Distributes Mothers' Books to Soldiers

"If I were handed on the highest hill, Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine, I know whose love would follow me still.

"Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine." This little poem of Kipling's comes way across the sea to us out of the mud and dreariness of the trenches for it appears on the first page of a little booklet dedicated to Mother's Day and printed by the Young Men's Christian association for the boys so many thousand miles away from home.

On the cover is a picture of the typical mother, her gray hair softly parted, her black dress relieved by a little white at the throat and in her hands, her unfinished knitting. Sitting at her feet, is "her boy," in the khaki of his country, his trench hat in his hand. He seems to be receiving her last blessing before leaving to do his part in the great struggle, but unlike the mothers of old, she is not buckling on his sword, but through the influence of her parting words is encasing him in the armour of honor and love of God and his fellow-men.

Turning the pages of the little book Van Dyke's prayer for mother's birthday, a testimonial to all the mothers the world over and best of all, a letter from a real mother in her own handwriting is found.

It is all so real, the ink seems hardly dry. All the little quirks of the pen, with a word inserted here and there, full of the little personal things of every day life and last of all her admonitions to live up to his ideals no matter what comes, to put the white flag of honor and truth even before the starry banner to which he has pledged his life.

"But I know you will come back to me—" is the closing sentence of the little motherly missive showing clearly that this one hope buoyed her up through the long months of waiting.

The little Mother's day book, which must have brought so much comfort to many boys in France is sent to Omaha by Harry A. Sigwart, of the 13th Railway Engineers, who now gives his address as "somewhere in France." Young Sigwart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Sigwart.

Military Wedding

A quiet military wedding took place Saturday evening when the marriage of Miss Clella May Brubaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brubaker, to Lieutenant William Howard Holmes was solemnized at the home of Rev. F. W. Leavitt, who performed the ceremony.

The bride was unattended, only the immediate family being present at the ceremony. She wore a smart costume of black and white, her skirt of white satin and a short jacket of black satin. A hat of white milan straw and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas completed her costume.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, when 25 guests called to extend their good wishes to the young officer and his bride. Pink and white roses combined with green smilax were used in profusion through the rooms.

Lieutenant Holmes, who is a former Cincinnati man, received his commission at the balloon and is now an instructor. The bride will remain with her parents for the present.

Rain Disorganized School

Miss Irma Gross, who is instructing a summer class at the Iowa State college at Ames, Ia., met many difficulties on her trip and in starting her course in domestic science. The heavy early rains nearly submerged the state of Iowa, and the roads were completely covered with water in many places. The supplies at the college were non est owing to the trouble of transportation and the food was scarce and there was no ice. The electricity was not in evidence for one day and the gas for two. As for having trunks delivered, that was quite out of the question, and Miss Gross was forced to do without her summer wardrobe for nearly a week.

Vacancies Open to Women

Opportunities in government work for women include the following, announced by the United States Civil Service commission: Bacteriologists—Vacancies in the public health service, at $1,800 a year, will be filled from an open examination held throughout the United States on June 25, 1918. First Nurse to "Enlist" in Drive

MISS MARY McDERMOTT ENROLLED BY MISS GERTRUDE SMITH.

The big drive is on for 25,000 Red Cross nurses! Miss Mary McDermott this morning stopped her work at Lord Lister hospital, where she will graduate in July, and came to the little base hospital on the court house lawn, where she was the first nurse to enroll.

To those who have not completed their three-year course a divisional enrollment is made. Miss Gertrude Smith, Nebraska field secretary, presided over the "recruiting station," and helped the applicants to find the dotted line. After the graduation exercises for eight seniors at Nicholas Senn hospital this afternoon, the entire class went to the miniature hospital and added their names to the list.

Every hospital is being solicited today by those who are serving on committees. All nurses are wanted to enroll and an effort is being made to get every young woman, who has no definite profession in mind, into hospital training schools. High school and college graduates are urged to consider the nursing profession.

A committee of lay women has been appointed with Mrs. O. T. Eastman as chairman. They are: Mesdames Frank Judson, Gould Dietz, Henry Pierpont, Arthur Cooley, A. D. Peters, Herbert Rogrs and Miss Jessie Millard. They will "recruit" among those not yet in training.

