

BANKS RECEIVE FIRST BONDS OF THIRD WAR LOAN

Only Four Coupons Attached, But Treasury Department Will Exchange Them for Complete Certificates.

Liberty bonds of the third loan are now here, the first having been received by the State Bank of Omaha. This bank was also the first to receive the 3 1/2 and 4s. The 4 1/2s are 10-year bonds, but come with only four coupons. When three coupons are clipped the bonds are to be returned to the Treasury department and exchanged for bonds which will save all the coupons. This was done simply as a time-saver in getting out the bonds in a rush.

The city committee announces that it finds the subscriptions given at the theaters are practically all bona fide. Some question was raised as to whether the $40,050 subscribed at Rev. Titus Lowe meeting at the Auditorium Monday night was good. The committee reports that it counts out all right, the $10,000 subscription having been made by the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company.

Elks Move "Tank."
The state tank was moved to the $28,000,000 mark at noon by the Elks' lodge of Omaha. Judge Sears and other prominent Elks spoke. Only $4,000,000 is yet to be raised before the quota is reached. The committee feels no apprehension as to the final outcome.

Arbor day was utilized at Scottsbluff in selling Liberty bonds, as well as for planting trees. Scottsbluff's quota was $80,000 and at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon the quota had been passed and bonds were being sold all over the city in booths which had been erected for the occasion.

C. L. Lewis of Fairfield reported the Clay county quota as $418,700 and that $477,100 had already been raised. S. L. Mains of Crete, former foot ball star and chairman of the bond committee for Seward county, reports their quota is $460,700 and that they are already "over the top" in actual cash sales.

Amsterdam, April 23.—The Reichstag assembled yesterday. The vice president, Dr. Hermann Paasche, made an address, Berlin dispatches report, in which he said: "The success of the eighth war loan undoubtedly will help to show our opponents, as well as neutrals, to what extent a web of deceit has been woven around Germany and also to reveal to them the fact that Germany's internal strength remains unbroken. We hope this victory in the financial field will contribute substantially to the attainment of our goal as quickly as possible."

TWO DAYS REMAIN TO SUBMIT ANSWERS IN SALUTE CONTEST

Suggestions Flow in as Time Shortens; Woman Who Has Lived to See Three American Wars Gives Her Idea; "Poet" Contributes.

Only two days remain for contributors to send to the "Contest Editor" of The Bee their suggestions as to the proper way for women to salute the American flag, whenever the occasion arises.

The "Woman's Salute Contest" will close Thursday, April 25, at 6 p. m. Prizes aggregating $50 will be given for the four best answers received up to that hour.

Mrs. C. A. Grant, 1109 South Twenty-eighth street, Omaha, has lived to see three American wars, and has done her "bit" by darning socks and mittens for soldiers and sailors during all three. Her suggestion for the most appropriate way follows:

"I think nothing could be prettier nor more loyal than a graceful bow to our dear Old Glory."

Spring Poets Active.
The spring poets cannot resist the temptation to including verse with their ideas. Here is one from Lulu Grace Johnson, 115 North Forty-third avenue, Omaha:

I love my flag with all my heart,
It means so much to me;
And then our fair sex may salute it
How happy I will be.
Now Uncle Jim and brother Charles
Pay homage "hat in hand";
So I desire to more than cheer
The emblem of our land.
Just think how splendid it would be
For women folks so grand,
To reverently salute the flag,
And so a way I've planned.

Would Think of Friends.
Miss Johnson's suggestion follows: "Eyes raised to flag, right hand in perpendicular position with palm forward, placed half way between right eye and right ear, one inch from head, finger tips on level with top of head."

Widely Traveled Man Will Have to Remain Quiet 30 Days

Arthur E. Baker, who frankly admitted that he was a user of dope, was in police court on a charge of vagrancy. He had registered at a hotel of the city as "Arthur E. Baker, U. S. A., Camp Funston." When asked his occupation he

From R. P. Galt, of Silver City, Ia., comes:

"Raise left hand to height of brow and about four inches in front and to left of face."

Other suggestions are:

"Bow the head and at same time place right hand over heart."—Mrs. Warren Hough, 316 Sherman avenue, Council Bluffs, Ia.

"Both palms be placed together in silent supplication to God, stand at attention."—Anne C. Newbigging, Wisner, Neb.

"Cross both arms across the breast, hands open and stand erect."—Mrs. J. Doran, 4377 South Seventeenth street, Omaha.

"Raise your eyes to Old Glory, place right hand over heart, then drop to side."—Marie M. Ryan, 700 North Fortieth street.

"Fold your right hand over your left, place them upon breast, raise your eyes to the flag, and think of those you love the best."—Mrs. Fred Witt, 504 South Tenth street, Nebraska City, Neb.

"The regular military salute," Mrs. H. P. Dunning, Hazard, Neb.

