

AMERICAN SUBS CROSS ATLANTIC TO SMASH U-BOATS

Daniels Gives Out Details of Fierce Battle Put Up Against Atlantic in Winter Gales.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 9.—In the face of bitter winter gales, American submarines, primarily designed for operations off the home coasts, have crossed the Atlantic to engage in the common fight against German U-boats. They are now aiding allied naval forces, as are American destroyers and American naval airmen, and they have been in the war zone for some months.

Secretary Daniels revealed the fact that the submarines had gone "over there" in his address at Cleveland last Saturday at a Liberty loan celebration, but gave no details. It is now possible, however, to tell for the first time of the midwinter passage of the boats across the seas in the face of the most severe weather known in years. In the perilous passages the best traditions of the service have been maintained.

Brave Fierce Gales.

The first submarines left in early winter. No hint appeared in the papers and in fact, until Secretary Daniels spoke, no word of the participation of the under-water boats in the war against Germany been published.

The navy had some experiences with long distance work with submarines on which to draw. Boats have been sent to the Philippines to Hawaii and to Panama, but always in mild seasons and with plenty of time for precautionary steps.

This time however they were to go in a terrible winter with the Atlantic in its ugliest mood. The steps taken to get them across cannot be disclosed, but the fact that the department has no disaster to record is pointed to as proof of their efficiency.

Blown From Course.

Officers and men of the submarines faced hard days as they put out. Cramped in narrow quarters and with storms in prospect they steered to sea. A laconic report of uneventful voyages bore out their confidence in themselves and their boats.

In mid-December, others got started. While it was fair on sailing day, ahead of the submarines a 100-mile gale was brewing. Into it they plowed, rolling and tumbling.

Even when tow lines parted in some cases, unknown to the tugs and accompanying craft, the submarines battled forward alone. A majority of them reached their destination under their own power, ready for duty. Some of the boats were driven far from their course. They showed up at different ports, but promptly put to sea again and reached their station.

provocative character and cannot be charged to the legal authorities. The protest declares that the Japanese interference is an openly reactionary movement which threatens relations between the Japanese and Russian peoples.

Deep friendship for the laboring class in Japan and other countries is expressed in the protest, which adds that they will undoubtedly raise their voices to compel the Japanese government to withdraw.

Fight Anti-Reds.

Communication with that portion of Manchuria, where General Semenov, the anti-bolshevik leader, has been operating, has been cut. A Siberian committee, which has been conferring with a Chinese delegation at Chita for the purpose of stopping raids by General Semenov and restoring order in the Siberian railway, has returned to Irkutsk and asks that troops be dispatched, presumably to begin operations against General Semenov.

Russian newspapers charge that the Japanese have supplied Semenov with artillery for the purpose of undermining the soviet authority in Siberia.

OPEN REBELLION FROM MEASURE TO DRAFT IRISHMEN

isly ourselves that the gain will be more than the loss.

The paper then deals with the Irish proposal, which, it says, seems like "midsummer madness," adding: "For every battalion it brings in it will mean the loss of two needed to hold in check an indignant people stung once more into open rebellion."

Courageous Policy.

No government measure, the Times declares, has ever had a background more grim or a justification more imperative. The Times adds: "We shall certainly not attempt, especially in the light of the latest news from France, to prejudge the attitude which the nationalist members ultimately may adopt toward this obvious measure of justice to the rest of the United Kingdom and to the Irishmen of Canada and the United States."

The Morning Post rejoices that the premier and his colleagues have resounded on a "straight, just and courageous policy" toward Ireland, but says the proposal to introduce a measure of home rule in Ireland is unwise and unjust as it is an attempt to conciliate the irreconcilables.

Mob Leader Tells Jury Story of Praeger Lynching

Collinsville, Ill., April 10.—Joseph Riegel, 28 years old, a Collinsville miner and formerly in the United States army, told a coroner's jury here today that he was the leader of the mob that last Friday morning hanged Robert P. Praeger, an enemy alien, according to information given out by persons at the hearing. He described in detail the events leading up to the tragedy and implicated Wesley Beaver, in the leadership, it was stated.

Promised Irish Aid.

"May I also refer to a speech delivered by the late John Redmond at Mansion House, Dublin, when he was addressing a recruiting meeting there? He said: 'The heart of Ireland has been profoundly moved by the spectacle of the heroism and sufferings of Belgium. The other day in London I met Cardinal Archbishop Mercier and I took the liberty of promising him that Ireland would bring her arms and her strength to avenge Louvain and to uphold and defend the integrity and independence of Belgium.'