Irish "Joan of Arc" Arrested for Conspiracy

MAUDE G. McBRIDE.

Maude Gonne McBride, known as the Irish "Joan of Arc," has been arrested for complicity in the recent Sinn Fein plot in Ireland. Mrs. McBride is the widow of Major John McBride, who was executed for the part he took in the Easter uprising in Dublin two years ago. Mrs. McBride is well known in America, where she has often lectured in behalf of Irish independence.

It is said that at one time, had she so chosen, she might have become Lady Kitchener. The story is that Lord Kitchener met the fair Irish maid in Paris, while returning from Egypt. He was smitten by her charms and sued for her hand. She accepted on condition that he would put aside his uniform in the English army and join her in her fight for free Ireland! It is scarcely necessary to add that the famous soldier would not agree to the conditions.

Mrs. McBride was in Omaha several years ago, on which occasion she placed a wreath on the grave of General O'Brien in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, jr., at one time Mrs. Grover Cleveland, has issued through the National Security league a message to the women of America in which she urges them to stand firm and united against all temptations to compromise this war.

A second examination has exempted "Fatty" Arbuckle from the draft. He is much overweight.

The most famous role of the modern stage, according to critics, is that of Nora Helmer in Ibsen's "Doll House," in which Elsie Ferguson will appear. Mary Shaw, Mrs. Fiske, Nazimova and Mrs. Pat Campbell have all played it.

"How Could You, Jean?" a forthcoming release, gives Mary Pickford a delightful chance to wear some wonderful gowns.

Wallace Reid and Ann Little are co-starring in "The Firefly of France."

U. S. CONGRESSMAN QUICKLY FINDS STOMACH RELIEF

Joseph Taggart, M. C. from Kansas, Declares EATONIC Best for Indigestion He Ever Used.

A congressman bears many arguments for and against different propositions. His mind is open to conviction, as is naturally served, as a citizen's duty, to cast his vote on any measure he insists upon evidence that, on its own weight, carries conviction.

In the case of EATONIC, Joseph Taggart, Congressman from the 2nd District, Kansas City, Kans., decided that a trial of the remedy, itself, would furnish the most conclusive proof. Read his declaration.

"One box of EATONIC will convince the most skeptical. It is the best remedy I have ever tried for indigestion."

JOSEPH TAGGART, M. C. 2d Kansas Dist., Kansas City, Kans.

Nearly all stomach trouble is caused by too much acid in the stomach. EATONIC neutralizes the excess acidity and enable you to eat what you like and digest what you eat in comfort. It keeps the stomach in a state of perfect health.

Here's the secret: EATONIC drives the acid out of the body—and the blood goes on. Costs only a cent or two a day to use it. Get a box today from your druggist.

You Just Try NR For That Indigestion

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestine where the food is mixed with bile from the liver.

It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided or overcome.

This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion, also suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation.

If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering afterward, if you are constipated, have bilious spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, variable appetite, are nervous, losing energy and feel your health slipping away, take this advice and get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) right today and start taking it. Give it a trial for a week or two.

Five million boxes are used every year—one million NR Tablets are taken by ailing people every day—that's the best proof of its merit. Nature's Remedy is the best and safest thing you can take for biliousness, constipation, indigestion and similar complaints. It is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Why do they patronize your competitor's hotel instead of yours?

In the first place, people dislike to await their turn where there is an insufficient number of bathrooms. In the second place, it is growing more and more difficult to attract patrons to a hotel with out-of-date, unsanitary and untidy looking plumbing fixtures.

Not only is your competitor getting the business, but he's getting more money for his rooms. His investment in modern plumbing equipment is being returned to him over and over again.

Why let him force you out of business? With modern sanitary bathroom fixtures you can have your share of larger and more profitable patronage and, through it, a quick return of the entire cost of replacement.

Pay a visit to our model Maddock bathroom display and find out how much less it costs than you think to turn your hostelry into a better paying proposition.
