JUNE is a gladsome month. As chiming of wedding bells is heard in the distance and in a shower of rose petals, "here comes the bride." As gleamingly white and as glitteringly silver as a path of moonlight is her wedding gown, and like moonlight, too, is her misty veil, for it envelopes her in romance. What is so rare as a day in June," sang the poet but what is lovelier than a bride in June, we say, especially if she combine the khaki with the orange blossoms.

For a wedding and only for a wedding can a woman be persuaded to slip out of her canteen apron, the khaki of her motor corps uniform, or the white of her Red Cross costume and into her smart street clothes. We all love these war-time weddings with the flags of the Allied nations intertwined with the palms and ferns, and very often the uniformed charms of the bridegroom rival the bride.

Maenner-Robertson.
Ushered in with the month of roses comes an interesting announcement, for today Mr. and Mrs. Millard M. Robertson announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys Maenner, to Lieutenant Theodore Henry Maenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Theodore Maenner, of St. Louis. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Robertson is one of the most attractive of our younger set of girls and many weeks ago Gabby Detyales hinted at the engagement of this pretty girl and the silver-barred officer.

The charming bride-to-be is a graduate of the Central High school and also of Bradford academy. She has been an ardent Red Cross worker, acting as an instructor in knitting aside from conducting classes in sewing, teaching tiny tots to make small garments for the French and Belgian orphans.

Lieutenant Maenner is a graduate of the University of Washington and a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He received his commission at Fort Omaha, where he is an instructor of panoramic drawing.

Kubitschek-Van Sant.
Another military engagement announced today is that of Miss Gladys Van Sant, daughter of Mrs. W. B. Van Sant, to Lieutenant F. J. Kubitschek. The wedding date has not yet been set.

Miss Van Sant is a graduate of the South High school and studied for some time at Bellevue college.

Lieutenant Kubitschek is a graduate of the dental school at Creighton university. He is a member of the faculty and has but recently received his commission in the medical reserve and is now awaiting orders.

Maguire-Murphy.
Miss Nell Murphy has selected the month of roses for her wedding and Thursday is the day. Such dull things as state laws and amendments do not entirely fill the minds of our law makers for Mr. John Maguire, who figures very prominently at this wedding, is a former congressman. Miss Murphy's only attendant will be her sister, Mrs. John Henry, and the wedding will take place very early in the morning at St. John's church. The little bride-to-be is hoping that Uncle Sam will grant a furlough to her brother, Lieutenant Frank Murphy, stationed at Fort Riley, so that he may be present.

Meade-Stocking.
Silver bars and brass buttons will be the striking feature of another wedding scheduled for the near future and perhaps in the month of roses, too, who knows? The engagement of Miss Della Verne Stocking to Lieutenant J. Frank Meade, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Meade of this city, was recently announced at a beautifully appointed luncheon given at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lottie D. Ley, in Denison, Ia. Of course, when the guests found a fragrant bride's rose beside each plate, their suspicions were aroused and the blushes of the pretty hostess told the rest. When will the wedding take place? That is the first question, but we have our suspicions that Miss Stocking will be a Mrs. Lieutenant before the roses fade.

Harding-Dovey.
Miss Edith Lillian Dovey, whose marriage to Lieutenant Floyd Harding will take place Wednesday at 2 o'clock, will be wed in true military style and although the appointments of the wedding will be simple, still one has visions of crossed swords and bride, will be matron of honor and little Miss Suzanne Falter, flower girl. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper will be served at the home of the bride's parents. After a short honeymoon trip the bridal couple will be at home wherever the Forty-first infantry is stationed.

It is to be hoped that the Forty-first infantry now at Fort Crook will not be transferred, for this lovely bride would be such a charming addition to the group of officer's wives now living at the post. We might chat awhile and tell you just how this army romance began, for really, it reads just like a story and we will just tell you this much. He saw her first in her snowy Red Cross apron and cap and little dreaming that Dan Cupid is wearing brass buttons this year and that his arrows are khaki-tipped, this pretty Plattsmouth girl soon discovered a gleaming stone on her left hand. The last chapter, or rather the first, of this war-time romance will be written this week when this young couple take their vows under the crossed flags.

Miss Sarah Coe of Charlestown, W. Va., is the guest of Miss Mary Richardson.

stirring music. Four of Lieutenant of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooley, Fitzgerald, Reinke and George E. Dovey in Plattsmouth. Rev. Wilbur F. Leete will perform the ceremony at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Mrs. John Falter will sing; Lieutenant Jerry Marsh, best man, and the ceremony will take place at the home Mrs. Rea Patterson, sister of the

The Great Lakes

'Tis a very restful trip up the Great Lakes—all the delights of an ocean voyage even to being out of sight of land and yet no seasickness. Magnificent appointed ships, frequent port calls, a week or two weeks of rest and an opportunity to gain knowledge of the wonderful resources of our own great country. Or, perhaps you would like to go the other way and shoot the rapids of the St. Lawrence. The ships are just as comfortable, and you may go on to Quebec, that quaint old walled city, or up the impressively beautiful Saguenay River.

Let us tell you of these water trips or of the Muskoka Lakes and other Lake resorts and trips.