"Belgium, Poland, Alsace-Lorraine and France. Those are words for the Irish people to think over. There never was a war in which higher and nobler issues were at stake. I have heard some people speak of this war as an English and not an Irish war. That is absolutely and definitely untrue. Ireland's highest imperial interests are at stake."

Subject to Conscription.

"The fact that America is in this war is the best proof. There are more Irishmen in the United States than there are in Ireland. They are all subject to conscription. (Captain W. A. Redmond, son of the late Irish leader, interrupted: 'Not by England!') Irishmen in Great Britain are subject to conscription and so are Irishmen in Canada.

"It is indefensible that you should ask the young men of 18 years and married men of 35 and 40, with families, and even up to 50, in England, Scotland and Wales, and that you should compel them to fight for the freedom and independence of a small Catholic community in Europe, while the young men of 20 to 25 in Ireland are under no obligation to take up arms for a cause which is just as much theirs as ours. It is not merely illogical, it is unjust."

Irish Ranks Depleted.

"Irish battalions and divisions, according to all testimony, have maintained the high honor and repulse of their native land, and those battalions are sadly depleted, and they are now filled, or half filled, with Englishmen. If it were merely England's battle, the young men of Ireland might regard that fact with indifference, but it is not. They are just as much concerned as the young men of England."

"Therefore, we propose to extend the military service act to Ireland under the same conditions as in Great Britain. As there is no machinery in existence and no register has yet been completed in Ireland, it may take some weeks before actual enrollment begins. As soon as arrangements are complete the government shall by an order in council put the act into immediate operation."

"War On Ireland"

"That is a declaration of war against Ireland," interrupted William O'Brien, nationalist member for Cork, and Michael Flavin, member for Kerry, added: "And Irishmen all over the world."

"Without delay," replied the premier, who continued: "Meanwhile, we intend to invite parliament to pass a measure for self-government for Ireland."

"You can keep it," said Alfred Byrne, nationalist, for Dublin.

"Let there be no misapprehension. Both questions will not hang together. Each must be taken on its merits," said the premier.

"You can keep both," replied Mr. Byrne.

"Well," said the premier, "if that is the view of home rule, it is a new view for Ireland."

"While Great Britain is fighting for national rights in Europe with all its reserves and strength, it is prepared to concede the same rights in its own sphere of government. The report of the remarkable convention which has been held in Ireland, and which has just brought its proceedings to a termination, affords the British Parliament another opportunity of approaching this vexed question with more hope of success."

Try Prussian Methods.

Mr. Devlin interrupted the speaker on a point of order, saying:

"This is not a matter of petty controversy; this is a matter of most vital importance to Ireland. My point of order is this, and you need not try to howl me down because I will not sit down. You may try Prussian methods in Ireland, but you do not crush us here."

"I want to know now on a point of order whether I am entitled to move that the house should report progress in dealing with the matter referring to conscription in Ireland until such time as a report of a national convention on conscription and of an Irish government is presented to the House of Commons."

The speaker of the house: "The honorable member would be entitled to move an adjournment of debate during the course of the debate at the conclusion of the prime minister's speech, but he certainly could not put in a motion of that sort in the middle of the prime minister's speech."

Self-Government for Erin.

"As I was saying," continued Mr. Loyd George, "this convention has just terminated its labors. The cabinet, of course, has not had time to consider that report because it has only just arrived. I understand it is reported by a majority and I fear the majority is not such as to justify the government in saying that it represents a substantial agreement. That means that the government must accept the responsibility of submitting to parliament, with such guidance as the convention's report affords, such proposals for the establishment of self-government in Ireland as they think just and which can, in their judgment, be carried out without violent controversy."

"We propose, therefore, at an early date, to introduce such a measure into the House of Commons and to pass

Eggs $5 Apiece in Devastated France

Paris, April 10.—Eggs are $5 each in the occupied portion of northeastern France, according to Eugene Motte, former mayor of Roubaix, who has recently returned from that area.

Meat is $4 a pound when it is obtainable at all. "The Germans have carried off all supplies and every movable piece of machinery," he says. "The German arrogance, which had decreased, has again become more pronounced since the German successes against the Russian bolsheviks."

