We admire William's spirit, but he is wasting energy. Protesting an um-pire's decision is about as fruitful of results as protesting the introduction of a knife into a two-handed quarrel after the knife has been introduced.

Twenty years in the major leagues and never saw a world's series! Larry Lajoie, the new manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association, is the guil-

"I came mighty close to playing in a world's series, once, and that is the closest I ever came to seeing one," Lajoie said. "In-1908. when I was managing the Cleve-land club, we lost the champion-ship by half a game. I almost saw a world's series then, but didn't.'

Asked if he didn't care to witness the sweepstakes of the base-ball season, Lajoie said that he was ready to go home and rest after the close of each season and for that reason passed up the "big show" every year.
