

CHAIRMAN HAYS SAYS LABOR IS TRUE TO NATION

G. O. P. Leader Impresses Necessity for Industrial Peace During War and Pays Tribute to Workers.

Lincoln, Neb., May 29.—(Special.)—Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, in his message to Nebraska republicans, read on Tuesday at Lincoln, expressed a sympathetic appreciation of the problems of labor in this country. On this subject Mr. Hays wrote: "Labor in this country today is for the war, and is giving in full measure to the nation's cause. We are a nation of wage earners, and the welfare of these men must be that consideration that guarantees to them, that to which in all fairness they are entitled. We must have just remedial legislation for the betterment of this great mass of our population at all times, not only because it is their due, but also that by justice always we can prevent such propaganda as that insidious criminal influence of the Industrial Workers of the World from taking hold in the ranks of real labor."

Industrial Peace Standard.

"We must have industrial peace now as will make certain that every atom of brain and every ounce of brawn goes where needed most to help the common cause. And that is not a charge on labor only. We must have less profiteering and more volunteering in this country."

"And that lawless individual that goes about the country thinking only of himself and seeking whom he may destroy, is a traitor to his country absolutely, and nothing else, and should be treated as such. For a traitor there is but one effective medicine—taken standing against a wall. Let him have it."

Called to South Dakota.

County Judge Walter Winterstein returned from Hettinger, S. D., where he was called to testify to records in his office in the trial of the state against Jack Horton for bigamy. Horton, as Egbert C. Turner, was married in Fremont in 1908 at the office of the county judge. The testimony showed that at that time wife No. 1 lived in Missouri. Two years later wife No. 1 secured a divorce. The defense at Hettinger contends that as the marriage at Fremont was not legal, his third marriage in North Dakota is not bigamy.

Horton's second wife, Mrs. Turner, who he married at Fremont, is residing at Mead. Turner operated a barber shop and confectionery store at that place for eight years.

Gas Suit Dropped.

The city council at the regular monthly session passed an ordinance providing for an increase in the gas rates from $1.75 to $2 per 1,000 cubic feet. A rebate of 25 cents is allowed by the company if the bill is paid by the 10th of the month. Several weeks ago the Fremont Gas, Electric Light and Power company asked for permission to make the raise. The council delayed action and two weeks ago the company announced that the increase would be made at once. The suit brought by the gas company against the city for an injunction restraining it from putting into force an ordinance passed nearly two years ago, providing for a reduction in gas rates will be dropped.

As a sequel to the fistie encounter between Deputy Sheriff W. A. T. W. Dwight of Sioux Falls, is running several hundred votes behind Christopherson and Dillon.

Royal C. Johnson of Aberdeen has received such a large majority over his opponent, Donald McLean of Webster, that he probably will be chosen representative in congress from the second district.

PERSINGER NOT FOR WAR AT TIME OF DECLARATION

University Professor Quoted as Declaring Autocratic Elements of Nation Forced Country Into Conflict.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, May 29.—(Special Telegram.)—A newspaper article printed July 12, 1917, in which Prof. C. E. Persinger of the American history department of the University of Nebraska was quoted as having said "He was still sorry that congress had allowed itself to be stampeded into a declaration in favor of entering the European war," was introduced in evidence today at the hearing of the University Board of Regents into charges by the State Council of Defense that some of the school's instructors were un-American in their attitude on the war.

The article also quoted Prof. Persinger as follows: "The real trouble is that autocratic and aristocratic elements throughout the country are taking advantage of the war to override democratic elements and ideas which they could have no hope of successfully attacking in time of peace, and against this attempt I expect to wage just as vigorous a fight as I am able, whether it costs me my position in the university or not."

This Not "My War."

Editor Phelps of the Howells Journal, a witness most of the afternoon, told of editorials written by him and appearing in his paper, in which he charged Prof. G. W. A. Luckey, at an address before the Howells High school graduating class in May, 1917, had made remarks which showed he was not in sympathy with the war.

Prof. Luckey had said, according to Phelps: "I can see as I look into the faces of you young people that I could fight and die for you, but not fight and die in the trenches in a foreign land in a war which is not my war."

Letters between the two men were introduced in evidence. Prof. Luckey, in one letter claiming that the same address as given at Howells was given at four other places and no one else objected to what he had said. He claimed also that the editor had misinterpreted his remarks.

Wolfe Asserts Loyalty.

The line of demarcation between patriotism and duty was one of the points in issue when the case of Prof. H. K. Wolfe was considered. Wolfe's attitude toward the government was presented pro and con. C. B. Towle and W. A. Selleck, Lincoln business men, related conversations they had with the professor, who expressed ideas regarding the war not in harmony with the ideas of the witnesses, although they would not say that Wolfe was actually disloyal.