"Despite everything, however, the morale of the Belgian and French inhabitants continues good, and their ardent patriotism, courage and confidence have never faltered."

12,000 DRAFTED MEN RUSHED TO CAMPS AT ONCE

Washington, April 10.—Twelve thousand selective service men, in addition to the 150,000 already called, will be called to start for training camps on April 26, Provost Marshal General Crowder today announced.

The estimate of the number of men of special qualifications is only tentative and may be increased to 15,000 or more before the end of the month, as military needs dictate.

As is usual when special calls are made, the voluntary induction system will be used so far as possible. Any draft registrant falling within the desired category will be given the opportunity of volunteering to his local board for service, but if the required number is not obtained by this method, local boards will induct enough men to fill their quotas.

OMAHA TO SEND 225 MEN TO CAMP WEEK OF APRIL 26

Two hundred twenty-five men from Omaha will go to Camp Funston during the week of April 26, according to orders just received at local exemption boards. Nebraska's quota for this call is 1,460 men.

Registrants actively engaged in farm work will not be called at this time. Following is the number to go from each board: No. 1, 39 men; No. 2, 42 men; No. 3, 50 men; No. 4, 57 men; No. 5, 45 men; No. 6, 22 men.

Peace Demonstration Set For May Day in Austria

Washington, April 10.—In a manifesto to the working people of Austria on May day preparations, the Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna has called for a demonstration for general peace, and an eight-hour day. An accompanying editorial comment declared that "Whoever wishes peace, according to Hindenburg's desire cannot say he wishes it, according to Mr. Wilson's desire."

An official dispatch from France today quotes the manifesto as follows:

"As in each year the Austrian people will leave off work May 1 and will make a demonstration in favor of an eight-hour day and also in favor of a general peace. We are tired of war. On the universal fete day of the working class we shall manifest for a general peace. We want to show the leaders of our country that the mass of the people does not want violence shown the enemy nor does it want conquests (passage censored), but only want a true peace of conciliation and understanding."

War Industries Board Revises Priority Rules

Washington, April 10.—Revised priority regulations designed to assure fuel and transportation to industries necessary to the war and essential to the public welfare were issued today by the war industries board.

A lengthy preferential list made public classifies dozens of transportation and fuel users as essential. Others, it was announced, will be added from time to time. The preferred industries under plan now in preparation also are to be given preference in obtaining raw materials and other supplies.

Germans Advance Nearly Three Miles Toward Armentieres; Maurice Admits Situation There Is Critical

(By Associated Press.)
London, April 10.—"On the Messines front the enemy's attack today was repulsed," Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations, at the war office, announced this afternoon.

"The enemy has obtained no footing on the high ground anywhere."

"In this morning's attack the enemy entered the British first line trenches between Lys and Doube rivers," said General Maurice.

"The attack extended from Armentieres to Messines."

"The German gains today," continued General Maurice, "in conjunction with the results of his attack yesterday, have placed Armentieres in an awkward salient."

"The Germans captured a considerable part of Ploegsteert wood."

"In the fighting yesterday the enemy advanced in the center to a depth of 5,500 yards. It is quite certain we lost some guns. In an advance of such a depth, considerable Portuguese artillery must have been lost and probably a number of prisoners."

"The retirement of the French to the line of the Ailette river, two French battalions were cut off and the Germans took about 2,000 prisoners."

Armentieres Heap of Ruins.

"Armentieres," General Maurice went on, "is now little more than a heap of ruins and its loss would not be a vital matter. It is not lost yet and we hope it will not be, but it may be."

Win the War by Preparing the Land, Sowing the Seed and Producing Bigger Crops.

Work in Joint Effort the Soil of the U. S. and Canada—Co-operative Farming and Man Power Necessary to Win the Battle for Liberty.

The Food Controllers of United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat can be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply. Every Available Tillable Acre must Contribute; Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand must Assist. Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operations. Canada's Wheat Production last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the demand from Canada alone for 1918, is 400,000,000 Bushels. To secure this she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied, we want to direct him there. Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell where you can best serve the combined interests. Western Canada's help will be required not later than May 5th. Wages to complete help, $50 a month and up, board and lodging. Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board and first comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return. For particulars as to routes and places where employment may be had, apply to U. S. Employment Service, Dept. of Labor, Omaha or Lincoln, Neb.
