CUT OUT EATING OF WHEAT AND HELP WIN WAR

Administrators Wattle Requests Ministers in Special Sermons to Urge Greater Food Conservation.

Ministers of Nebraska are to be requested to preach sermons, emphasizing the necessity for greater conservation of foodstuffs, especially wheat products.

In a letter to all county food administrators, Gurdon W. Wattle, federal food administrator for Nebraska, has urged that ministers be requested to preach such a sermon next Sunday.

The conservation message will not only be carried through the churches, but through fraternal organizations as well. Coupled with the sermons, will be requests that whenever possible families refrain from the use of wheat until next harvest.

Must Supply Demand. "The need for concerted action is imperative," says Mr. Wattle. "In view of the critical wheat situation and our obligations to the allies, we must supply the demand and there is only one way to do it—that through a voluntary saving."

"In most of the homes of Nebraska, it will be possible to entirely forego the use of wheat. Nebraska is a great agriculture state, producing substitutes in abundance. These substitutes are available at reasonable prices, so in this state, it will not be a great hardship to the people."

The request to families to eliminate wheat from their diet will be nationwide and when the final count is taken, Nebraska will be found in the front ranks, as it has in all matters pertaining to food conservation."

Omaha Stationery Co. Handles Everything for Modern Office

The old-fashioned bookkeeper was a type whose mental picture is treasured in the albums of memory by the middle-aged and whose counterpart is now only seen on the stage, when he produces the original mortgage or note in place of the one forged by the villain and helps the hero to reap virtue's reward.

The implements of his trade were a tall, ungainly desk, an uncomfortable high stool, green eyeshade, stub pen and grimy bottles of green and red ink.

One of Omaha's leading office supply stores, catering to the modern bookkeeper and clerk, is that of the Omaha Stationery company, 309 South Seventeenth street.
