NEW YORK STOCKS Market Remains in Sluggish State, Stirred in Either Direction Only by Professional Trading.

New York, April 25.—Variable strength among specialties, mostly of obscure origin, and the sluggishness of investment issues, notably rails, were the contrasting features of today's superficial stock market.

French Envoy Makes Plea For More Ships and Men. Washington, April 25.—Send at once as many men as you can; build as many ships as your shipyards can turn out and we will, all together, win the war.

Edouard De Billy, deputy French high commissioner, just back from France, said today this was the message he brought to the American people from the front.

"I want to tell you," he said, "what a high opinion all of the French officers have expressed of the American men and soldiers. I heard unanimous praise from the commanders of our armies as well as from the officers of lower rank, neighbors of your battalions on the battle line, and I am very happy to bring you this message from France."
