

CITY CLERKS QUIT IN BODY AS URE ORDERS CHANGES

Resignations Demanded of Entire Force, With Exception of Harry Primeau; T. B. Murray Appointed.

Commissioner Ure Tuesday asked for the resignation of every employe in the office of the city clerk, with the exception of Harry Primeau.

In accordance with this request, T. J. O'Connor, city clerk; M. M. Kelly, assistant journal clerk; W. S. Sergeant, ordinance clerk; K. M. Nolan, journal clerk; Georgia Nelson, stenographer, and Frank B. Hogan, petition clerk, tendered their resignations to council and they were formally accepted, being effective June 1.

John Mattiesen, who is more than 80 years of age, and who has been in the city hall for the last 26 years, was included in the request for resignation, but as yet has taken no action.

The mayor appointed Thomas B. Murray assistant prosecutor to replace T. J. McGuire. Murray's salary is to be $300 per month. Oscar A. Scott was appointed superintendent of gas lighting at $150 per month, and it is probable that he will also perform the duties of city chemist and assistant, the two offices being done away with.

Butler's Appointments.
The following appointments, made by Commissioner Dan B. Butler, of the street maintenance department, were confirmed: J. C. Donahue, general foreman, $200 per month; Richard R. Grotte, chief clerk, $200 per month; William Minoque, yard clerk, $110 per month; Herman Drexel, timekeeper, $110 per month; Marcella Kavanaugh, complaint clerk, $80 per month.

Park Commissioner Falconer's appointment of Dean Noyes, formerly general foreman of the street maintenance department, to the post of general foreman of the parks, at a salary of $200 per month, was confirmed. George Redman, general foreman under the former administration, will be retained in another capacity for the present.

No other appointments were made by the heads of the different departments and it is understood that these are being held in abeyance and will be announced for confirmation at the next regular meeting, Friday morning.

NEBRASKA BOY MISSING; MAY BE HUNS' PRISONER

Anton Linhart, Bee, Neb., is named on today's casualty list received from General Pershing. Linhart is reported missing in action. He probably has been taken prisoner by the Germans.

Corporal Christian S. Anderson, Spencer, Ia., is listed among the killed in action, and Lieutenant Walter B. Schaefer, Ottumwa, Ia., is reported missing.

The list also contains the name of Major Raoul Lufbery, Dieppe, France, killed in action. Lufbery was the premier of American aces. His death was reported in news dispatches several days ago.

Police Recover Three Cars Stolen in Omaha Streets

Detectives have recovered three automobiles stolen from parking places within the loop district Sunday night. A "fiver" belonging to the city garbage department was stolen Sunday night from in front of the residence of J. W. McDonald, 1910 Webster street. The car was recovered, undamaged, in an alley near Eighteenth and California streets.

An automobile which was taken out of the garage of Walter F. Dubensky, 1331 South Twenty-fifth street, last Friday night, was recovered near the outskirts of the city. Nothing was missing from the car but gasoline.

For a second time thieves got away with an automobile belonging to Harry McVea, 3232 Lafayette avenue. However, following both instances, the car was recovered. Sunday night his car was stolen from Sixteenth and Cumming streets, and recovered the next day at Thirteenth and Hickory streets. On the night of March 16 the same automobile was taken from Sixteenth and Douglas streets, but was recovered a week later.

Omahans Plan to Raise Hundreds of War Lambs

Omaha people will raise hundreds of "war lambs" this summer. Welfare workers are enthusiastic about the "lamb on the lawn" method of raising meat. A lamb will mow the lawn, furnish wool to clothe a soldier, and increase the meat supply of the country.

Dr. A. F. Tyler, 4911 Underwood street, has one of the first war lambs in the city. They are great pets for his two children, who say: "We are helping to win the war, for our lambs will get the kaiser's goat."

Motorcycle Rider Injured In Crash With Automobile

A collision between a motorcycle, ridden by Monty Archer, 9 Estabrook court, and an automobile driven by Hans Knudsen, 616 South Twenty-ninth street, at Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue, resulted in severe scalp wounds to young Archer. Knudsen was driving west on Capitol avenue and failed to see the motorcycle coming from another direction.

Six Men and Two Women Arrested in Police Raid

Police made an early morning raid on an alleged disorderly house at 1817 Leavenworth street and arrested Louise Meserby and eight inmates. Two women were numbered among those arrested. The other inmates said they were from out of town and had just arrived here "to have a good time."

Judge Awards Wife Alimony.

Helga M. Lange was granted a divorce decree Tuesday morning from Paul M. Lange by Judge Troup in district court. She was given custody of her 6-year-old son, Paul, and $50 a month alimony for 12 years.
