JERRY HOWARD, ON JOB, SQUELCHED BY MAYOR SMITH

Jerry Howard, always on the job, was squelched in his effort to address council meeting Tuesday. He had addressed a communication to that body asking that action be taken to abolish the postage charge of 3 cents to carry letters from Florence to Omaha. He criticized the Postal department and the congressional delegation from Nebraska and Douglas county in his communication.

Jerry contended that as Florence was a part of Omaha a letter mailed at Florence should be delivered to any part of the city at the 2-cent rate.

"He has no right to address the council in such language," said the mayor, "and he has no right at this time to criticize the government. We shall have a motto placed in this council chamber forbidding anyone to criticize the government in time of war."

Howard arose from his seat and attempted a reply.

"Sit down," was the mayor's peremptory order. "We do not want any expression from you, Jerry."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

Hairs Quickly Vanish After this Treatment

(Helps to Beauty) Science has aided in simplifying the banishing of hairy growth from the face and, according to a beauty specialist, the most effective treatment yet devised consists of applying a delatone paste to the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. When this paste is removed and the skin washed every trace of hair has vanished. Be sure to get real delatone.—Adv.

AT THE THEATERS

In the Silent Drama.

Strand—Charles Ray will hold forth at this theater starting today and continuing for the balance of the week in "The Family Skeleton," which promises to be one of his best photoplays. The story is a humorous account of the struggle of a young millionaire against an imaginary inherited habit, and the manner in which his charge girl sweetheart proves to him the habit can be overcome. A typical Strand comedy and the Strand Pathé News of current events completes the bill.

Sun—Douglas Fairbanks in "American Aristocracy" starts out as a big hunter only to fall in love with the daughter of a millionaire who passes him the bug of love when she kisses him, she having vowed to kiss the first real man she meets. From that moment on Fairbanks and the villain of the play have a thrilling series of adventures in the battle for the girl. He wins the girl and applause from the audience at the end of a whirlwind chase in a hydroplane. The part of the heroine is played by Jewel Carmen.

Muse—Photoplays which afford such undeniable satisfaction as "Confession," featuring Jewel Carmen, the attraction here for today only, are the exception rather than the rule and is one of the best offerings at the Muse for some time. Charlie Chaplin in "Easy Street" will also be shown.

Empress—Daniel Roach and James McCurdy, impersonators of rural characters, tell of the trials and tribulations of an old with circus life. Headlining the new bill which starts tomorrow is the "Golden Troupe," a singing and dancing spectacle. Charlie Chaplin in "His New Job" will be shown for the last time today. Virginia Pearson in "The Firebrand" will also be shown for the last time today at the Empress.

Hipp—In "American Buds" the two little stars, Jane and Katherine Lee, are shown in a play of American patriotism, but not even their respect for this can keep them from upsetting an orphan asylum and an army post. Jane solves the mystery of an Austrian spy in the American army and the rightful parent of the two orphans is found by the same discovery.

Hamilton—Clara Kimball Young will appear in the select production "The House of Glass" today, a comedy drama played with skill by the actress and her company. The story of modern life told in forceful and holding tense interest to the last.

Lothrop—Mary Pickford in her first playing of a dual role, appears in "Stella Maris." Perfectly produced, the play shows the actress and invalid daughter of the rich and a poor slavey on the same screen. "Stella Maris" shows one day only.

Suburban—Alice Brady in "The Knife," playing today only, has tackled a sociological problem of whether or not criminal tendencies can be cured by the use of the opening knife. It is a good play and interesting to the layman as the plot unfolds what can be accomplished for defectives by scientific treatment, and the happiness that can result when success is finally obtained.
