M'COLLOCH SAYS NEW YORK LACKS OMAHA'S "PEP"

Editor of Journal-Stockman. However, Is Impressed by Big Parade, Conductorettes and Other Signs of War.

Bruce McCulloch editor of the Journal-Stockman, with Mrs. McCulloch, is spending a vacation in New York, Washington and other eastern cities.

"One of the reminders of the fact that the country is at war is the presence of 'conductorettes' on the street cars, mostly on the surface lines. They wear appropriate uniforms and are reported to be giving very satisfactory service. Their very weakness is their strength, as crowds having any inclination to be unruly have a certain amount of respect for the sex that proves a protection.

"One cannot escape observing the big movement of American troops to Europe. Soldiers are in evidence everywhere, and when you talk to them you find they are ready to go over. They are elated at the prospect of service abroad. There is no hurry, no confusion anywhere on the waterfront, but ferry boats in the harbor, loaded to the guards with khaki-clad troops are common sights, and every now and then big camouflaged transports are seen majestically slipping down the bay, their rails bristling with soldiers.

"We had an opportunity Saturday to compare the big New York parade with Omaha's recent big parade. Of course New York's showing of over 75,000 men and women, with the president of the United States at the head of the procession was a spectacle that dwarfed Omaha's effort, but it must be said that Omaha showed more pep and enthusiasm both in the parade and on the side lines. In New York, however, as in Omaha, no doubt could be left in the minds of any who saw the parade as to the deadly earnestness of the American people at this time."

SOUTH SIDE GOES OVER $26,000 IN RED CROSS DRIVE

South Side Red Cross committees are reporting splendid success in the big drive, and the quota of $26,000 has already been oversubscribed by several thousand dollars, according to B. E. Wilcox, in charge of eight districts in the business section.

Armour & Co. reported approximately $4,000 from employees Wednesday noon, with several departments yet to be heard from. The firm's contribution will be announced later. The Swift & Co. firm subscribed $7,000, and $4,000 more was reported from employees, with the canvass still incomplete.

Superintendent Lyle Hersey of Morris & Co., announced the firm's contribution as $2,500, and that a 100 per cent subscription from employees is expected, approximating $4,000.

Figures were not available at the Cudahy plant, but splendid success was reported by the committee of young women who are making the rounds of the various departments.

In the Stock exchange lobby Wednesday noon a spring lamb brought in with a load of live stock from Mitchell, Neb., was sold at a "dutch auction" and brought $206, half of the amount going to the South Side Red Cross fund and half to the Mitchell chapter. A number of box seats at the new Rialto theater were sold to stock men as a Red Cross benefit, bringing in several hundred dollars.

Chicago Labor Leader Says Packers Violate Pact

AT THE THEATERS

Margaret Anglin at the Brandeis Tonight.

A number of inquiries have been made at the box office of the Brandeis theater as to the meaning of the word "Billeted," the title of Margaret Anglin's comedy in which she will appear there three nights and Saturday matinee, commencing tonight. For the benefit of inquiring minds and the general public, it may be stated that the word "Billeted" is defined in the Standard dictionary as "a term applied to soldiers or military men quartered or lodged in a private household."

When Miss Anglin first produced the play last season it was called "Lonely Soldiers," but when she began her tour to employ the original English name, "Billeted," under which title the comedy ran for over a year at the Royalty theater, London. Miss Anglin played the comedy for three months in New York and six weeks in Chicago, where she might have remained indefinitely. This is one of the few cities to be played by Miss Anglin en route from Chicago to San Francisco.

Promises of the Press Agents. Orpheum—Vivian Martin, who has a record with the Royal opera, Buchanan, Boumala, and Hammerstein's London opera house, is singing herself into the good graces of Orpheumites, this closing week of the season at this popular theater. As a special feature, also as a special feature, Miss Daily is singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" in the evening performance. Off the stage Miss Daily is Mrs. Kohl. Her husband is now with the colors. When his turn comes to sing for the theater of war she expects to arrange a way to get over there also. She will enlist with the big contingent of vaudeville players who are going to Europe to entertain the boys in the trenches.

Empress—A Domestic Camouflage, a comedy playlet of home life presented by Arthur De Voe and company, is to head the new bill at the Empress, starting today. Great Kohan and company, Japanese artists, promise a combination novelty embracing foot juggling, contortion, electric fire spinning, etc. The Extra Act, and Eddie Winthrop in a comedy novelty talking surprises, complete the vaudeville end of the program.

In the Silent Drama. Boyd—In "The Warrior," Maiste, the giant hero, fairly outdoes himself, and in fact, the story of a slacker who finally musters up the courage to go to war. The athletic ability and gymnastics. Conferred in what seem to be impossible conditions, he leaps from danger, escapes from capture, and escapes unharmfully to carry on the fight and his adventures. The play is exceptionally well directed and the scenes put on at no small expense to produce effects that are rarely seen even in these days of expensive productions.

