

ALDRICH GIVES PLATFORM IN HIS RACE FOR JUDGE

Former Governor Announces That He Believes His Legal and Legislative Experience Fits Him for the Office.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Neb., June 1.—(Special).—Former Governor Chester H. Aldrich has entered the nomination for justice of the supreme court and has made his filing. Like Judge F. G. Hamer, he has not received the endorsement of the bar association but goes in on the broad principle that the whole people and not any particular organization has the right to select their supreme judges. Mr. Aldrich makes the following announcement:

"Following a well established custom, I take this method by way of a public letter to announce my candidacy for the office of judge of the supreme court of our state. I have been engaged in the actual practice of law in Nebraska for 25 years, excepting the period when I served as governor of this state. I have always been identified prominently with state affairs, and have taken special interest in seeing that the welfare of the state was advanced by the enactment and enforcement of progressive laws.

"It was my privilege while serving as state senator to frame and assist in framing many measures of much importance to this state, such as our two-cent fare law, and other measures of a similar nature, some of which I afterwards was called upon to defend in the federal and circuit courts of the United States.

"I believe that my legal and executive experience with the large affairs pertaining to Nebraska's welfare, qualifies me to fill this position acceptably to the people of Nebraska. I am in the prime of life, and enjoying vigorous health, which is an important qualification in the arduous and confining duties of a supreme judge.

"As I will be out of the state from June 15 to September 1, engaged in giving a series of lectures in behalf of the government's activities in prosecuting this war, I take this method of announcing my candidacy and thus leave the same largely in the hands of my friends."

U. S. TROOPS VITAL FACTOR IN BIG BATTLE

tion as they could be expected to call a halt at the Marne. The allies must now be prepared either to see the offensive resumed in the north soon, continued General Bridges, or else to see German divisions from the north sent down to exploit the new success.

May Continue for Weeks.
The battle, he continued, is likely to continue for weeks and become a long-drawn-out struggle of man power with the first duty of the allies to husband their resources by giving ground for men where possible.

In concealing their preparations so as to make a surprise attack, General Bridges said, the Germans were aided probably by four factors: Their preponderant number of divisions; a good railway system; the proximity of woods to their first objectives where large numbers of troops could be concealed and the fact that this front long had been organized for attack.

OMAHA GENIUS MAKES 'CONEY' GREAT PLAYGROUND OF WORLD

Coney Island, the great summer playground of New York City, was the legatee of much of the genius that went to make the Transmississippi exposition the pioneer festival event in which the lavish use of electricity and great spectacles made up the dominant features.

Fred Thompson and Scipio Dundy Omaha boys, were the creators of Luna park, which from its natal day to the present time is considered the acme of perfection among the amusement resorts of the world. One of the denizens of Luna park, one who looms largely among the creative geniuses who make that spot a fairland of light and a wizard land of wonders, is Hugh Thomas of Omaha, who won his spurs in the game of making electric lights perform wonders by the use of trick-scenery and lighting effects at the Transmississippi exposition. He is a brother of Charlie Thomas of The Bee, and during Omaha's great carnival, an assistant electrician to Henry Rustin.

After the Omaha experience Thomas went to Buffalo, where he lighted the exposition there. New York was the next beneficiary of his genius and each year he has produced some new and novel spectacle to awe or entrance the countless visitors to that great "hot dog" mart of the universe, Coney Island.

Mr. Thomas this year has the two big, outstanding spectacles of the island. Both are remarkable in their realism and magnitude. They are panoramic spectacles of "Over There" and "The Submarines."

"Over There" is an outdoor affair, showing an expanse of three miles of the European battlefield and a distance of 12 miles. In the range are four villages, three in the distance and one in the foreground. There are trains bringing up troops, supplies and ammunition. You can catch a movement of the troops going forward in the trenches. Supply transports and hospital ambulances are seen going across an improvised bridge. Sentries can be seen doing patrol duty before the headquarters of officers. The sound of shells is distinctly heard, while an occasional one is seen to fall in one of the villages. The shell-torn ground is lined with deep holes. In the spectacle Thomas has made it possible for the hordes of eastern amusement seekers to see the hell of battle almost as it is "Over There."

Another Omaha man who started at the Transmississippi and who is now on of the big showmen of Coney Island, is M. D. Cooney, who, because of his initials is known familiarly as "Doc." He is one of the old timers at the park and still conducts the baby incubator show, one of the famous features of Omaha's exposition. He did not invent the baby incubator, the Chinese having beat him to it by nearly a thousand years, but he was the first man to make the people of America familiar with the institution and coin it into dimes and dollars.
