Clubwomen Give Musical Program on Southbound Train

We have all read tales of snow-bound trains and of the little stunts that the passengers concoct to while away the long hours, but it is a little unusual to have regular "second motion" club meetings on the train.

Nebraska clubwomen, 25 strong, with the state president, Mrs. A. E.

Sheldon of Lincoln, went to the General Federation of Women's Clubs' convention at Hot Springs, Ark. Sunday of the train. Everyone knows that the sight of flying farm lands, dotted here and there with a red barn and a cow or two, becomes monotonous after a time and even magazine reading and knitting palls. But, did our ingenious Nebraska women spend the day idly? Not they. They promptly invited all the women on the train who were going to the meeting into their private car.

Their guests were surprised and delighted to find that a most enjoyable Sunday had been planned for them. Community singing was led by a quartet of Nebraska women and we wonder what the citizens lounging about the railroad stations along the way thought when the strains of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" came floating out of the car windows.

Short addresses and words of greeting were given, also some interesting readings. Probably the most attractive number on this impromptu program was an intimate little talk given by Miss E. Kobe, a Red Cross nurse who was on leave of absence from Camp Pike, Arkansas. This little woman of mercy with the Red Cross on her sleeve told of her experiences at the camp and sketched briefly the glorious work these heroic women are doing in France.

In the "audience" in the private car were officers of women's clubs all over the country, including state presidents and delegates from Idaho, Washington, Oregon, West Virginia, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska.

Mrs. F. H. Cole, Mrs. A. L. Ferrald, Miss Katherine Worley, Mrs. C. L. Hempel and Mrs. M. D. Cameron were among the Omaha women on the clubwomen's special.

Knitting Instead of Bridge.

A number of young matrons have organized an informal little club, called the Tuesday Luncheon club. In the good old days bridge might have occupied the afternoon, but now, when every moment counts, numbers of gray and khaki sweaters are pulled out of as many gay cretonne knitting bags and several rows are added to each garment before the guests go home. Mrs. C. J. Hubbard entertained at luncheon for the club today at her home. The flags of the allies fluttered from the center of the table and the guests of the club were Mrs. Will Sherman and Mrs. William Fraser.

Gates-Morgan Wedding.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon Monday by Judge Bryce Crawford, when Miss Effie Morgan became the bride of Mr. Charles O. Gates. Both young people live in Waterloo, Neb.

The bride was very becomingly dressed in a white satin empire gown, and she wore a large corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mr. A. D. Compton acted as best man. The bride was unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates left last evening on their wedding trip through California. They will be at home after June 1 on their farm, south of Waterloo.

Wedding Announced.

A quiet wedding took place Monday evening at the home of Dr. Titus Lowe, when Miss Cynthia E. Mowery and Carl A. Gustafson were married, Rev. Mr. Lowe performing the ceremony.

The young couple will make their home in the California apartments in this city.

Miss Violet L. Holland and Mr. George G. Pray were quietly married Monday evening at the home of Rev. Frank B. Foster, the officiating clergyman.

Mr. and Mrs. Pray have gone on

Lace and Orchid Taffeta

A MERE man won't care whether his dinner is meatless or wheatless if his vis-a-vis is as charmingly clad as the girl in this war gown of lace and orchid taffeta. Pink georgette crepe of very thin weave is drawn around the bust line and appears in front just above the silver ribbon which outlines the pointed girdle. Filmy shadow lace makes the lovely kimono sleeves and bodice, while the soft orchid taffeta falls in a graceful line from waist to silken ankle. Silver slippers and orchid stockings complete a very fascinating frock. What did they have for dinner? Well, really, he didn't know!

a short eastern trip, but will make their home in Omaha.

On the Calendar. Mrs. C. H. Savidge will entertain the St. James' Orphanage Sewing club at her home, 3801 North Twenty-fourth street, Thursday afternoon.

Personals

Miss Laura Zimmerman is now in Washington, D. C., where she is employed by the government.

Lieutenant Abe Greenberg of the Nebraska base hospital left Monday evening for the east. The hospital unit is scheduled to leave for France in about a month.

Miss May Morris of New York City is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Witts. Miss Morris is a member of the motor division of the National League for Woman's Service in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kopald, who have lived in Omaha 33 years, left Monday evening to make their home in Buffalo, N. Y., where they will join their children, Mrs. Max Lowenthal, Mrs. Richard Desbecker and Rabbi Louis J. Kopald.

