City Clean-up Day
As a War Measure

The city clean-up campaign, April 16 and 17, the second one promoted by the civics committee of the Omaha Woman's club, will be pushed with added zest this spring as a war measure, Miss Katherine Worley, chairman, announces.

"Last year the civics committee planned and carried out the city clean-up campaign as a matter of civic pride. This year it has become a war measure. Fifty-one of Omaha's physicians and 105 of our professional nurses have been called into the service of the government. It is imperative that the city be made and kept sanitary in order to prevent outbreaks of contagion and illnesses which arise from sanitary conditions while we are short of these professional people," said Miss Worley.

"The government is backing a plan to save 100,000 babies in the United States this year. Sanitary conditions are absolutely necessary to save the child life of America. Dirty back yards, open garbage cans and filth are the incubators for flies, and flies are the arch-enemy of child life.

War Gardens.

"No garden can grow where the soil is covered with cans and rubbish. Pile all of these neatly for the city wagons which will haul them to the dump.

"Call the junk man and sell him all the old bottles, rubber hose, leaky water bottles, bicycle tires, old iron, tin and all things you do not need, and you will have money to invest in war savings stamps, which will give comfort to a Sammie 'over there,' Miss Worley advocates.

Next Sunday will be church co-operation day. All clergymen will be asked to preach "Cleanliness Next to Godliness" sermons.

Tuesday, April 16, is "Bucket, Broom and Brush Day." Clean all attics, basements, etc., of old dust, rags and combustible material, thus preventing loss by fire to people and property.

Wednesday, April 17, is "Hammer, Rake and Spade day." Clean the yards, sweep the tin can, spade the flower beds.

The Chamber of Commerce, city health and street cleaning departments, as well as all citizens, will cooperate to make the clean-up day a success.

Society

For Miss Carr and Lieutenant Byrne.

The week started for Miss Elizabeth Carr, a much-feted bride of Thursday, with a very informal little tea at the home of Mrs. Nile Booth, a reunion of very close friends of the bride-to-be. This evening Miss Mabel Allen gives a bridge party for Miss Carr and Lieutenant Walter Byrne, when five tables will be placed for the game.

Strahl-McCormick Wedding.

Miss Anna McCormick and Mr. Eugene Strahl of Ralston were quietly married at St. John's church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Mass said by the Rev. Father Weis. The young couple will reside at Ralston, where they have built a home.

The bride, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. McCormick, is a talented reader and a former primary teacher. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Strahl of Lincoln. The wedding of the happy result of a romance began while the bride was a student at St. John's High school, and the bridegroom was attending Creighton university.

Future Events.

A luncheon will be given Wednesday at the Blackstone by the junior-senior class of Mount St. Mary's seminary. Covers will be laid for 29.

Miss Ada Alexander will entertain at a luncheon Thursday at the Blackstone for twelve guests.

Chi Rho Sigma fraternity will give a dancing party Friday night at the Blackstone.

The Dundee Dancing club will close the dancing season Saturday night with a dinner-dance at the Blackstone. The club has held its dances during the winter at Dundee hall. Mrs. George Johnston is president.

The Young Women's Hebrew association will give the first of a series of dancing parties Wednesday evening in the Taxton block club rooms.

Mrs. R. H. Thompson is in charge of reservations for a sorority luncheon to be given Saturday at the Blackstone. There will be 20 in the party.

Big Day at Art Exhibit.

Sunday was the biggest day at the Fine Arts building exhibit now being shown in the new Masonic temple building. More than 300 viewed the pictures during the day. Indeed, the crowd waited many minutes in the early afternoon until the doors of the exhibit opened at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Ward Burgess, Mrs. A. V. Kinsler and Mrs. Oscar Williams were hostesses.

The pictures, which are from the brush of Alfred Philippe Roll, will be shown the rest of the week.

Woman's Clubs

Mothers' Club.

The North Side Mothers' club will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. C. Thomas, 2573 Fort street. Roll call will be answered by quotations from Shakespeare. A paper, "Shakespeare the Man," will be read by Mrs. H. C. Lane; review, "Twelfth Night," by Mrs. G. R. Gilbert; current events, leader, Mrs. E. W. Powell; vocal solo, Mrs. Margery Nelson; pantomime, entitled "Miss Jones Entertains."

Woman's Relief Corps.

George Crook Woman's Relief corps will be entertained at a Kensington Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. M. Benson, 618 North Forty-third street.

