THE OMAHA BEE

DAILY (MORNING) - EVENING - SUNDAY FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER

VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY, PROPRIETOR.

Entered at Omaha postoffice as second-class matter,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS clated Press, of which The Bee is a member, is account to the use for publication of all news dispatches cred not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local in the paper.

Chicago—People's Gas Building. New York—286 Fifth Ave. St. Louis—New B'k of Commer Washington—1311 G St.

CORRESPONDENCE

MARCH CIRCULATION 66,558 Daily-Sunday, 56,553

Subscribers leaving the city should have The Bee mailed them. Address changed as often as requested.

Nailing campaign lies is now in order.

Heckling is an old feature of hustings, and candidates must look for it wherever they go.

Gas bombs and smoke barriers are already in evidence in Omaha, and the bombardment is only just commenced.

No telephone or megaphone is needed to carry to Berlin the sound of such choruses as were raised on the court house lawn.

"Bullet proof" jobs in the government service are being subjected to close inspection just now, and the safety first brigade is correspondingly agitated.

A little call by the navy at Wilhelmshaven, similar to the visit paid to Zeebrugge, would be mightily entertaining and probably would inierest the kaiser.

The State Council of Defense now has a fine opportunity to prove up on the professors it has acgused of disloyalty, and should not let the latter rest in its unfinished state.

The bill extending the draft law to automatically include young men coming to their majority has passed the house, and the boys may as well get ready to enroll themselves on the great scroll

Our Dutch friends are not exactly reconciled to their situation, but they must not forget there is a hereafter. If they refuse to sell us tin, we can find a way to get along without it, but they might miss our wheat and meat greatly.

Hamilton county has just experienced the unique sensation of having a bridge company put back" a considerable sum of money. Taxpayers are on the trail of other contractors, and ope to effect a clean-up. They struck pay dirt, apparently, with the first shovelful.

Overman Bill Going Through.

The Overman bill, which really is the president's bill, is going to be passed by the senate, although not exactly in the form sent over by the White House. Instead of putting it to final vote on Thursday, as had been ordered, discussion was continued that additional amendment might be made, the aircraft situation presenting the opportunity. While the president through Senator Overman ordered the adoption of the without amendment and without compromise on its principle, the senators have halted at the provisions in some respects. Making no effort to destroy or interfere with the centralized control of all government war activities, amendments have been suggested that will increase the power of the executive and preserve the rights of the legislative. The particular amendment that resulted in prolongation of the debate refers to the naming of a single head of the aircraft department. The advantage of this is apparent. Under the direction of one man who is capable of managing big affairs, the collapsed program may be set in motion again and something retrieved from the wreck. If the Overman bill will bring this about it will have helped mightily in winning

CLEAN UP THE UNIVERSITY.

The Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska have met a grave situation in a manner that is calculated to produce results. It has asked the State Council of Defense to arrange for an open hearing, to listen to accusers and accused and to make recommendations, promising to take swift action on the showing made,

In no other way can the scandal aroused be disposed of. Nebraska can not afford to have indefinite and unformed stories circulated about its great school.

Already the state has suffered greatly through loose or ill-considered talk by men whose loyalty is not questioned, but whose discretion may not be entirely commensurate with their zeal. This is regrettable, but the damage is done. As to the university, it has been the center of considerable criticism, because of the actions and utterances of some members of its faculty. Nebraskans now or at no other time wish to circumscribe the faculty of the university in the matter of instruction. The citizens realize that the value of education is in direct ratio to its breadth and depth. Admitting all this, however, a higher and more important consideration must be recognized by all. The safety of all our institutions rests on the understanding of our citizens, and, when a mind becomes so broadened by philosophic research that it no longer includes within its vision the horizon of nationality, it has in that far become a danger to the very things we are most earnestly devoted to perpetuate.

As The Bee understands the situation at Lincoln, the chief trouble has arisen because some members of the faculty have developed "the international mind," and are devoted to "philosophic pacifism." This attitude is capable of eloquent defense and has been supported most ably, its principal danger existing because of the fact that the rarefied atmosphere of pure reason into which these learned gentlemen have elevated themselves is fatal to our national aspirations. While it is dangerous to undertake to limit the activity of a teacher, it is far more so to permit an irrational "philosopher" to spread his inchoate dogma among minds that are seeking for light and reason.

Nebraska "Over the Top."

