PACKING HOUSES TO CUT DOWN OVERTIME

New Wage Scale Granted to Employes Results in Efforts to Avoid Long Hours for Men.

Because of the high wages paid to packing house employes, brought about by a recent court decision, the superintendents and managers of the local plants have been instructed not to work the men overtime unless absolutely necessary.

Unskilled labor now commands 40 cents an hour for an eight-hour day, 50 cents an hour for the next two hours, and 60 cents an hour for over 10 hours, with double time for Sundays. Beginning May 5, the men will be worked in eight-hour shifts, with fewer men in each shift, thus saving the extra pay for overtime.

The Plumb Line

Before the invention of the plumb line we have every reason to believe that buildings were not quite straight and true, or as the Irishman insisted, "A little more than straight," which we think was about the same thing.

Nowadays there is a plumb line to most everything; a standard of excellence or of ethics that compels correctness.

When you furnish and decorate, whether it be a single room or a brand new home, do it via the modern method, that is, through our Department of Interior Decoration, then you will avoid being not quite plumb or a little more than plumb.
