Frank Sarscormello, 504 South Sixteenth street, was captured by a railroad detective late Wednesday afternoon. He had a revolver and a large sum of money in his possession. There was blood on his hands. He was attempting to board a train out of the city.

Police say he has confessed to the crime. Assault was the motive, police say.

The men found the woman, after hearing her groans, just as the man escaped and notified the police.

LAKEVIEW PARK BETTER THAN EVER THIS SEASON

In striving to obtain the newest and latest amusement devices to please the public, the management of Lakeview has put forth an organized and concerted effort to bring to Omaha the creations of some of the greatest builders of park devices in the country.

Located on Carter lake, easily accessible by Lakeview or Carter Lake trolley cars, the natural beauty of Lakeview is doubly enhanced by the great number of fun temples, modeled in architecture after some of the greatest resorts in the country. Arabesque walls, minareted towers, pergolas, trellis work, trees, flowers and shrubbery are all incorporated in Lakeview, not only as an attraction, but to help increase its natural beauty.

There's room for the biggest picnic lunch or one can buy a meal or luncheon at the cafe on the grounds. Roomy, non-sinkable steel boats with air chambers are plentiful, bait and fishing tackle can be obtained close at hand.

In the evening free motion pictures will be shown each day, a program of screen shows having been arranged that will keep the crowds from wishing to leave for home until the last scenes have been shown.

In the Silent Drama

Rialto—John Barrymore plays the opening engagement at the Rialto in "Raffles." His characterization of the drama of the amateur cracksmen is one of Barrymore's fine pieces of work on the screen. His entry into the field as a burglar is started by his belief that he is right and proper. He should steal from the rich and the benefits accrue to the poor, and backed by this belief "Raffles" mystifies the police and brings a feeling of insecurity to owners of valuable jewelry among rich society folk and wealthy householders. Nothing has been spared in the way of expense to produce the finest staging and lighting effects in "Raffles" and the opening play of the new theater is one that makes a splendid representation of the book in films.

Empress—The vaudeville show at the Empress theater for the last half of the week has as its headliner an act having eight people, called "The Golden Troupe," who will present songs, patter and ensemble numbers. Henry and Adelaide will also be on the bill in a novel dancing number, "Geraci," the acrobatic act, will offer a program ranging from opera to popular songs. Barney Best will offer his latest monologue, "With Neatness and Dispatch." A Metro picture has as its stars Francis X. Bushman and Adele. The story is full of fun from start to finish, and things get badly mixed up before the climax.

Strand—It seems that each new picture that Charles Ray appears in is better than the previous one, and "The Family Skeleton" now showing at this theater is no exception to the rule. The story in rapid fire reels with comedy monologues, and as no Ray picture is complete without a flat encounter a realistic one has been filmed. The story is a humorous account of the struggle of a young millionaire against an imaginary inherited habit, and the manner in which he overcomes it with the help of his strong girl sweetheart and a trumped up kidnapping. Comedies and the Strand Pathé News of current events completes the bill.

Sun—Douglas Fairbanks appears for the first time today in "American Aristocracy," closing a second run on this play at the Sun. He meets a girl on a lonely road while on his chosen occupation of the pursuit of love. He kisses her on the cheek and from that moment on Doug puts all his many energies into winning the girl. His rival, he discovers is an amateur of munitions into Mexico and in the final Fairbanks chases the villain in a hydroplane, and catches him in a trap. He kills the heroine, and breaks up the gang of smugglers of which the rival is the leader.

Muse—After some delay in securing this play we have the pleasure to announce that Norma Talmadge will be shown today and for the balance of the week in "De Luxe Annie." Triply guaranteed; it was a Saturday Evening Post story, a pronounced success on the stage, now a Select picture. A crook play with a surprising psychological twist and one that holds you in doubt until the last minute. No one can beat "De Luxe Annie," especially with Norma Talmadge in the title role supported by Eugene O'Brien.

Hamilton—"Unknown 274" with June Caprice tells the story of a girl alone in a big city, unknown and friendless. The road from nobody to somebody is strewn with difficulties but many a smile peeps in as she resolutely downs one ogre after another in her new life and emerges triumphant at the end.

Suburban—Jack Pickford in Mark Twain's masterpiece "Huck and Tom" will be shown for one day only, today. Primarily written about and for boys, the play is a source of continuous laughter for grown-ups as well as for the children. The play has been produced in cooperation with the Clemens estate and follows closely the pages of the book. Neighborhood theaters everywhere have been packed with cheering children wherever it has been shown.

Lothrop—Theda Bara appearing in "Du Barry" holds the boards both Thursday and Friday. A story of the French court at the time of its height of extravagance and its fall, the life and morals of the period are portrayed well but not brazenly while the grandeur of the court and the fine plot of the story have been brought out in their best style.

Robitt—Edna Goodrich shows today in the patriotic drama "American Maid," a play with action and a very pretty love story. On Friday Douglas Fairbanks appears in "His Picture in the Papers." On Saturday Tom Mix shows in a cowboy play, "Western Blood." A Texas rancher is introduced to Los Angeles society where he raises the police and almost a scandal. The play ends in a thrilling rescue of the heroine from Mexican bandits.