Thousands of Omahans stood in the raw, chilly wind and raised a mighty chorus whose echo will be heard in Berlin, when the "tank" went over the top, signifying that the state had exceeded its quota of subscription to the Liberty

That the amount of the loan taken would exceed the minimum set down for the state has never been in doubt. Nebraska has done a great many things in a fine, big way, to show its loyalty since the war has been upon us. Its subscription to each of the Liberty loans has been in keeping with expectations, and its purchases of War Savings stamps has been so far ahead of all others that no state in the union expects to get within hailing distance of the record made by our people. Its young men have answered the call to the colors, its farmers have worked harder than ever to produce for the world's needs, and its citizens generally have done and are doing their utmost to help humanity win this war for free-

We have among us disloyal men and women; some of these undertake to hide behind a screen of pretense; subscription to Liberty loans and purchase of thrift stamps is not the best test of devotion to the ideals of America just now. Lipservice is easy to perform, but it is heart-devotion the nation now needs. Time-servers and hypocrites will be discovered in good season, and the day will come when loyalty will not be measured by the noise one makes. Nebraska is over the top for the Liberty loan, and is going over the top for Old Glory, too, and the secret sympathizers with the kaiser should keep this in mind.

Naval Success at Zeebrugge.

Renewal of the German efforts to push on and capture the Channel ports, and to cut the line between Calais and Paris may be ascribed to the great success that attended the British raid on Zeebrugge and Ostend. While the Germans assert the attempt to close the Ostend canal was not entirely successful, they practically admit that Zeebrugge has been put out of action. Details now coming through give the affair a color of gallantry that is not surpassed by any incident of the great war. Crews of the ships engaged worked under fire of batteries looked upon by the Germans as invincible. Many a gallant son of Britain went to his death, but the others held on until the mission they had set upon was ac-

Americans should read the stories of this wonderful raid with avidity; in its recital will be found the best possible answer to the slanderous charges of pro-German propagandists that the British are not doing their share, that they have been holding off to allow our men to be sacrificed in the dangerous work that must be done, and similar lies spread to weaken our alliance. With her soldiers fighting with their backs to the wall, her sailors guarding the seas, and carrying out such effective raids as those lately chronicled, and her people spending $35,000,000 a day to win, only a shameless kaiserite can say Great Britain is not carrying her share in this war.

Public Spirit Should Outlaw Them Men Like Hitchcock Should Not Be Honored in America

By W. E. Martin.

News Item: "The Kansas City Chamber | thing. But Hitchock from the first looked of Commerce is delighted at the prospect of upon the war about as a dog fight. In the an address by Senator Hitchcock. News Item: "Senator Hitchcock will talk cock said to him that the war would best end to the Omaha Chamber of Commerce on in a dog fall. It does not matter whether who know so much more than the amateur morning I saw that the most fearless and just Springfield Republican had taken up his heart. arms against Hitchcock and my pen took the bit in its teeth once more. So I dug out the scrapped draft, pieced it together, and that he compels attack upon the man.

When the foul flood poured out of Ger- we could serve it. many, hot wrath swept like fire over Ameri- Our country in the war, with brazen and it. I say this unreservedly because the Gerthe fore, his shamelessness rising to high papers do—that is the way it is sent tide when on the floor of the senate he to you for your use—instead of subno mind of his own about the matter, had charged the administration with a break-stituting the word German? Are you long taken his mind about public questions down and tried to tear the reins of leader-afraid of hurting some unpatriotic from above; but excepting the Germans, ship from Wilson's hands. How faulty the German's feelings? everyone knew the black horror assailed administration was and how much good the humanity. It was not a thing to take sides senate did and how good or bad was its way over and debate about any more than it is of doing it are beside my mark. Those are debatable whether a man has a right to now questions for the historian. What I beat his wife. It was sheer badness, self- am drawing at are two living things, first, 100 per cent American. There is nothadvertised as much, proudly bent upon de- the danger of Hitchcock's becoming chair- ing on your front page of his stirring stroying goodness, that is, the goodness be-lieved in by the rest of the world. In short, tee, and second, honors being paid to him. I the only thing to feel was loathing. It that honoring Hitchcock reveals a low na- has given it a column on the front was expressed on every street-corner, in tional morale. We all know that our morale page, the place it deserves, where every every home, in every club, by every fearless monthly, weekly, and daily. The great Atlantic Monthly has devoted a large part of state and an excess of good nature. It is writings to whom you give prom-It opened its presses to the pro-German. It any other, where there is so much more for the German vote and if signs have said to Kuno Francke in substance, "Cer- elbow room; we are jostled so much less, anything to do with it I am of the tainly you may try to state a case for Ger- that we care comparatively little whether the opinion that that is just what he is many in our pages, but we are sure you cannot do it," and he tried and of course could what he does, however far-reaching its ef-

