Woman Makes Two Attempts At Suicide in County Jail

Elsie Graham, who is in county jail on a federal complaint charging her with contempt of court for ignoring a summons to appear as a witness in federal court, attempted suicide this week. She tried to drown herself in the bath tub, and later she attempted to hang herself with a rope, made from parts of her clothing. Authorities have handcuffed her.

Man Shot in Back by Neighbor Awarded Damages of $500

Charles E. Miller was awarded a verdict for $500 damages against Thomas Trainor by a jury in district court Thursday. Miller was shot in the back by Trainor, who saw him near the bed room window of his home and thought he was a "Peeping Tom." Testimony showed that Miller, a neighbor, was fixing his cellar door.

Sugar for Canning Purposes Will Be Sold by Card System

Acting on the suggestion of the national food administration, G. W. Detroit "Munty" Market To Boost Potato Sales

Detroit, May 10.—In an effort to dispose of Michigan's 3,000,000-bushel surplus of potatoes before July 1 to prevent their waste, the Campus Martius, in the central part of the city, tomorrow will be transformed into a market place for the disposal of a carload of the vegetables.

County food administrators will be in charge of the sale, with prominent citizens acting as salesmen. Mayor Marx is expected to make the first purchase.

"Buy a bushel of potatoes" is the slogan Michigan has adopted, both to dispose of the overflow crop and to encourage growers to plant heavily for next year.

FOUR OMAHA MEN AMONG HEADS OF MOTOR HIGHWAY

P. A. Wells of Auto Club Elected President of George Washington Association; W. B. Cheek Secretary.

Four Omaha men were selected among the officers of the George Washington Highway association, which recently held its biennial convention in Savannah, Ga. This highway is destined to become one of the main highways for automobiles in the west and the government is spending a large amount of money on it through the Big Horn basin in Wyoming, making a good road through from Omaha to the Yellowstone National park.

The officers elected are: P. A. Wells, president, Omaha; W. B. Cheek, secretary, Omaha; Courtnew Thorpe, treasurer, Savannah, Ga.; Albert L. Schantz, assistant treasurer, Omaha, and P. H. Deamont, vice president for Nebraska, Omaha.

Mr. Wells' election was unanimous, no other nomination being presented. Mr. Cheek attended the convention as the representative of the Omaha Automobile club, of which he is president, and of the Chamber of Commerce.

Money in Treasury

During the last two years the highway has raised sufficient funds to operate the highway, and has $2,500 left in the national treasury and $11,000 in the various state treasuries.

The George Washington National Highway extends from Seattle, Wash., to Savannah, Ga., passing through the Yellowstone National park, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Memphis and Atlanta.

The highway passes near more cantonments, forts and arsenals than any other highway and crosses all other national highways. The roads through Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota have been designated for county, state and federal aid.

Lieut. Col. Hascall Says He Looks for Long, Hard War

"One must limit one's remarks, so I will simply tell you that I am ready for a long, hard war," writes Lieutenant Colonel William M. Hascall, attached to the general staff in France, to Nathan Bernstein, former faculty head of the Omaha High school cadets and professor of physics and chemistry at that institution.

Lieutenant Hascall was formerly stationed at Fort Omaha and was commandant of the High school cadets for three years.

Terminals Committee Nearly Finished With Rail Plans

The Omaha terminals committee has about completed its work in lining up the plans for the unification of the railroad freight offices at the Union Stock yards in South Omaha. The union office will be located in the brick building across the street from the Exchange building, with the consolidation effective about May 15.

The plans of the committee are to place Ted Grimes, now Burlington agent in South Omaha, in charge of the consolidated office.

ATTEMPT TO SHOW STOECKER IS NOT MARRIED TO GIRL

Depositions Are Filed to Prove Relatives Did Not Know of Alleged Common Law Wedlock

That Theresa Yilek Stoecker, who, in suit for divorce and $100,000 alimony, alleges she is the common law wife of William F. Stoecker, Omaha hotel man, former cigar manufacturer and hopeful, even though unsuccessful, politician, was not known among her own relatives as a married woman, is the substance of depositions filed in district court.

The depositions were made by relatives of Theresa Yilek Stoecker, who live in Lancaster, Wis.

John Elack, second cousin of Theresa Yilek Stoecker, testified in a deposition that the girl was known only by her maiden name in Lancaster and that he had no knowledge of her marriage. He alleged that she told him she was working in Omaha and earned $8 a week, even though she wore beautiful rings and jewelry.

Mrs. Katherine Elack also testified by deposition that she was unaware of Theresa's marriage to Stoecker. She also said that "Theresa was a perfect lady and well behaved."

Joe Elack, son of John Elack, testified that Stoecker had recently visited Lancaster and inquired about one Philip Herz, who, it is alleged, had come to Lancaster to see Mrs. Yilek Stoecker. According to Elack, Stoecker instructed him to testify at the hearing that he knew Stoecker intended to marry Theresa, Stoecker further instructed him, Elack alleged, to testify that Philip Herz knew the girl.

John Elack in his deposition also testified that Herz called upon Theresa, but that apparently the girl did not know him and was not pleased to see him. Herz departed immediately, Elack further deposed.

Mrs. Ray Lorenz deposed that Stoecker had been in Lancaster to see her about the case and had passed several days in town talking it over with her.
