Arnold Luschen, Creighton college pitching protege; Fedor, catcher from the St. Louis Browns, and Phil Cooney are the athletes dismissed. Luschen was given his unconditional release. He is free to sign wherever he can find a place. Fedor goes back to the Browns. And Cooney was sent to St. Joseph.

Fedor, Jackson found, was too small. The Browns sent him to Omaha labeled as a coming Schalk but Jackson refuses to believe, it The canning of Cooney was merely a matter of form. Phil climbed aboard his high horse early this spring and refused to report. He was going to quit base ball, he said. This gave Jackson no worries, as he did no need Cooney anyway.