Fun—William S. Hart appears for the last time here in his great Indian play, "The Dawnmaker." In place of the quick man of action in his characters of the western cowboy, Hart has become in this picture a silent idealist, who finally becomes a martyr to his faith in the white man and perishes in the snows of the Canadian wilderness. Through his sacrifice he saves the lives of the white girl he loves and her lover, Smithson. Friday and Saturday, Mary Miles Minter, in "Social Brains," will be shown at the Sun.

Strand—The strange workings of a woman's mind cause the big climax in the Artcraft picture, "Bliss Haverdine," the Thomas H. Ince production starring William S. Hart, which is now being shown at this theater for final showings today. A Mack Bennett comedy and Strand-Pathé News complete the bill. Friday and Saturday comes Wallace Reid.

Muse—William Farnum will be seen for the last time today in "The Heart of a Lion," taken from Ralph Connor's novel "The Doctor." Friday and Saturday Peggy Hyland will be shown in "Fog of the Pirates" and the "Eagle's Eye, the Kaiser's Death Message," will be on the bill.

Empress—Charlie Chaplin is going to be the Empress theater photoplay program for the last half of the week, in "The Jazz Singer." It contains all of his original stunts and is filled with extremely funny situations. "Social Hypocrites," a society drama in which May Allison returns to Metro as an individual star in her own right, will be shown on the bill for the last three days of this week. She is surrounded by such notable people as Marie Wainwright, Henry Kolker, Joseph Kilgour, Stella Hammerstein and other stars.

Auditorium—Sergeant Guy Empey continues to pull the crowds in "Over the Top." Contrary to the greater number of war pictures which have been produced this and last year, "Over the Top," in addition to showing just how war is conducted in and out of the trenches, also has a well defined plot and love story running through it. The play holds interest all through and the features of the wonderful reproductions of war scenes make a screen story of which the Vitagraph people may well be proud.

Hipp—Norma Talmadge in "Panthea" will be shown Thursday only here. In "Panthea" Miss Talmadge enacts the part of a girl who battles through social obstacles and problems in pursuit of real happiness in life. Well acted and with good support the play carries through a message that is put over in fine style.

Lithrop—Norma Talmadge will be presented at this theater today in "Ghosts of the Past," a select picture. It is promised that the star has a role that affords her an opportunity to rise to new dramatic heights and to play a role that will be appreciated by her many admirers. Friday and Saturday comes "Tarzan of the Apes."

Suburban—Vivian Martin will be the featured player at this theater today in the Paramount picture, "A Petticoat Plot." It is the story of a girl who was being raised and sent to college by three old sea masters, who were denying themselves that she might be a problem in the pursuit of real happiness in life. Well acted and with good support the play carries through a message that is put over in fine style.

Hamilton—Dustin Farnum will hold forth at this theater today in a William Fox production, "The Scarlet Pimpernel." The story is laid in France during the Reign of Terror and tells the efforts of a band of Englishmen to rescue the French noblemen who had been condemned to die. The play will be shown in "The Bride of Fear," a Paramount Afteract production.

Robill—Margarita Fisher in "Ann's Pinch," shows on Thursday, a comedy of girls boarding school, which is being staged with a pretty love story running through the play. On Friday is shown Dustin Farnum in his great northern play, "North of Fifty-three," a comedy drama of the pioneer trailbreakers of the north. On Saturday is shown "The Bride of Fear," a serial of Alice Joyce in "The Fettered Woman," leads the bill, with the fourteenth episode of "The Fighting Trail" as the closing number. This great serial closes with the fifteenth number.

Hippodrome—Herbert Rawlinson in the "Flash of Fate," tells the story of a crook who falls in love with a country girl and through her is led to reform, winning the laurels as a comedy. "The Silent Man," with William S. Hart, comes on Friday, a big strong western play, and on Saturday Alice Joyce in "The Fettered Woman," leads the bill, with the fourteenth episode of "The Fighting Trail" as the closing number. SPEEDER IS SHOT CROSSING BRIDGE

John Brunski Slightly Wounded While Riding Motorcycle and Charges Officer Cox With Firing.

John Brunski, 1214 South Thirtieth street, was shot in the hip while riding on a motorcycle driven by Andy Neilson, 2412 North Forty-fifth street. The shooting took place on the Douglas street bridge as the two men were returning from Council Bluffs.

Oliver Cox, motorcycle officer on the Council Bluffs police department, is alleged to have fired the shot that struck Brunski. Neilson admitted that he was traveling about 50 miles per hour at the time, according to police.

The two Omaha men had just paid the toll at the east end of the bridge, and as they neared the west toll house Brunski says he told Neilson he was shot. The machine stopped on the Nebraska side of the bridge and Omaha police were notified. Police surgeons attended Brunski, who was taken to the St. Joseph hospital. His injuries are not believed to be serious.

Chief of Police Jensen of Council Bluffs stated that no action had been taken by him and that he would await a report from Cox today before making any decision. It is questionable in which state the shooting occurred, and police in Omaha are reluctant to file criminal charges pending further investigation.

