ARMY TRAINING FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Summer Camps to Be Established at Lake Geneva to Give Instructions in Warfare.

Herbert J. Connell is chairman of a committee for Omaha, appointed to receive applications for a military training camp for boys at Lake Geneva, Wis., this summer. He, with Lawrence Brinker and Wallace Lyman, will deliver addresses next week in local schools explaining the nature of the camps and the opportunities afforded to enjoy a vacation and at the same time receive junior training similar to that for men in the larger camps.

Boys from 15 to 19 years of age will be received. Trench warfare, trench digging, bayonet practice, scouting, skirmish, fighting, bomb throwing. No Man's land charges, and all the picturesque and exciting methods of modern warfare will be studied by the boys at the camp. Captain F. L. Beals of the United States Army will be the instructor-in-chief. Four camps of two weeks each will be conducted beginning June 17, which will give a chance to 1,200 boys in all.

Each city and district may send a certain quota of boys to the camp. Complete information may be obtained from Herbert Connell, 307 Merchants National Bank building.

A preliminary two weeks camp, June 3 to 17, will be given for the benefit of public school teachers and physical instructors.

Julius Helling Bound Over To the Federal Grand Jury

Julius Helling, 3117 Ohio street, was bound over to the grand jury at a hearing before United States Commissioner Neely Friday morning, on $5,000 bonds, which he was able to furnish. Helling is an enemy alien and is charged with violation of the espionage act. He is 58 years old, was born in Germany and came to America when he was 23 years old. He has taken out his first citizenship papers.

For the last eight years he has been employed as elevator man at the Byrne & Hammer Dry Goods company.

Young men, who are employees of the company, testified that Helling said that American soldiers salute like cows and that the American people are idiots.

The defendant said that the young men had pestered him, because he is German-born. He says he is intensely pro-American. A young daughter, Elsie, was present at her father's hearing and testified.

"I never heard papa say anything against the Americans; why should he when he has a son, who probably will go into service?"

Helling said that he earns $55 a month and supports his family, consisting of a wife, son and a daughter.

Publicity Department of Red Cross Drive Organized

The publicity department for the Red Cross drive, which will be started next week, when the county chairmen of all the counties of the state meet in Omaha, has been organized. A. D. Peters is chairman and R. J. Sutton is in charge of the office at headquarters in the Keeline building, Seventeenth and Harney streets.

The first meeting of the entire committee will be held at the Blackstone hotel at 6:15 o'clock Saturday night. J. T. Stewart, 24; H. A. Tukey, C. J. Lord and Mr. Peters have been appointed members of the special executive committee of the publicity work, with the following list co-operating: George D. Adams, Joseph Pollock, Frank Bullis, Victor Rosewater, Fred Carey, W. A. Schell, J. Harrington, Charles Smith, H. Desnoes, Charles J. Sykes, Charles Docherty, H. M. Thomas, A. L. Green, W. R. Watson, J. B. Henderson, E. H. Wilson, Harry Holdrege, James Williamson, Harry Johnson, I. B. Zimman, Daniel Longwell, Charles Thomas, H. E. Milliken.

University Professor Urges Community Gardening in City

Community gardening as a means of promoting "war gardening" in Omaha is a plan urged by Prof. G. W. Hood, head of the truck farming department, University of Nebraska, who is giving a series of lectures at the Burgess-Nash company store this week.

Prof. Hood estimates that more than 2,000 acres are available for the war gardens of Omaha. Cultivation of an acreage of this size offers enormous possibilities, he declares.

"Surveys two years ago show that an acre in lettuce, beets and radishes brought $1,600," he said. "Two thousand acres cultivated as gardens would bring in hundreds of thousands of dollars and would gain a twofold objective—reduce the high cost of living and serve to relieve the food shortage."

Prof. Hood spoke at the Burgess-Nash store Friday afternoon and he will speak again Saturday afternoon.

Bid Farewell to Edwin Puls At Speaking Club Banquet

The Public Speaking club of the Young Men's Christian association held its second annual banquet Thursday night. The affair was also a farewell party for Edwin Puls, who leaves soon for "Y" work in France.

John W. Welch was toastmaster. He presented the following speakers: Dr. W. W. Ward, Ernest Buffett, Mrs. Joseph Lawrence, oratory department of the Omaha Woman's club, E. E. McMillan, and C. J. Shaw. W. Phillips presented Mr. Puls with a wrist watch, a present from the bankers' class. R. M. Harris presented Mr. Puls with a leather soldier kit, a gift from the "Y" classes.

Laborers Flock to Nebraska Beet Fields on Special Cars

Annual influx of laborers into the beet fields has started. From Lincoln the Great Western has operated a special train to Mason City, carrying 250 men, women and children.

Northwestern and Burlington special trains into the beet fields in the vicinity of Scottsbluff and Bayard, carry 500 persons. Most of them go from around Hastings and McCook.

MYSTERIOUS MAN 'INSPECTS' OMAHA WHOLESALE FIRM

Uniformed Individual Who Says He Represents British Army Makes Tour of Byrne & Hammer Plant.

A Dr. T. H. Beck, who said he was inspector of sanitation and wastes of the British army, called at the Byrne & Hammer Dry Goods company Thursday afternoon and asked to be allowed to inspect the building. President T. C. Byrne sent him through the establishment with a guide.

He gave the Red Cross headquarters as reference. They were asked about him, but said they knew no such person.

The man wore the uniform of an American officer, but wore no insignia of rank. He wore a metal trench hat and said he had seen active service in the trenches. One arm was bandaged close to his side. He said he was wounded in action.

Took No Notes.

He took no notes while he was inspecting the place, but explained that it is his duty to see how much stock is on hand and to prevent waste. His talk was disconnected and Mr. Byrne was puzzled over the visit and notified federal agents.

The federal authorities are inclined to believe the man is a trench veteran who is convalescing and whose mind has been slightly unbalanced by the horrors of war.

The case has been turned over to Captain J. J. Kingsbury, in charge of the military police, who has ordered his men to make an investigation.

UNION STATION AT COUNCIL BLUFFS MAY BE CHANGED

Backed by the Council Bluffs Commercial club, a move is under way across the river to make the old Union Pacific transfer depot a union station in the event occupancy of the uptown passenger depot are abandoned for the period of the war.

The Commercial club has presented the proposition to the Omaha terminals committee. It is proposed to have all trains arrive and depart from the transfer station. It is said the transfer depot has ample trackage and the building is large enough to accommodate all traffic.

To modernize the structure would cost about $20,000. The Commercial club would endeavor to raise the necessary funds.

Council Bluffs business men look upon the plan as a good business policy in booming the south part of town.

When General Dodge died he bequeathed a tract of land in the vicinity of the transfer to be used as the site for a club house for railroad men. It is said that if the transfer depot should be converted into a union station this club house would be constructed and the grounds beautified.