Look at this young man, revealed through his letters in the April issue of the Atlantic Monthly, Edwin Austin Abbey, 2d nephew of the great painter. When the war came he was a civil engineer of highest promise, in full flush of young manhood and of devoted exercise of a great profession. He had just begun a great and difficult bridge construction. His fine spirit instantly flew to France and as soon as the bridge was done he went there bodily and spilt there his precious life for the Great Cause. This "gentleman, unafraid," hardly more than a boy, wrote these radiant words which seem to me to hold the whole of why we must fight the kaiser and his cutthroat conferees off the earth. "I can see very little patriotism or flags or countries; it is more a struggle of mankind to defend the principles of humanity and chivalry which the Creator has handed down, even though the defenders themselves have abused and sinned against the very principles they now defend. It is as though the world has sinned to a point where it divided, the one half going over the bounds of human possibility, the other stopping and reaching back to former good and true tradition to resist the impulse of the lost half to swallow it up as well."

He was a distinguished one of tens of thousands. Was there one such that rushed to the kaiser's colors?

This is an old story but its telling is young Abbey, his heroic sacrifice and his reworld is at grips, beside this mature man who in his young manhood was in close quarters with Prussianism. I know no other whom intimacy with it had not taught the most intense abhorrence of the monstrous

Ruined Rheims a Monument to Kultur

For a week the Germans have concentrattil nothing is left of it but a heap of ruins. streets have disappeared. Of the great Le Matin, only the west front and a few pillars remain standing as a mute protest against the devilish thoroughness with which the hand of the Prussian has done its happened, to remind us of that duty.

From what motives the Germans perpe trated the final destruction of Rheims makes no difference. So often during the past three no difference. So often during the past three years they have offered lying pretexts for bombarding the Cathedral that nothing they may say in self-defense can be accepted as the truth. It was vainly hoped that somewhere in Germany there was enough common sense and respect for the decent opinion of mankind to restrain them from wantonly battering down stone by stone the glorious monument preserved from the 13th century. In the long future nothing can ever save the German nation and the Gerpeople from the shameful reproach they have justly earned in the desolation created by their imperial master's cannon.

Rheims in ruins will be mourned by the world. In title only it belonged to France. It was one of civilization's precious possessions, a common heritage for all time-until the Teuton came. On the site of the beautiful city among the vine-clad hills of Champagne, only heaps of shattered stone and wreckage remain as proof of the hideous kaiser who proclaims his partnership with God.-New York World.

Brooklyn Eagle: There's many a slip twixt the plan and the ship; but the refrain, "Schwab. Schwab, on that Nebraska people ought not worry the job," is a most cheering one to all that the loyalty of any part of the Germans are discovering that the soldiers on the western front are "dif-ferent." They keep right on fighting faculty of the state university is in question, but now that the charge has been made it is the duty of the board of regents to go through that faculty

Raltimore American: After all the They keep right on fighting Baltimore American: After all the to you? Toronto Mail and Empire: A German paper says that Germany lost its yon of Iowa in a speech in Omaha the last chance to keep the United States other day made this remark: "I for out of the war when it failed to pre-out of the war when it failed to pre-vent Mr. Wilson's re-election. Now ex-Governor Hughes is a peaceable man, but he would be willing to pay a heavy fine for the pleasure of doing certain things to this editor. Louisvile Courier-Journal: While the world may be shocked to find an emperor to be a plain liar the fact is that lying is one of the smallest vices of the dynasty to which the present emperor of Austria-Hungary belongs. of winning this war as a celluloid cat The Hapsburgs began as robbers and has of catching an asbestos rat in murderers and as time passed they hell." And that's going some in true improved their oportunities, not their