"Place right hand over heart, raising left hand to height of shoulder, palm out."—Mrs. D. McConnell, Pender, Neb.

"Raise the eyes and smile approval."—Mrs. G. W. Wertz, Hartington, Neb.

So many suggestions and ideas have been pouring into The Bee that it is impossible to print even a small percentage of them. Those selected for publicity purposes are returned to their original place with the other suggestions, and will have no preference in the final selection of winners.

said, "Being a citizen of Omaha," Detective Dolan testified Baker was a punster. This made Baker indignant and he exclaimed, "I've been there 20 times and I've seen more of the world in the last two years than you have ever seen in your life."

"I'll limit your travels for the next 30 days," observed Judge Madden, as he made out the commitment papers.

Fight to the Death For Food in Galicia

Washington, April 23.—Serious food riots in Galicia are described in a diplomatic dispatch today from France. It says:

"A telegram from Vienna to the Muenchener Neuste Nachrichten reports that in many large towns of Galicia riots, involving bloodshed, took place last week because of the shortage of food.

"At Cracow these riots were particularly fierce, causing the deaths of a number of people. The troops charged into the crowd.

"The disturbances have now spread to eastern Galicia, more particularly in Lemberg and Tarnopol. The number of casualties in the civil population is also high."

Margaret Anglin to the Brandeis to Play "Billeted"

If all our army is billeted so comfortably and in such charmingly sympathetic company as are the two British officers in Margaret Anglin's delightful love-comedy, "Billeted," which will be seen at the Brandeis theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24 and 25, those of us at home will have battles of our own to fight, nonetheless serious because they are with the green-eyed monster. Miss Anglin has registered her greatest comedy success as the central character in this comedy, which will be revealed here by the New York company, which includes Margaret Hoffman, Sally Williams, Roland Rushton, Phyllis Birkett, Langdon Bruce, Myra Burington, Howard Lindsey and Fred Eric.

Court Orders Quantity of Booze Returned to Omahan

James Cosgrove, 323 North Twenty-first street, through his attorney, pleaded not guilty in police court to illegal possession of five quarts of brandy found in his room in a raid some time ago.

He alleged that he had purchased 12 quarts of the liquor before May 1, 1917, and that he used daily portions of the stimulant on doctor's orders. He alleged that he had been twice discharged from the United States army because of heart disease and produced the physician's prescription prescribing the use of brandy.

He was discharged and his "medicine" ordered restored to him.

SOLDIER LOSES COURT FIGHT TO KEEP DAUGHTER

Private Elden Cunningham Makes Hurried Trip to Omaha and Starts Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

A letter from his former wife which aroused his suspicions caused Private Elden Cunningham to make a hurried trip to Omaha from Camp Johnston, Jacksonville, Fla.

"Would you take baby away if I were to get married?" was the question which caused Cunningham to hurry to Omaha. On his arrival here he immediately started habeas corpus proceedings in district court for the custody of Genevieve, their 3-year-old daughter.

The Cunninghams were divorced December 6, 1916, and he was given custody of their little daughter. Then came the war and Cunningham enlisted. The last letter to him from his former wife told how the little tot was learning to talk and its first sentence had been, "My papa is a Sammy."

Inquires About Child.
Frequent reference to Leo Agnew, with whom she was keeping company, and the assertion that if he would not take the child from her she would marry Agnew, aroused Cunningham's suspicions.

Agnew and Mrs. Cunningham were married in Council Bluffs recently.

Judge Redick decided that the child was in a good home at 424 South Twentieth street, and as Cunningham was in the army it would be to the best interest of the child to allow it to remain there.

Cunningham has returned to Florida. It was his wish that the child be cared for by his parents, who reside in Loup City, Neb.

Attorney Asks Patriots to Blacklist 'Tribune' Advertisers

H. L. Mossman, attorney, speaking at noon for Liberty bonds in front of the Liberty bank, held a copy of Val J. Peter's German language paper, The Omaha Tribune, in his hand and read the names of the advertisers.

"How many will agree to refuse to patronize these advertisers as long as they advertise in this rag?" he asked. All except two or three of the crowd held up their hands.

"Why do they allow that paper to be printed in Omaha?" asked a woman.

"You will have to ask the authorities," replied Mossman.

CORD TIRES

We took the cord tire and put Kelly-Springfield mileage in it—and made Kelly-Springfield Cords.

None of the good points of cord construction was lost. Kelly Cords are light on their feet. You can push a heavy car all over the garage floor with one hand when it has its Kelly Cords on. This easy riding goes with a construction strong enough to stand harder wear than you will ever give a tire.

We tested 500 Kelly Cords on cars weighted up to 5200 pounds, running day and night over mid-winter roads. The average mileage was 11,725 for rear wheels; 14,000 for front wheels; 12,000 miles all around.

Two treads—grooved and non-skid.
