

NEW HOSPITAL VIOLATION OF BUILDING CODE

Property Interests Near Internment Institution Protest Because Building is Not Fireproof.

The establishment by the city of a hospital at Twenty-second street and St. Mary's avenue, for the internment of women who are affected by "social diseases," is in plain violation of the building code of this city.

Health Commissioner Manning announced that he expected to open this new institution on Tuesday morning.

Two three-story frame structures, known as the Fairfield buildings and more recently used as a maternity hospital, have been rented by the city from the Omaha Association for the Betterment of Boys and Girls.

The building code which was enacted by the city council a few years ago as an ordinance specifically states that buildings of two stories or more, when used as hospitals, shall be of fireproof construction.

Persons representing property interests adjacent to the new hospital in question are preparing protests which will be presented to the city council. These protests will be based on the Omaha building code and it will be charged that the city council is violating the law in opening this hospital in these three-story frame buildings.

The health commissioner stated that the new hospital will accommodate 60 girls and women without crowding, and he added that 75 or more could be received in an emergency.

The necessity for a hospital of this nature was urged by the federal authorities who put it up to the city in a forceful manner that soldiers must be protected from contaminations, which is proving to be a menace, not only in Omaha but throughout the country.

Dr. Manning says he expects to have 25 patients to start with. Dr. Palmer Findley will have charge of the hospital so far as the medical part is concerned.

Hot Weather Plays Havoc With Course of True Love

Sunday was a grouchy day in Omaha. The weather was hot and sultry, meat spoiled, babies cried and husbands grumbled.

Husbands and wives decided "they just couldn't stand it another day," and hurried down-town to consult Mrs. Rose Ohaus of the domestic relations department of the Omaha Welfare board. There were so many callers she was kept busy all day Sunday and they continued to come all day Monday. In many homes "iceless Sunday" led to a "hot time."

"Hot weather is the 'open season' for domestic trouble," stated Mrs. Ohaus, "things that don't bother people in cold weather seem unendurable during the hot months."

Naturalization Examiner Completes Work at Fort's

C. F. Boester, naturalization examiner, who has been in Omaha in charge of the naturalizing of alien soldiers at Fort Crook and Fort Omaha, leaves Monday night for St. Louis. At the end of the week he will proceed to Memphis.

Only twenty-two of the 630 soldiers examined at Fort Crook and only one of the 120 examined at Fort Omaha were refused naturalization. Some of these had not yet made up their minds to become citizens, some were quite willing to fight in the United States armies as long as they were not forced to fight against their kin in their native land, and some had brothers in enemy armies.

Winter Wheat Prospects Brighten With Heavy Rains

The Burlington's weekly crop report indicates that with the abundant rainfall last week, Nebraska winter wheat prospects brightened materially, except along the Missouri river. In this area the grain was pretty well along and the wet weather apparently did little in the way of increasing the length of the straw, though it is heading in a satisfactory manner.

Comparative figures for last week and the previous week, on the basis of 100 per cent for a perfect crop are:

Division	Last week	Previous week
Omaha	71	73
Lincoln	83	74
Wymore	82	80
McCook	88	80

It is predicted that the winter wheat harvest in Nebraska will be commenced inside of 30 days.

Spring grain, wheat, oats and barley, give promise of making a bumper crop.

Judge Reprimands Officers Who Made Raid on 'Suspicion'

Seven persons, who were arrested Sunday night in a rooming house at 2212 Douglas street, operated by Mrs. W. A. Frans, were discharged in police court Monday morning. Police Judge Madden reprimanded the arresting officers, declaring: "I will not tolerate cases of this sort, with absolutely no evidence or suspicion against those arrested, to be brought into this court." Police said they raided the place on suspicion.

When Mrs. L. F. Amos, 50 years old, guest at the Frans' home, told the court she was compelled to submit to examination by police surgeons, the attorney for the defendants declared: "It is a rank injustice to the city of Omaha to have such treatment accorded to these people in so hasty a manner."

Health Commissioner May Order General Vaccination

"The smallpox situation is bad, due to lack of vaccination. I may find it necessary to enforce general vaccination," Health Commissioner Manning declares.

Thirty cases were reported to the health office last week.

"Until we should decide to have a general vaccination," the health commissioner added, "we will insist upon vaccination or isolation of all exposures."

Omaha Advertising Man Leaves On First Leg of Trip 'Over There'

Frank C. Ward, advertising illustrator, has been appointed for Young Men's Christian association work in France and has left Omaha for New York. He will go overseas June 17.

He has been in business in Omaha for the last seven years with offices in the Darlow Advertising company and has a wide acquaintance among advertisers.

He is a member of Hanscom Park Methodist church.

Railroads Must Increase Intrastate Load Minimum

Railroads, in accordance with a ruling of the Interstate Commerce commission, must increase their intrastate minimum on carload shipments of grain within Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and a number of the other western states.

Heretofore railroads have held to 30,000 pounds as the minimum grain load per car. The commission has placed the minimum at 40,000 pounds. This puts the intrastate and interstate in line.

The Interstate commission has held that the former rule establishing a 30,000 per car loading for flour from Missouri river points is unduly preferential for Illinois mills and prejudicial to western producers. Hereafter the 40,000-pound car loading will be the rule.

The Billiken Shoe is "Bully for Children"

Sold Here in All Sizes and Styles

Selecting a shoe for a child is a very important matter. To paraphrase a familiar saying: "Shape the Child's Foot in the Way it Should Grow" brings to mind the fact that comfort and a true appreciation of nature's demands are two of the main things that should be considered in selecting Footwear for children.

Because the Billiken Shoe is a build on anatomical lines, conforming to nature's demands for freedom and proper room for expansion, we have selected these Shoes and stand back of them with our guarantee and that of the makers for perfect satisfaction.

Billiken Shoes are made without nails that hurt little feet—they do not pinch or bind—they are absolutely flexible, as you will see when you take one of these Shoes in your hand and bend the toe back to the heel.

There is just as much difference between Shoes as there is between people, and unless the makers conceive the right idea, no amount of style or polished appearance will condone for lack of comfort.

You can bring the children here with absolute surety of perfect fit, long service and complete satisfaction. Billiken Shoes are shown in all styles and sizes and priced accordingly.