How the Business Man can Help Win the he said it or not, for on his editorial page and in the senate he went further than Quite truly, I don't like writing this a little He wrote and spoke in effect in aid of Ger- have traitors right in our land-at This is the time for doing. Moreover, many. If the bills he introduced and supthere is no shortage of professional writers ported had gone through, long ago, all wings of that old eagle and protected Europe would have been under the kaiser's and tell what they know so much better. I heel. That is indisputable. His editorial the glory of the world. Long may she felt this so strongly that I scrapped my page was a hospital for every bad case of freedom. Now let us all rid this na-original draft, decided to keep off, but this pro-Germanism that knocked. Let him tion of the disloyal. Let us join tocharge this to which he pleases, his head or gether, hand in hand, and die for our One day he sees two dogs fighting. The next he sees seraphim hovering over one of early days of it, a man told me that Hitch-

the dogs. The day before we entered the war he was for standing aside, holding that One doesn't like leveling his lance at an the war is an exclusive European feud. The individual, much prefers a tendency or a day after it became to him a holy war, in condition; but Hitchcock presses so hard, so which we must fight to the last gasp if need I am paid in advance and you can insistently against my dearest beliefs (not be. But the cause for which we are fighting either use this money to support mine, the dearest belief of a great people) is the same, today, yesterday and tomorrow. Hitchcock with or tickle the sides of The only question all the time was how best some Dutchman, as it is immaterial

There was one mind and one heart about unexampled effontery, Hitchcock sprang to use the word "Hun" when the other as someone said, "The Kaiser's God is our have said enough of the first. As to the sec-So we could only feel about it and ond, I think no fair-minded man would say the very beginning. Your competitor of every issue to expressing it from the first. so much easier to get on in America than writings to whom you give promother fellow does well or ill and take lightly going to get when the next election fects. This extends to the state. We are German vote, we mean pro-Germans highly pleased with our freedom and our or those whose sympathies are across the water. All others in this country results in running ourselves and so we letthe state run itself. Chambers of Commerce call "Americans." Now please cance honor Hitchcock by letting him talk to them and leading men sit on the platform and it's kind of thing as long as it is possible all prodigal good nature. But I have no for me to do so, and I do not want, doubt the men on the platform have as little for my part, to disgrace the postoffices respect for him as anyone else. Possibly it is the office they honor, the shell, regardless of the quality of the meat. But is this war so light a thing that the possibility of Hitchcock's being chairman of the greatest senate committee but slightly disturbs us? Aren't terests. we touched by the ferment seething in the Archbishop Lang, the British world. emissary, looked us over and saw little cor-

> Great Frederick to the Cellar Frederick the Great, standing so long in Joe. Proof was obtained by burn-

Britisher's brain is about as busy with po-bronze aggressiveness before the Army War ing samples of the meal and sifting college in Washington has at last rone to college in Washington, has at last gone to the cellar-never again to emerge, probably, as a monitor to the American people. Good riddance! But inasmuch as the war college is in a very out-of-the-way situation at the brigade, a labor of love which is richly national capital, perhaps it might have been rewarded by the consolation it brings essential here. Put it beside Hitchcock, Put a good thing to leave the Prussian where he to the afflicted. was, as a reminder of the advantage to the markable sense of the stake over which the nation-to any nation-of a policy of military preparedness over one of studied and stupid neglect of all precautions.

Frederick II was never a friend of America. What little he ever said or did for the American colonies was mere camouflage, havng reference to his dealings not with us but with rivals in Europe. He hated every single British-raised cattle are restricted to principle, every thought, every ideal which a maximum price of 76 shillings a our founders put upon their books. He hundred, live weight, while Irish catstarted the current of conquest which has the unrestricted as to price, bring as involved us in the world war against his peo- much as 100 shillings. ed a heavy fire upon the city of Rheims un- ple. To all Americans his name should be ers insist on equal rights and propose forever odious. But he was at least a living The buildings have been leveled and the expression of the policy of making his own country great and safe. We Americans have Cathedral, according to a correspondent of always been bent on making our country great, but we have seldom thought of mak-

"We must suffer still for a short time our resent anxieties in order to insure our good future." So Field Marshal von Hindenburg, cheers up the Essen Chamber of Commerce and the old folks at home. A little more than four months ago the field marshal was telling the Vienna Neue Free Presse: "If for some time yet we maintain our Transcript. strength and exercise patience, we shall carry it to a good end."

By mid-January the German Mars, adored in his monstrous wooden idol by the Berlinese, was giving out amusingly strong tonic to a collection of German editors: By next April I shall be in Paris."

Now "we must suffer still for a short time our present anxieties." Always a "good fu-ture," "victory," "a strong peace," is going to turn up. Steel and wood Mars playing Micawber, trying to micawberize the "Ger-man people." Great is Hindenburg. One Great is Hindenburg. One wonders if honest "German Michel" doesn't crime committed in obedience to a German get a little weary of being cheered up even by the wooden god of the German tribes .-New York Times.