The housemaids and cooks of Win-nipeg have organized a union with a view to securing a shorter work day.

Liberty Bond Prize Contest

Wednesday, May 1, is the close of the Liberty loan contest for Nebraska school children. All letters which were not printed for lack of space will be turned over to the contest committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Announcement of winners of prizes amounting to $100, offered by T. C. Byrne, Nebraska Liberty loan chairman, will be made in The Bee as soon as the contest committee makes its decision, which will be within two weeks. Winners of the five additional prizes offered by The Bee will be announced at the same time.

Fourteen pupils of the Fifth grade at St. John's school have entered the Liberty loan contest. Because of lack of space, The Bee is unable to print these letters, but will turn them over to the contest committee.

Among the patriotic paragraphs were: Herbert Girnatis, Katherine Noonan, Alice McGlumphy, Helmer Girnatis, Myrtis Roach, Mary McGovern, Paul Martin, Helen Dee, Mary Gibson, Florence Mooney, Mary Stowe, Katherine Foley, William Gillen and Lawrence Hindelang.

Receipt of paragraphs from the following is acknowledged: From Omaha, Emma Elizabeth Smirl, Albert Honack, Eleanor Connell, Milton Abrams, Margaret Showell, Albina Ryba, Catherine Jones, Rose Stephens, Samuel Jones, Joseph Murphy, Vivian Tizard and Urban Simon; from Fremont, Edward and Lorin A. Thompson; from Shelby, Elaine McBeth, and from Cozad, Torvald German.

The Vital Question.

By Noreen McCoy, Aged 12 Years, Papillion Public School, Sixth Grade, Miss Amy Lewis Teacher.

The vital question of today is democracy or autocracy. Which shall it be? The buying of Liberty bonds rests on each true American. Will you do your part and have freedom or will you keep your money and boost autocracy? Don't be compelled—buy one now.

Bargain Day.

By Paul McCoy, Aged 10 Years, Papillion Public School, Miss Mecla, Teacher.

Buy Liberty bonds for the future freedom and safety of our nation, thereby giving the same to other nations as well. If you will make the same grand rush for Liberty bonds that the women make for bargain at bargain counters, the same will have to be as much as mention Liberty bonds.

Bonds for the Free?

By Herbert Struthers, Aged 13 Years, Fourth Grade, St. Paul School, Miss Beatrice Rodman, Teacher.

Bonds for the free! Yes, bonds for you and me—Liberty bonds, that's all. Buy them. Buy them that we buy with a will. No Kultur for me. In this land of the brave and the free. For we are going to help Bill. With soldiers and bullets and bonds.

Back of It All.

By Howard L. Pennington, Grade Three, Besmer, Neb.

We should buy Liberty bonds to tick that Kaiser and we must hurry. Uncle Sam needs your money right away so he can get our boys over there as fast as possible. Dollar spent in Liberty bonds is just as much ammunition against the Kaiser and foot of the boys who are fighting for right. It is the best investment in the world, too. Uncle Sam is back of it all.

Enlighten World.

By John Read, Aged 13 Years, Columbian School, Seventh B, Miss Bracken, Teacher.

Buy Liberty bonds, Americans, to snatch away the germ of World War. Then your golden eagles will pounce upon the enemy and enlighten the world with democratic justice, and peace.

Furnish War Sinews.

By Elizabeth Read, Aged 17 Years, Central High School, Miss Penelope Smith, Teacher.

Unless you fight, furnish the sinews of war. Buy Liberty bonds that our fighting men may have mackintosh from the junkies, their kaiser, and wanton wars.

Moment of Service.

By Virginia B. Garland, Aged 13 Years, Windsor School, Sixth A, Miss West.

This is a moment of supremest service to country, humanity and civilization; the individual service giving collectively as the nation's strength in the democracy war. The government as a administrative; the army as the fighting force are helpless if the people don't buy bonds of the third Liberty loan to finance the war.

Won't You Help?

By Eileen Olson, Aged 11 Years, Hermit School, Seventh Grade; Herman, Neb.