A. L. Hickock, former professor at the university, said Prof. Wolfe had told him that he did not believe in patriotism, but did believe in duty. Patriotism had put Germany in war. His ideas of the war activities did not agree with those of the government.

Patriotism Against Duty.

Prof. Wolfe later took the stand and denied that the matter of patriotism and duty had been discussed. He

PASTOR RESIGNS AT BLUE SPRINGS FOR ARMY WORK

Beatrice, Neb., May 29.—(Special.)—The Rev. Joseph McNeill, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Blue Springs, has resigned his charge and will leave in a few days for France to work in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association. Mr. McNeill is a native of Scotland and was a student of President Wilson at Princeton university.

Carl Irwin and Miss Dorothy Scroggs, the latter a resident of this city, were married at Kimball where the bride has been teaching school for the past year. Mrs. Irwin is a graduate of the Beatrice High school class of 1917, and a daughter of L. A. Scroggs.

A number of Beatrice residents visited Bern, Kan., which was almost destroyed by a cyclone Sunday night. They state that the residents of Bern are busy clearing away the wreckage, but that it will be some weeks before things assume their normal state. About 15 private homes, the Rock Island depot and an elevator were destroyed. The town has a population of 500.

Carl Graf of this city has enlisted in the navy. Beatrice lodge No. 187, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, elected these officers: Noble grand, Walter D. Wright; vice grand, Ernest Brinkworth; secretary, W. E. Rife; treasurer, C. R. Carr.

McKelvie Republican Club Is New Organization Here

The McKelvie Republican club of Douglas county is the latest political organization being promoted in Omaha. A group of Omaha McKelvie boosters at Lincoln on Tuesday obtained signatures of nearly 100 who wish to be identified with the launching of this club.

It had not placed a flag in his window or displayed one at his residence except on special occasions, as was his custom.

He had not placed a flag in his window or displayed one at his residence except on special occasions, as was his custom. He said he was in hearty sympathy with fighting the war to a close now and had been ever since war had been declared, but had not been in favor of a declaration of war before the president declared war.

Prof. Wolfe said that he had not given his subscription to the Liberty Bond committee for the reason that he did not believe it necessary, and had gone to the bank and borrowed the money and made his subscription.

CANDIDATES OUT AFTER LOYALTY MEETING OF G. O. P.

Republicans, Alive to Needs of Hour in War Crisis, Determined to Perfect Party Organization.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., May 29.—(Special.)—Not for years has a political meeting in Lincoln left such a feeling of enthusiasm among republicans as the patriotic meeting of yesterday. On every hand is heard commendation and that every man who heard the address of Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin went away feeling stronger for the republican party and a determination to win the war is in evidence everywhere.

Even democrats are admitting that the republican state chairman made no mistake when he brought Senator Lenroot here to address the meeting.

Enthusiasm at Banquet.
The enthusiasm of the day was continued at the banquet at the Young Men's Republican club. The speeches of the president of the club, R. A. Boehmer, of the toastmaster, R. F. Stout, of S. R. McKelvie, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, A. W. Jeffers of Omaha and Judge H. H. Wilson of Lincoln were along lines of the afternoon meeting.

It is perhaps interesting to the people of the state to know that one name above all others brought the guests to their feet in a round of unbridled enthusiasm and cheering, and that was when Mr. Jeffers mentioned the name of Theodore Roosevelt. Almost to a man a shout went up that denoted the popularity of the colonel while men sprang to their feet and cheered long and loudly.

Utmost harmony prevailed. Sloan and Hammond.
Congressman Sloan was here as one of the candidates for the republican nomination for the United States senate. He circulated among the republicans as did also the more recent entry into the race, Ross L. Hammond of Fremont.

Former Lieutenant Governor Samuel R. McKelvie, only avowed candidate for the republican nomination for governor, appeared to enjoy the situation. It was rumored that Ernest M. Pollard might announce his entry into the race for the same nomination.

Senator Adam McMullen of Gage also was on the ground and was still here today. Senator McMullen has filed for the republican nomination for congress in the Fourth district.

Another candidate for the same place is Mr. Denny of Fairbury. Mr. Denny was in evidence yesterday as were also a host of friends who bore ribbon badges bearing the picture of the Fairbury statesman.

W. E. Andrews of Hastings, candidate for the republican nomination for congress in the Fifth district, made his presence known in his usual pleasing manner.

It is rumored that H. M. Eaton of Omaha may be a candidate for the republican nomination for state auditor. Mr. Eaton was land commissioner of the state for four years.

Another man who is being mentioned for a state office is Ellis E. Good of Peru. He is being urged to file for the republican nomination for state treasurer. Mr. Good is a barber at Peru and has served that district in the legislature two terms.