Twice Told Tales

journalist visited an insane asylum to get material for an article and was shown over the establish-ment by one of the inmates, who was so intelligent that it was almost impossible to believe he could be out

"And what are you in here for, my man?" asked the journalist at length. Immediately a cunning look came

Why, they have to hire a man just to follow me round and rub 'em out, but," coming a little closer, "I'll tell you a secret, I'm four 'damns' ahead of him and I've got 'hell' written all over your back!"—Chicago Herald.

The Lesson.
A professor of history met one of his class who had returned from fighting on the western front, and asked him if he had learned any parasked him if he had learned any par-ticular lesson from the war.
"I have discovered," replied the young man, "that it is a great deal easier studying history than it is mak-

"How did he strike you?" "Said he'd left his change at home in his other trousers."—Boston Tran-

The Boe's A

Silver Creek, Neb., April 25 .- To the Editor of The Bee: Gentlemen and friends of our flag, let us all stop and ook and see where we are at. Our boys, the choicest of our land, are dying that. daily for the freedom of the world. We home-who have been honored by the by that old Stars and Stripes, today wave over the seas and the land of all dear boys in the far east. Don't be chilly. Renovate this dear land of the unclean hands. H. N. WILSON. unclean hands.

Kennard, Neb., April 23 .- To the World-Herald. will please discontinue sending me the World-Herald from this date on. what is done with it, just so that my name never again appears on the page

Last evening in Omaha you had patriotic address by a man who has been to the trenches, who has travel ed from one end of the line to the other, and a man whose patriotism is plete column by the man in the sen ate who has been guilty of opposing comes. And, when we speak of the of German descent who are loyal we my name, as, I have stood for this of this great country by requiring them to place such a periodical in my office box. Patriotically

P. S.—Webster says that a patriot is one who loves his country and zeal-

"Over There and Here" The military surgeons have found respondence here with the fact that the reped paper a very satisfactory substitute for cotton gauze bandages.

itical, economic and social reconstruction as Much work looms ahead for the with reconstruction of Germany. We cannot commission that is to probe the school go on in the old way. We are at a sharp text books of New York state for Gerturn of the road, and we need now a public spirit which makes outcasts of such men as of the kaiser are sure to go to the > Missouri experts claim to have sold over some of the counters at St.

Many chaplains with the allied forces in France make it a point of writing to the parents or relations of every man killed in action in their

Germany's lonely gretchens are crowding the columns of matrimonial papers with advertisements for husbands. Some of the ads reveal a state of desperation, as when Gretchen writes that lack of an arm or leg will make no difference.

ing system of Britain is that strictly to get them.

Five thousand employes of the Macy stores in New York placed on sion of appreciation to those of our co-workers who have gone from our LINES TO A LAUGH.

said the pork packer. "When we kill a hog nothing is lost but the squeal." "We beat tnat." said the lumber manu-facturer. "When we cut up a dogwood we do not even waste the bark."—Beston

"So you think that long hair makes man look interesting and impressive?" "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "I supect that hair was provided by nature to divert attention from the fact that a man is a onehead."-Washington Star.

"What are you thinking of?" he inquired as the conversation languished "I have heard that you have a terrible reputation for kissing every girl you meet."
"Ye-es?"
"And I was wondering how you got such a reputation," concluded the fair maid.— Louisville Courier-Journal. "You won't get anything out of that law

"What did he tell you "That he left all he had."-Baltimore

Blinks-Did you see the cutting look sh ve me? Jinks—Yes; her hatchet face is capable of doing such things as that.—Boston Globe.

"We want to rent your hall."

FLAGS OF FREEDOM. (Tune: Battle Cry of Freedom.)

res, we're springing to the colors, ten milh freemen brave,
Fighting with all the flags of Freedom
For the kalser must be taught that world is not his slave,
Fighting with all the flags of Freedom.

Chorus: Our Freedom forever! Hurrah, boys, hurrah Down with the kaiser! On with the Free! Hip, hurrah, hurrah, hooray! Up, Freemen, save the day Fighting will all the flags of Freedom.

We must save the liberties that our father won before Fighting with all the flags of Freedom And we'll teach the brutal mailed fist !!

shall assail no more.
Fighting with all the flags of Freedom. We will never stack our arms, boys, til seas are safe to sail.
Fighting with all the flags of Freedom.
And the brutal kaiser crew shall now lears

the Free prevail
Fighting with all the flags of Freedom.
—ERNEST L. IRELAND.

