WOMEN IN WARTIME

Women Play Big Role in Enriching Red Cross War Coffers

Second Red Cross war fund drive hospital, now completed on the corner of the court house lawn, is being equipped as a miniature base hospital. It is to be an exact replica of the hospitals near the trenches.

Miss Mona Towle will be head nurse. She will be assisted by several of the younger girls, who will be stationed in the hospital to redeem pledges and take any cash for the Red Cross drive.

Following is the amount realized from the departments of the woman's division: Clubs, Mrs. C. W. Axtell chairman, $4,231.97; hospitals, Mrs. S. S. Caldwell chairman, $452.68; street vaudeville, Miss Gladys Peters chairman, $369.39; auxiliaries, Mrs. Lee Huff chairman, $3,264.13; Catholic churches, Mrs. Willard Hosford chairman, $14,528.23; Protestant churches, Mrs. W. J. Hynes chairman, $27,976.49; booths, Mrs. J. E. Davidson chairman, $22,110.99.

Mrs. Otto Wilson, chairman of the Red Cross auxiliary at Waterloo, Neb., brought $144.50 to Mrs. Lee Huff, in charge of subscriptions for the public shop.

"Rastus," a pet bulldog, has been doing his part to raise money for the Red Cross. He has been giving a daily program of the newest canine dance steps. Mrs. Bert Fowler is the stage manager.

A variety of musical numbers have been given for the benefit of travelers who are spending a few hours between trains. Often these tourists produced musical instruments, which they played to help out local talent. Mrs. E. A. Wells' whistling was a decided hit. Miss Annette Evans played a baby organ, assisted by a duet of violinists. Patriotic songs were given in chorus.

Trinity Lutheran church, on West Dodge, donated $744.50. The solicitors went sometimes seven and eight miles for subscriptions. They were the Misses Grete Glissmann, Margaret Pahl, Elsie Wenger, Marie Larsen, Agnes Fribery.

Dr. Callias Home From Defense Council Meet

Dr. Jennie Callias returned Friday from Washington, where she went to attend a meeting of the woman's committee, National Council of Defense, held there May 14 to 16. During her stay she received a wire from Governor Neville, asking her to go to Philadelphia as delegate to the peace conference, held there May 17 to 19. After leaving Philadelphia, Dr. Callias spent a few days in Toronto.

RED CROSS NOTES.

The Red Cross benefitted to the amount of $567.34 by the sale of flowers held on the downtown streets Friday by Italian girls who assisted Mrs. S. Salerno. Local florists donated the blossoms. The workers were: Mesdames P. Tobin, J. Saitta, A. Faro, J. Mounelli, F. Plenier, N. Ryan and J. Sgarlati; Misses Jo Lamenzano, E. Lamenzano, N. Longo, E. Pattavina, Saitta, H. Smith, M. Carvallo, F. Destifeno, D. Crisci, Sarah Grasso, Mary Garrotta, Sarah Miceli and A. Tedesio.

Canteen workers numbering 32, during the past week at the Red Cross canteen at Fort Omaha, have served 7,762 orders.

Trop train canteen workers have given cigarettes and fruit to 143 traveling American soldiers and 325 Belgians. During the past week 26,150 surgical dressings, 1,482 hospital garments and 2,000 gun wipes were completed by Red Cross workers.

Girls' School Fills Government Contract

A thousand olive-drab flannel shirts, made under a government contract and strictly in accordance with government requirements, were among the year's achievements of the Girls' Vocational High school of Minneapolis, a public school under the Board of Education of that city. But the school did much other war work, too.

"As a member of the Junior auxiliary of the Red Cross," states Elizabeth Fish, the school's principal, "we are doing the usual things undertaken by these auxiliaries—knitting, the making of refugee gowns, thrift stamp selling, Liberty loan work, etc. Our school is a vocational school, and wherever possible we are using Red Cross work in the teaching of sewing."

"In the power machine department, as an extension of the work we have undertaken and are doing, the cutting of garments (pajamas, bed shirts, convalescent robes, bed socks, etc.) for the northern division of the Red Cross. The work is under the division's control, and the division is paying for the cutting. In this same department, in addition to making many garments, we are filling a contract for tape and one for sterilizing bags."

New Chairman of Red Cross Auxiliaries

Mrs. Frank Carmichael

Mrs. Frank Carmichael has been appointed chairman of the auxiliaries for Omaha Red Cross chapter. She succeeds Mrs. C. T. Kountze, whose recent illness caused her to resign. The new chairman has earned much praise for her work in establishing the Public work shop, one of the most successful branches of local Red Cross activities. In the present drive the Public shop has brought $1,910.40 in subscriptions.

It was from the first group of Red Cross workers, the Daughters of the American Revolution, who established a work shop in the Army building almost as soon as war was declared, that Mrs. Carmichael first learned the how and why of surgical dressings. It will be her task now to meet with chairmen of all surgical dressings and hospital garments auxiliaries, to explain the work and establish new units.