P. E. O. Sisterhood.

Mrs. J. M. Prime will be hostess at the meeting Tuesday of Chapter BP of P. E. O. sisterhood, at 2 p. m. The story of Nebraska will be the topic of discussion.

"$1,000 Club" for Women Who Will
Buy Liberty Bonds

Join the "$1,000 club" of Liberty loan subscribers.

Every woman who buys a $1,000 bond or more is eligible to join the "$1,000 club" which will be organized by the women's committee in connection with the third Liberty loan drive.

Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, chairman, will Tuesday announce the names of the first 20 members of the club. Anyone wishing to join may telephone Douglas 4297 or call at 311 South Thirtieth street.

Credit for obtaining the bond will go to the women's organization obtaining it. The committee expects a big rush of membership for this newest of all patriotic women's clubs in Omaha.

Luncheon for Movie Actress.

The executive committee of the women's committee for the Liberty loan drive will give a luncheon at the Fontenelle Saturday at 1 o'clock for Miss Marguerite Clarke, the movie actress, who will assist in the drive that day in Omaha.

Booths in all the hotels opened today as well as the Liberty bank on the court house lawn at noon.

Mrs. E. M. Fairfield addressed a meeting of the Florence women's committee this afternoon.

A Message Enroute.

Mrs. A. O. Higgins received a letter from her daughter, Miss Joy Higgins, posted from Halifax. Miss Higgins is enroute to England with a party of 30 prominent American women who are to bring a message of cheer and encouragement to the brave English women who have borne the weight of war sorrows so long. The party will make a speaking tour through the island.

Personals

Mrs. Chester Nieman and children are spending a few days in Lincoln.

Now the Slip-on Blouse

By GERTRUDE BERESFORD.

THE country club sweater made us lazy. No longer do we struggle with buttons, snaps or hooks and eyes. The slip-on blouse, offspring of the buttonless sweater, obviates all "lost motion" and makes for efficiency in quick dressing. White silk crepe, barred in blue, furnishes this blouse, whose shoulder buttons are "camouflage." The neck opening permits this blouse to slip on over the head. The shoulder trimming, belt, cuffs and skirt border are of plain blue crepe. This is a good model for gingham, voile, dimity, crepe de chine or Georgette crepe.

Of Interest to Women

The number of women employed by the federal government has increased by more than 200,000 since the commencement of the war.

Mrs. M. A. Wilson of Philadelphia, whose business it is to train cooks for the United States navy, sometimes conducts her classes on board a submerged submarine.

Ten sets of pajama suits were completed by women of the Temple Isreal Sisterhood Red Cross auxiliary which works Thursdays in the Masonic temple. Mrs. Charles Elgutter is the chairman.

It is estimated that no fewer than half a million American women formerly engaged as seamstresses and in domestic service have found employment in industrial pursuits since the beginning of the war.

New Vapor Way of Treating all Cold Troubles

North Carolina Druggist Invents a Salve That is Vaporized by the Body Heat

NOTHING TO SWALLOW YOU JUST RUB IT ON

Particularly Valuable to Mothers with Small Children. Local Druggists Are Offering 25c Jars on 30 Days' Trial.

Colds are simply inflammations of the air passages and everybody knows that the only way to reach the air passages direct is by means of vapors that can be inhaled. The old-fashioned vapor treatments however, were cumbersome and costly, but a North Carolina druggist solved this problem by inventing a salve that is vaporized by the body heat.

This preparation, known as Vick's VapoRub, is now being introduced here. The local druggists know the danger of constant "dosing," especially to small children and are anxious that all their customers should try this new "outside" treatment. Arrangements have accordingly been made with the manufacturers to sell the small size jars, price 25c, on 30 days' trial—no charge to be made if the customer is not delighted with the results.

For deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, or incipient pneumonia VapoRub should be applied over the throat and chest and covered with a warm flannel cloth. The vapors arising carry the medication, with each breath, to the air passages and lungs. In addition VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest.

For head colds, hay fever, catarrh or asthmatic troubles VapoRub can either be applied up the nostrils or a little melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled. Croup is usually relieved within fifteen minutes and one application at bedtime prevents a night attack.

The Bee's Sport Editor Gives
Art Exhibit the "Double O"

By FRED S. HUNTER.