Dundee—Bessie Barriscale appears for today only in "Mariano Who?" a drama of considerable merit and well put on. On Friday will be shown Taylor Holmes in the comedy "Two Bits a Seat," one of the most delightful of Holmes' screen plays. Another of the fine comedies of the year will be shown Saturday when Bessie Love will be in "How Could You, Caroline?" In addition to the fine sense of humor developed in the action of these two comedies the promoters have staged them in exceptionally fine settings and the supporting casts have made of the plays dramas of real interest.

Ideal—Billie Burke appearing in "Mysterious Miss Terry" and a Lonesome Lake comedy make up the double bill for today here. On Friday will be seen George Barbant in the light drama, "Lost in Transit," and a Patty Arbuckle comedy, while Baby Marie Osborne closes the week in a patriotic show of the little ones, "Dolly has Her Bit." The last half of the double bill on Saturday will be the final chapter of the serial which has been running here, "The Fighting Trail."

Grand—"Brave and Bold," with George Walsh in the leading role, will be at the Grand today. The play is one in which Walsh is well fitted, and he carries it through with lots of action and humor. Emily Stevens in "Daybreak" will be the big feature for Friday, a drama of force and power and well acted. William Russell will close the week on Saturday in "Hearts and Diamonds." It is a comedy drama, with a complication of plot that leads to situations which develop lots of humor for the audience before the cast extricates itself and all ends well.

Hipp—Clara Kimball Young in "The East-End Way" will appear at the Hipp for today only. A screen drama has been built on the play that tells the story in much more forceful way. Love, riches, dress, jewels and a good time may be had by the heroine at the expense of the quelling of her conscience in regard to the morals of the matter and she handles the characterization in a fine manner.

Alhambra—William S. Hart appears as the feature today only in "The Dawn of the Day." A quarter-breed Indian educated in the white man's school, he attempts to bring the up to the white man's way of living. In the end he leaves the tribe as it journeys southward to food and plenty and dies a martyr to his ideal and his love for the white girl. On Friday Wallace Reid will be seen in the comedy drama, "A Prison Without Bars," and on Saturday "A Camouflage King" with June Caprice.

RINGGOLD, GEORGIA, MAN WRITES

A thankful letter about the benefits received from using Sulphur Tablets. Its effects are like grandmother's remedy of sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. But this consists of sulphur, cream of tartar and herbs, in a sugar-coated tablet, easy and pleasant to use, for bad blood, stomach, liver and bowel disorders.

Mr. John M. Plemons, Ringgold, Georgia, writes: "I had an awful bad case of stomach trouble and constipation, and had the service of a specialist with only temporary relief. I saw an advertisement of Sulphur Tablets and began using them, and in a short time noted very good results, and I further used them, and at this time am perfectly well as far as I can tell. I don't recommend anything unless I receive some good results. Some friends use them and they also note good results, etc." Druggists sell Sulphur Tablets everywhere. Don't take ordinary "sulphur" tablets and be disappointed.

MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED AS HOLIDAY IN CITY

Parade in Afternoon Will Be Followed by Patriotic Exercises in Auditorium; Sloan to Speak.

The stage is set for a most impressive observance of Memorial day. Indications are that it will be a holiday, a day when people will forget business and turn their thoughts to the boys in the trenches and in the camps and cantonments on this side.

Early Thursday, delegations from the relief corps of the Grand Army posts will visit the cemeteries, where they will spread flowers over the graves of the soldier dead.

At 10:30 o'clock members of U. S. Grant post and the Woman's Relief corps will visit Forest Lawn cemetery, where around the monument in the soldiers' plot they will hold services for the unidentified dead. "Nearer My God to Thee" will be sung, after which Mrs. Ida Miller will recite the "Unknown Dead."

There will be the flower march by 10 young girls, after which the Grand Army quartet will sing, "Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground." Prayer will be offered by Rev. Mr. Bowen, to be followed by the firing of the military salute by a squad of soldiers from Fort Omaha. The exercises in the leading role, will close the program for the week.

Apollo—Rec Beach, starring in the screen version of his own great book, "The Barrier," will play here today and tomorrow. In his interpretation of his own story of the far north, character and the pictures tell in much more striking detail the struggle to win in the pioneering of the great industry up there. On Saturday will be seen Kitty Gordon in the popular drama, "Purple Lily." Not only a good play but the scenery and costume work done has made it a picture of great beauty.

Submarine Destroyers

Our destroyers and scout ships are waiting for the sudden attack or the deadly torpedo—the watch on the Atlantic is on the lookout for the first indication of hidden danger—it's a fight for life. For those leading a quiet life at home it is often the unexpected that happens. It may be that we are mysteriously attacked by pain in our back or limbs, lumbago, "neuralgia" pains—shooting anywhere. Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorders, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys; hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. Perhaps you become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack of ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble, is to eat sparingly of meat, drink plenty of water between meals, and take a single An-uric Tablet before each meal for a while, or until recovered.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Anuric Tablets (double strength). If you have lumbago, rheumatism, gout, dropsy, begin immediately with this newest discovery of Dr. Pierce, who is Chief Medical Director of Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y. Send 10c for trial pkg. All druggists sell large package for sixty cents.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Compound of May-apple, aloes and jalap. Keep the body clean inside as well as outside.