Think of our boys "over there" who are willing to die for their country. Then can you still be selfish? Won't you help Liberty buy? ring again? This appeal is made to loyal Americans. Just loan your money; you don't need to give down with the "Beat of Berlin!"

Come Across!

By Irene Greer, Aged 11 Years, Junemann School, Sixth B; Miss Hickey, Teacher.

Everybody should buy a Liberty bond. Buy a Liberty bond and we won't have to be Germany's slaves. The third Liberty loan for the boys who are fighting the war. If you can't go across, come across by a Liberty bond today.

Why We Should Buy Liberty Bonds.

By Faith Hume, Aged 13 Years, Thurman School, Ia.

Our government makes it so we can be free and protect us from inside and outside enemies. It is now in danger. Our brothers are offering their lives to preserve it and secure peace for us. Let's help them. Buy a Liberty bond.

Take Care of Canned Foods

It is good conservation, and also good business, to provide dry-storage space for canned goods in retail and wholesale grocery stores. Moisture will rust and ruin tin goods, producing pin holes in the cans, leading to the entry of air and germs. Even if cans are not perforated and contents spoiled, they will be discolored and the labels rusted when stored in premises allowed to become either too warm or too moist.

Every family that curtails consumption of wheat and meat is keeping a soldier in France.

Wait for Him.

Miss Fairfax, Kind Friend, Omaha Bee: I am writing you for a little advice. I have been keeping company with a young man for two years and he thinks very much of me. He tells me I am the only one for him, but still he isn't able to make a home for me, as he isn't in position right now, but do you think it is a wise thing to spend any more time with him, although I think more of him than any young man I have gone with. Yours for advice, L. L.

If you loved the young man you would be willing to wait for him any length of time.

Advice to Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Wait for an Answer.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Having seen many of your answers to letters in The Bee I would like to ask you a question. I am a girl 20 years of age. Sometime ago I was introduced to a young man who lives in another city about the size of Omaha. Not long ago I received a very nice letter from him which I answered and have been carrying on a correspondence. In his last letter he asked me for a date if he ever happened in our city again, but I have not heard from him for about three weeks. Miss Fairfax, I want to ask you if you think this young man has "gone back on me" as he has not written for three weeks or in a letter three weeks apart often enough to write, not having seen him but once? In our letters we wrote little, as we have not been acquainted very long. He is a respectable young man and I would like very much to know why he has stopped writing to me. Respectfully, IOWA GIRL.

Wait for the young man to answer your letter. If he cares to continue the correspondence he will do so, you may be sure. As you know him so slightly it is not surprising that he has not written.

Twin Sisters' Dilemma.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are twin sisters and are very self-conscious when out, and we would appreciate very much if you would answer these questions for us, but please do not print the letter. What would be proper to order after the theater at the "Hushaw"? We go with two young fellows who always want us to go, but we hate to, as we are afraid we will make a mistake. Also how are table d'hote or a la carte pronounced with a short "a" in "table" and then "dote." A table d'hote dinner is a course dinner just as you would serve in your own home, with the exception that you can often select the meat course. When one orders "a la carte" it means ordering special dishes on the menu. It is pronounced a la cart, just as it is spelled. Many of the smaller studios take tiny stamp size pictures, but I know of no place where snap shots are taken.

You could order chicken a la king, chicken salad, a sandwich or an ice any of these things are nice after the theater. Table d'hote is pronounced with a short "a" in "table" and then "dote." Class Name.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am teacher of the young men's class of our Sunday school. We have just recently organized and we can't decide on a name. They don't want any common name, they say. And I told them I would see what I could find in the way of something new. We would be very grateful to you if you could suggest something suitable for a class of 10 boys.

In getting a wash suit of tan palm beach should I get it now or later? Are they worn so early? Or should I wait until later? I am 16. MARGARET.

The King's Sons, The Loyal Workers, are two names that I can suggest, even The Patriots or the Young Americans might do. I would wait until later to buy a palm beach suit, for it is a little hard to tell just what they will wear so early.

Too Shy.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am very fond of a young man of about 23, but he is decidedly shy and modest. I know he thinks a great deal of me also, but is too shy to show his affection.

He has an unpleasant habit of blushing every time he sees me looking at him. Is this an embarrassment, or what is it? He is a very nice dresser and well liked by all the girls at school. (He is a teacher). What am I to do to make him show his affection? I am just 16. Am I taking this too seriously? TROUBLED.