There is a fine arts exhibition over in the new Masonic temple building which seems to be about as popular as the North Pole. Judging from the large crowds which don't attend, the exhibit is either a secret or the press agent is busy elsewhere.

The Arts society should hire Gene Melady or Carl Marfisi or Billy Byrne or Dumb Dan Morgan or some other high-powered propounder of publicity who fears the wrath of neither man nor city editor and perhaps they might get some of the money before Stecher and Caddock wrestle and get it all. They charge ten bucks a seat for a wrestling match and get $27,000 in one night. It costs a dime to see the art exhibition and the receipts for a week are $270.

It's a very nice exhibit, though, and if you want to spend an hour or two in complete solitude we unhesitatingly recommend it. You will not be crowded for room.

The pictures are all by one Monsieur Alfred Philippe Roll, which proves he is French and a regular artist. When you are a common citizen or just a plain low-brow, it is "Philippe," but when you are an artist it is "Philippe."

Philippe is some curly wolf at that; he bars nobody or no thing. He draws or paints or executes, or whatever it is you "do" when you are an artist, everything from a rheumatic truck horse which aspires to be a thoroughbred to a lady who apparently never heard of Major Funkhouser. Also he uses oils and crayons and pencils and pastels, whatever that is. We always thought a pastel was something Fred Fulton hoped to hang on Jess Willard July 4 next, but as usual in our low-brow way we have erred grievously. This according to the art expert.

Seventeen is the number of one of the pictures. In the catalogue it says No. 17 is "The Pink Room." After giving the picture the visual forward and back, one wonders what became of the room. The retouch artist must have blocked it out. For so far as our ignorant and inexperienced optic could discover the picture consists exclusively of a lady of uncertain age, but kittenish ways who had overlooked the fact that the Garden of Eden style of dress went out of fashion at the time of the forbidden fruit episode. The pink, however, was on the job with much eclat in a robe which the lady used, no doubt to hide the mole on her knee, and which is still pink enough to use for a railroad danger signal.

Another picture is called the "Young Republic," but it looked more like a lady blacksmith, and as for the young part, if the Young Republic is young, Lillian Russell is still a broiler, and Frankie Bailey should still be using a high chair.

There are several other women in the exhibit. Any one of 'em might get into a Winter Garden show on their

CITY COMMISSIONER
PRIMARY, APRIL 9TH
CAREFUL — SAFE — FAIR
Born and Raised in Omaha

To the Voters of Omaha

The City Primaries will be held Tuesday, April 9 Let nothing happen that will keep you from the polls on that day.

Omaha is facing a critical period in both national and civic affairs. Men must be elected who are strong enough to direct the destinies of Omaha during three years of national crisis

Omaha must be organized for war. Omaha must be in readiness for reconstruction after the war.

It is no time for indifference. You should go to the primaries on April 9 prepared to choose men of unquestioned patriotism and proven capability.

Now, more than ever before in Omaha, it is your solemn duty to see that the City Commission is chosen from loyal Americans who are fitted for this important office.

Inform yourself regarding the merits of the candidates and use your best judgment when you cast your ballot.

Do not neglect this. See that your neighbors vote.

nerve, but never on their pulchritude. There are also some pictures of men, but for some reason or other we can't remember that we looked at them at all.

At the "farm and food" encampment to be opened by the national service school in Washington this month, women students are to be instructed in dairying, planting and handling tractor plows.

Dress Hints

Honeycomb and Bedford cords are utilized to form white skirts.

Novelty flowers for hats are actually made of sawdust.

Sleeves of evening robes are slashed from shoulder to elbow.

Sashes, such as little girls wear, are supplying a few thrills.

The U. S. Food Administration Asks the circulation of recipes providing for the use of corn and other coarse flours to save wheat for our allies.

The Calumet Baking Powder Co. Complies with a new War-Time Recipe Book, containing scores of splendid new recipes, compiled especially to meet war-time economy demands.

The U. S. Food Administration Writes under date of February 6th, the letter coming from the Home Economics Division, as follows:—

"Every woman who provides for her family can help win the war by the wise and careful use of wheat, meat, fat, dairy products, and sugar:—

"By using other fats for butter in cooking; Other cereals for part of the wheat in bread; Other meats, such as game, fish and poultry, or eggs and cheese, to reduce the demand for beef, pork and mutton.

"The recipes in this book have been revised to meet these rules, and the woman who uses them will be doing her part in helping to conserve our food supply."