Lemon Juice Softens and Whitens Rough, Red Hands

Women can make a quarter pint of wonderful lemon beauty cream for few cents. Nothing so good!

To soften, smoothen, and whiten the face, neck, arms, and particularly the hands when chafed, red or rough, there is nothing better than lemon juice, but pure lemon juice is too highly acid and often irritating. A splendid lotion is prepared in a moment by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Be sure to strain the lemon juice through a cloth so no pulp gets into

Ed Getten Returns to Omaha From Arizona

Ed Getten, well known Omaha cigar man, has returned to Omaha from Wickenburg, Ariz., where he has been attending to his duties as secretary-treasurer of the Abe Lincoln Copper company, a mining firm controlled and owned by a number of Omaha business men. Getten reports that $40 a ton in copper and $10 a ton in silver is being taken from the ore now being mined. Both metals are being taken from the same ore. Getten says indications are that the percentage of metal per ton will run even higher when newly discovered veins are developed.

BEVERAGE STRIKE AFFECTS ONLY 100

Union Secretary Claims Injustice Done Workers in Report They Ask Minimum Wage of $25.

"There are not more than 100 persons affected by the beverage workers' strike," said F. B. Walden, secretary of the Beverage Workers' union, Wednesday night. "The report in one afternoon paper was particularly misleading for the union men, as it stated that a minimum of $25 was demanded by all classes affected by the strike. This is not true."

Secretary Walden, who is also on the publicity committee of the union, stated in all four plants not more than 100 were included in the strike orders. These include the engineers, firemen, cooperers, bottlers, truck drivers and inside beverage workers. "Many of the bottlers are receiving $17 a week, Walden said, "and they are asking an increase of $3 a week. The firemen, cooperers and engineers are asking a flat increase of $1 a day. They can get this wage in the packing houses, but by reason of the fact that many of them have been long employed in their present line of work, they prefer to 'stick by the ship.'"

"Other increases asked by the different classes of beverage workers are similar. There is no minimum of $25, nor a maximum of $32." A meeting of the strikers will be held this morning at 9 o'clock at Metz hall.

The bodies of four of their companions were recovered yesterday.

HANDS ALMOST USELESS SAYS MRS. CAMPBELL

Rheumatism and Other Troubles Begin to Disappear After Taking Tanlac—Gains 16 Pounds.

"There's no mistake about Tanlac being a real medicine, for nothing but a real medicine could do what it has for me," said Mrs. Hattie Campbell, who resides at 1808 Grace street, recently.

"Beginning with indigestion four years ago," continued Mrs. Campbell, "my troubles multiplied until they were many and my life became one of almost constant suffering. My stomach was in such a bad condition that everything I ate would sour and almost torture the very life out of me. The gas formed by my undigested food would press on my heart so hard at times I could hardly breathe and some days I thought I would surely smother to death. I suffered much from heartburn, nervous sick headaches and was so dizzy that I would almost fall every time I stepped over. I had rheumatism in both hands so bad that my fingers were all bent at the tips like claws and I came near losing the nails. At times there was a numbness in my hands resembling paralysis, which made them almost useless to me. My appetite was very poor. I fell off from one hundred and thirty pounds to ninety-four and no body will ever know how I suffered because I just can't fully describe it."

"I was in an awful fix and while I just tried everything, I got no relief until some of my friends and my sister, Mrs. Donahay, in South Omaha, got me to taking Tanlac. I never felt any particular relief right at first, but knowing my case was a stubborn one I stuck to Tanlac and while taking my second bottle I began to feel good results. My appetite came back, I got so I could eat and digest most anything I wanted and then I noticed my other troubles gradually leaving me. I have now gained sixteen pounds and have regained sixteen pounds of my lost weight since I began taking the last two. I am now able to eat anything I want and plenty of it without suffering from gas and indigestion, and most of my troubles have disappeared already. My hands and fingers have limbered up and the rheumatic pain is so nearly gone that I hardly notice it any more. I have no more headaches or dizzy spells and have improved so much that I hardly feel like the same person. So I have the best of reasons for praising Tanlac and I am glad to tell everybody about it."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, corner 16th and Dodge streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Harney streets; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; Northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets, and West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

HOW TO ACQUIRE HAIR BEAUTY

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist's a package of Canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Adv.

Saving Millions of Dollars For Motorists

THIS is the answer to insistent demand for "practical" tires. Over 2,000,000 Diamond Tires and Tubes are piling up "Better Than Average Mileage" for motorists of America.

Diamonds cost less than motorists usually pay for other tires.

Figuring lower initial cost and bigger mileage, we feel safe in estimating an average saving for motorists who use Diamonds between $2 and $5 per tire—

—Or a total saving between $4,000,000 and $10,000,000 on tire equipment that must be credited to Diamonds this year.

If, by using first quality materials and infinite care in making our tires, and by marketing them at a fair price, we can save such a sum for motorists of America, we cannot but feel that we are helping the nation in these strenuous times.

A Diamond Tube in a Diamond Casing saves still more money. Diamond Tubes are dependable protection for any casing.