Yes, you are taking the whole matter too seriously. The young man is evidently bashful. Sixteen is too young to be thinking of love affairs, and I would certainly not let this young man know that I was interested in him.

Wait for an Answer.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I wrote you and asked you a question sometime ago which I wished to have you answer in The Bee, but after looking The Omaha Bee over every day I have seen nothing of it, but thinking that it has probably been lost in the mail, I am taking the liberty of writing you again.

I am a girl 20 years of age, and I was introduced to a young man sometime ago who lives in a city about the size of Omaha. About two months after I had met him I was very much surprised to receive a very nice letter from him in which he wished to have me answer, which I did. He wrote me again and asked me for a date the next time he was in our city, which I consented to. I have not heard from him since. He is known to be a respectable young man.

Another young man who is a friend of the fellow I am speaking of seems jealous because I receive letters from him, and whenever the fellow from the other city writes me he always says, "if (the fellow from my town) doesn't care."

Miss Fairfax, please tell me in The Bee why he doesn't write, as in his letters he seemed to think very much of me. Prob-

Zone Postage Bill In Disfavor With Omaha Clubwomen

Protest against the passage of the zone postage bill, now before congress, was voiced by members of the Omaha Woman's club at the final meeting of the club year held Monday in Metropolitan hall. The Nebraska delegation in congress will be petitioned to work against the bill.

"Magazines mean much in the education of not only the people in the rural districts, but to parents who have provided their children with the best material to read, in order to make the home the place for the entertainment of the child," said a member of the club in urging the women to take action upon the matter.

"Our people are kept in touch with the affairs of the world and it is not right to deprive them of the best reading material," she said. Possibilities for erecting a clubhouse were discussed, but no action taken.

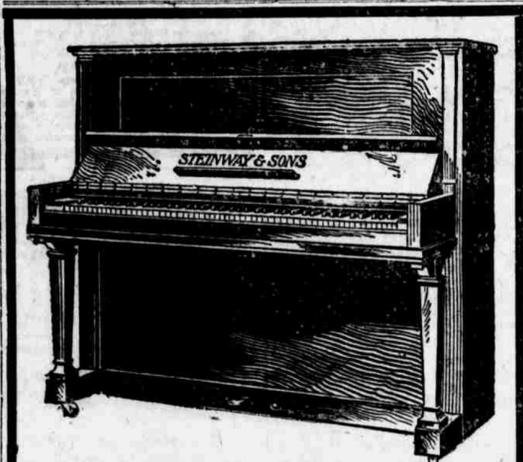

Delegates to the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs' convention, which will be held in Fairbury next fall, were elected. The delegates are: Mesdames Harriet MacMurphy, John Haarman, Charles Sherwood, D. M. McGahay, L. M. Lord, Charles Hempel, F. A. Howard, E. E. Crane and John W. Gill.

Mrs. F. B. Bryant was elected chairman of the house and home committee.

At Prettiest Mile Club.

Mrs. A. K. Detweiler and Mrs. C. H. Newell entertained the Doctor's Wives club at luncheon at the Prettiest Mile club today. The club members are doing a great deal of knitting for the Red Cross. They meet every two weeks and have luncheon together, spending the afternoon with their knitting needles. Mrs. Charles Shook was a special guest of the club today and covers were laid for 19.

Miss Mary Douthwaite, who eight years ago entered the employ of one of the greatest woolen manufacturing concerns of England as a stenographer, has now been elected a director of the firm.

Three Ways

The three ways of restoring nature's lost teeth are—

First—Bridge work fastened to the few remaining teeth which must carry all the strain of the newly supplied teeth.

Second—The old time plate which is carried entirely by suction in the upper plate and by weight only, in the lower plate. This method never gives the wearer that confidence of firmness and stability so greatly desired, but always lacking in the ordinary plates.

Third—COMBINATION DENTURE: This method has eliminated the poor features of bridge and plate work and has combined the best features of both, relieving strain on the few remaining teeth and restoring the firmness and stability of your own natural teeth.

The X-Ray diagnosis is as necessary in the dental office as in the hospital. You do not want dental work put on teeth that are bad at the roots resulting in total loss eventually. Good root foundation assures lasting dental work.

All dental work in this office is done under X-Ray observation.