Ursula Dietrich CONCERT PIANIST

The Apollo Reproducing Piano Will Be Exploited Saturday by

Miss Ursula Dietrich

A. HOSPE CO.'S

Special Apollo

Recently fitted up for this purpose at their Piano Parlors, 1513 Douglas street.

Warerooms

A. Hospe Co.

1513-15 Douglas St.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get

at the Cause and Remove It Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the subst tute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugarcoated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the Dr. F. M. Edwards us years of prac-formula after seventeen years of prac-

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

On Arms, Neck and Body. Full of Little Pimples. An Awful Torment. Cost 75c.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and used a sample. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Soap which healed me sound and well." (Signed) Miss Jennie Smith, McLean, Ill., July 16, '17. Cuticura Soap used daily for the oilet and Cuticura Ointment occasionally tend to prevent pimples.
Sample Each Free by Mail. Address postcard: "Cuticura, Dept. H. Boston." Sold everywhere, Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c.

One Year Ago Today in the War.

British premier declared home rule necessary for victory and peace.
Allied conference in Washington agreed on basic principles for conduct of war.
The house turned down the Roosevit scheme of raising a volunteer form for France.

ce for France.

This Day in History.

The Day We Celebrate. T. J. O'Connor, city clerk, born 1884.

Major Arthur Finley Nevin, U. S.

L. who has been serving as a director of camp singing, born at Edgeworth, Pa., 47 years ago.

Sir Henry L. Drayton, Dominion ower controller, born at Lingston, ower controller, born at Lingston, ont., 49 years ago. William Draper Lewis, dean of the aw school at the University of Penn-ylvania, born in Philadelphia, 51 H. H. Myers, outfielder of the Brooklyn National league base ball cam, born at East Liverpool, O., 29 cars ago.

1802-Louis Kossuth, the famous er of the Hungarian revolution in 5, born in Hungary. Died at Turin, sch 20, 1894. 1813—Force of 1,700 under Gen-ral Pike assaulted and captured fork, capital of upper Canada. 1861—The ports of Virginia and North Carolina were proclaimed to be her sister Mrs. Juda P. Currie and The residence of J. B. Farrell, located two blocks south of Hanscom park on Thirty-second street was struck by lightning and the roof and cond story of the building completely demolished.

Just 30 Years Ago Today Mrs. G. H. Elliott, of St. Paul

The Omaha Workingmen's Edu-cational society held a meeting for the purpose of learning if the working people are interested in opening a reading room which is to be on the club style.

The ball game today was postponed, the diamond being too soft by reason of two days' rain. Jack Morrison, one of the popular proprietors of the "Diamond" will present to the member of the Omaha team making the best batting average at the end of the season, a magnificent diamond horse shoe pin.

State Press Comment Beatrice Express: Nebraska's sedition law covers so much terriotory bout punishment being administered. Kearney Hub: It is regrettable with a fine-tooth comb. Let no German germs escape. Beatrice Sun: As a measure conservation, some of the new phrases which have only been recruited into our language, should be sent back to rest billets. For instance, it is not fair to expect "over the top" and "camouflage" to be kept constantly in the front lines of conservation without imparing their morale, pep, resiliency. Crawford Chronicle: Senator Kenone hope never to see daylight again if I ever buy one article made by the hands or machinery of the contempt-ible Huns," for which sentiment he was vigorously applauded, and in which he will be joined in action by millions of our American people. While the senator was on his recent trip to Europe, in conversation with Scottish lieutenant the latter said that "Germany had as much chance Editorial Shrapnel of us. St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The jeste to express the hope that General Pershing's reply was a polite "Same

The Peculiar Nut.

of his head.

troops when the former in surrendering call them Kamerads.

New York Herald: "Press on!" he said, lowering his voice. "I have a mania for swearing. I write 'cuss words' all around: It's great sport. Why, they have to hire a man institute to feste to swearing.

"I met your friend Spongely this ing it."-Boston Transcript.

Quits the Hyphenated Sheet.

ously supports and defends its in-

One of the oddities of the price-fix-the main building an elaborate bronze tablet as a tribute to their associates, 219 in number, who have joined the might have served, in view of all that has honor those who do us honor. In this attendant bad breath. metal we inscribe our humble expres-

"We utilize everything in our business, yer. I asked him if the old skinflint who was his client left anything behind him, stable who was chasing you for speeding?"

"Oh, we managed to throw dust in his eyes."—Baltimore American.

"All right,"
"For a Don't Worry Club."
"Eh?" "A Don't Worry Club. Our members illow nothing to worry them."
"In that case the rent will be in advance."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

