission, and sympathizers with that idea should remember this fact and treat such efforts as political muddling only. It would be strange if a labor representative of the prominence of Mr. Reynolds were not marked especially as a target for such efforts, but happily, as representatives of labor, we can unqualifiedly commend Mr. Reynolds as a representative of the best type of our class, and vouch for his sterling honesty, his ability and his fair-mindedness to all.

Not only has Mr. Reynolds occupied positions which prove conclusively the confidence which organized labor has in his manhood, but his activities in other lines show with equal certainty that he is representative of that most loyal type of citizenship which our country needs in positions of trust and service in this most trying crisis of our national and civic affairs.

It was Mr. Reynolds who pledged and led the organization to secure a 100% Red Cross Membership among the labor unions of Omaha. It was Mr. Reynolds who pledged and headed the organization for 100% representation of War Savings Stamps subscribers in the homes of Omaha's laboring men. It was Mr. Reynolds who was selected by our governor to represent labor and Americanism, as a member of the State Council of Defense. It was Mr. Reynolds who was selected by G. W. Wattles as labor's representative on the State Food Pledge Card Commission. It was Mr. Reynolds who was selected by John L. Kennedy as a member on the part of labor of the State Fuel Commission. It was Mr. Reynolds who was selected as a representative of organized labor by Ward Burgess for his County Committee on War Savings Stamps, and by Frank Judson for membership on the County Committee for the Christmas Red Cross Drive. It was Mr. Reynolds who was selected by T. C. Byrne as labor's member on the County Committee for the first, second and third Liberty Loan Drives. And no one will question the part which organized labor played in making each one of these projects such a success as to give Omaha its proud place before the whole nation in war activities.

No one can question the value of Mr. Reynolds' service on these bodies; no one can challenge his right to a place among the foremost workers of our state for America and against her enemies. And in those patriotic services he has had the warm and sympathetic cooperation of a cultured and patriotic wife, who has lent her time and energies to various committees and is now listed among those who are to carry on a speaking propaganda in the coming Liberty Loan Drive.

With such a personal and family record, certainly little attention will be paid to any criticism of Mr. Reynolds' sterling Americanism by anyone whose nationality has given him such a name as Hooch.

As representative of the Central Labor Union, with over fifty affiliated unions, and with more than ten thousand constituent members, we unanimously commend Tom P. Reynolds as a citizen, for over thirty years a home owner and a tax payer who can be safely selected by the citizenship of Omaha as a most desirable candidate for city commissioner.

Unanimously endorsed by the Omaha Central Labor Union, Friday, April 6, 1918.

J. R. WANBERG, Secretary.
