ROURKES SIMPLY WERE IN NO FORM WALLOPED GOOD

Saints Put Bluejacket in Box and He's Boy Who Took Starch Out of Omaha, Six to One.

St. Joseph Mo., May 20.—Specielegram.)—Those Saints displayed ar different form of base ball th afternoon than that of the preceding and defeated the Rourkes, 6 to in the prettiest game of base ball see at League park this season, It was base ball of the sort to send a real fan into the realm of delight, for not an error was made by either team and play was snappy and filled with ginger in every inning.

McLaughlin ascended the mound of the Saints in the opening of the game and walked the first three men at bat. He threw his glove in disgust, realizing that his arm was going badly and Chief Blue Jacket, who had been signed the few minutes before the game only a few minutes before the game started, took the burden upon him-self and right well did he bear it, for only three hits were secured off his very, one of these of the decidedly ratch variety, and the Rourkes were amblike manner.

Bluejacket Makes Real Hit.

Bluejacket made a great hit with the fans on his first appearance and if he continues such work as that of yesterday he has not only won a permanent home here but has greatly strengthened the Hanlon team.

Kopp opposed the Saints and was lound with the greatest of any has found with the greatest of ease be-ing nicked for ten safe blows, many of which meant runs, and every one of he half dozen tallies secured by the

the half dozen tallies secured by the Saints was accounted an carned run in the official score.

Omaha played good ball in the field and pulled down some difficult chances, but could do nothing with such pitching as that Bluejacket was giving them. Never after the first inning did they have a chance to become dangerous and it was the Saints' game from the outset.

The Hanlon men disported them-

The Hanlon men disported them-elves about the diamond like major cague ball players and no better pame could have been seen at any ark nor in any league. It was base all of the highest possible type.

Manager Bill Jackson said after the ame that it was the first time this eason the Rourkes had been outayed at all points. Otto Nye, who day, worked out in batting practice the St. Joseph team.

The governing body of the publicity committee yesterday voted to give the ball club the necessary boost to assure its avistance for the Omada Dase Holke, 1b 4 1 9 0 0Gonzles, c Niehof, 2b 4 3 2 3 1 Betzel, 2b Rdrgz, 2b 0 0 0 0 0 0 Hornsby M'Carty, 0 4 1 7 1 0 Medows, Perritt, p 4 0 1 2 0 Larmor, and Andren, p 0 0 1 0 Medows, Shardell of the property of the public of to assure its existence for the current year by selling 20,000 tickets.

W. A. Rourke, president of the base ball club, attended the meeting. He explained the situation as it exists and showed that the league needs a helping hand.

Will Not Move.

"I am not here to threaten to take the ball club away from Omaha in the event the Chamber of Commerce does not follow this plan," said Rourke. "Omaha has been a good ball town. Omaha has been my home for 19 years. I am a citizen of Omaha. I like the town. And no matter what happens I will not move the club to Peoria or any other city. If the worst comes to the worst I will simply close up.

"The Omaha base ball club has lost $5,000 since the season opened. Possibly it can stand a loss of another $5,000, but if it does it means the end. I couldn't afford to lose any

"We did not anticipate a big year, but we did not anticipate a year as bad as this has proved to be. The sale of 20,000 tickets will provide $10,000, one-third of what it costs me to operate. I will take a chance on the other $20,000 willingly."

Sell Coupon Books. Coupon books, which will contain 20 tickets have been ordered and they will be sold by members of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce also voted to hold a Booster day-or, perhaps, it would be better to say Booster night-Friday. It will be the last game of the four-game Hutchinson series which opens today. The Chamber of Commerce will urge all its members, all the business men and all the fans in Omaha to turn out Friday for the Booster day event to show Rourke that Omaha is with him

Orpheum—Monday evening was the last society night of the Orpheum season. Handcome gowns and attractive girls in the headline attraction, "Vanity Fair of 1918," were particularly well calculated to make a pleasing impression upon a fashionable audience. This stellar event is a musical comedy featuring Jack Trainor as the chief fun-maker and Olga de Baugh as the prima donna. Vinie Daly, the international star, who presents an attractive repertory of songs, was another element of the bill to score a favorable impression. Then there was the hilarious comedy, "The Corner Store," to augment to amusing qualities of this, the final bill of the big time vaude-ville season.