Mrs. Frank I. Ellick, assistant chairman of the Public shop, has been named to fill Mrs. Carmichael's former post. Mrs. Kountze's plans are indefinite, but she will temporarily fill a place in the state Red Cross work. She plans to spend most of the summer at Lake Minnetonka, where she had a cottage last year.

Outfitting 1,000 Hospital Beds in Three Hours

Out of the ever-changing death struggle on the plains of Picardy, with its promise of victory, its specter of defeat, one thing stands forth unchangeable day by day—the duty of the Red Cross.

Behind the blood-stained battle line misery is again on the road. As in 1914, the refugees—old men, women and children—carry the helpless on shutters; the bird cage and the improvised cradle make their appearance on the muddy roads; the trains are loaded with the wounded. In Paris civilians lie crushed beneath the ruins caused by air raids and bombardment, while the railway stations are crowded with the fleeing refugees from northern France. It might be 1914 over again.

Only this time there is a difference. So far as military relief is concerned, the same efficiency is observable. A single illustration, indeed, can demonstrate the difference between 1914 and 1918, where the wounded soldier is concerned. In three hours, recently, all the splints, accessories, instruments and surgical dressings required for a hospital of 1,000 beds were assembled and dispatched from Paris.

To those of us who are left behind these facts have become vital. America is in the war at last—a hundred thousand strong.

Only genuine DeMiracle has a money-back guarantee in each package. At toilet counters in 50c, $1 and $2 sizes, or by mail from us in plain wrapper on receipt of price.

RED CROSS week in Washington was quite the most active one yet among the women of the District of Columbia, whether they be permanent residents or only here for the war period. The week really opened last Saturday with the mammoth parade of Red Cross workers, a veritable sea of blue veils and white suits, so far as the women were concerned, and various divisions, led by the most prominent official and other society women. Mrs. McAdoo, daughter of the president and wife of the secretary of the treasury, marched at the head of her organization, as Mrs. Lansing, wife of the secretary of the State department workers, the first one of the cabinet sections to be organized. Mrs. Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, marched proudly at the head of navy women, and Mrs. Bennett, wife of the major general commandant of the marine corps, headed the women of the marine barracks section. The medical branch of the army emergency committee, with Mrs. William C. Gorgas, wife of the surgeon general, at its head, was one of the most interesting divisions of the mammoth parade, which was the most picturesque one Washington has seen in many years.

Wounded Soldiers.

An army ambulance with six wounded convalescing was a feature of it. In the wagon was one soldier who has lost both legs in France, and another who has lost an eye and a part of the face. They are among the large detachment of wounded men in the Walter Reed military hospital in Washington. They had in the ambulance with them their bull terrier, who has also seen service in the trenches, and was actually rescued with them and brought over. He was once slightly wounded. About his neck in the parade, he had a tin cup fastened to his collar, and during the course of the parade $21 was dropped into it. Following the ambulance was the ambulance corps of women with Mrs. Borden Harriman, its organizer, at the head. The women were particularly picturesque in their soft gray costumes of linen, close-fitting caps and long coats over bloomers, boots and puttees.

Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh has an interesting and distinguished circle of personal friends, including her intimate friend, Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, converting the good parts of men's old shirts into dresses of all sizes for children; both men's and women's stockings into pretty and useful sweaters and undershirts for little children, and old kid gloves into splendid linings for aviators' waistcoats. It is one of the most practical of all modern works

Golf Champion Gives Up Links for Red Cross

Mrs. Walter Silver

An example of untiring devotion to war relief work is to be seen in Mrs. Walter Silver, chairman of surgical dressings for Omaha Red Cross chapter. For months she has been guiding the work of this branch and keeping up with all the new patterns and quotas is no small task. Mrs. Silver has only been absent when in Chicago, where she has been to acquire more details of her work.

While every one who devotes hours daily to patriotic work sacrifices many pleasures, not every one gives up chances to win golf trophies and high score prizes, as does Mrs. Silver, whose busy days allow her no time for the links, where she formerly spent many a summer day.

and a good lesson for every housewife and mother to learn. Mrs. Walsh has turned her mansion into a real workshop with numerous electric sewing machines and knitting machines in her white and gold drawing room and her tapestried library. All the garments are turned over to the Red Cross for shipping to the most needy.

News of Nebraskans.

Mrs. William E. Andrews, wife of the former representative in congress from Hastings, Neb., has had as her guests for a short time Mrs. Ferguson, wife of Ensign Richard Ferguson of the aviation section, United States army, now an instructor in the aviation school in Boston. Ensign Ferguson's brother is a lieutenant in the army. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ferguson of Lincoln. Mrs. Richard Ferguson was formerly Miss Freda Smith of Emerald, Neb. She and her husband were both graduated from the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. W. H. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Haskell, all of Lincoln, are about to come east to make visits

A SHAMPOO WORTH HAVING

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of Cantrox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Advertisement.

Mr. George W. Close, No. 12 1/2 Nevada Bldg., Denver, Colo., writes: "I have all the faith in the world in your medicine, as it cured me of catarrh of the stomach. Three months after I first began using it I was a well man, and all the credit is due to Peruna. I recommend it to all who are in need of a medicine for catarrh."
