POLLOCK ADMITS ROBBING STORES ON SOUTH SIDE

Eight Men and One Woman, Caught in Roundup by Officers, Released After Examination.

Eight men and one woman who were caught Friday in the police dragnet that rounded up 15 negroes in connection with the investigation of the robberies of several South Side stores, from which several thousand dollars' worth of men's and women's wearing apparel was stolen, during the last few days, were released Saturday for lack of evidence.

Leo Pollock, Twenty-third and Clark streets, whom police says is a parole violator from the Oklahoma penitentiary, confessed to Captain of Detectives Briggs and Police Captain Madsen that he had robbed the Chicago Bargain store, 4824 South Twenty-fourth street, of nearly $2,000 worth of men's and women's clothing last Wednesday night, and that he had burglarized the Nebraska Shoe and Clothing company's store, Twenty-fifth and N streets, of $325 worth of goods about three weeks ago. He is also alleged to have admitted connection with a number of similar robberies in Omaha which were committed in December and February. He is charged with burglary and with being a fugitive from justice.

John Gooker, 1219 1/2 South Sixteenth street, in whose possession police found a number of silk shirts that were identified as having been stolen from the Nebraska Shoe and Clothing company, was charged with receiving stolen property.

Besides the two stores mentioned, burglaries have been reported by the Phillips department store, Twenty-fourth and O streets, and Melcher's drug store, during the last few weeks.

Those released for lack of evidence were: Henry, Walter and Lewis McPherson, John Allen and his wife, Oressa Allen; George Clark, Ike Petty, H. Stevenson and Sol Irwin.

"We have been greatly overworked during the last week, and have disposed of about $75 worth of material, but we still need more old clothing, newspapers, magazines, and almost anything anyone will contribute, no matter how small the value. We have on hand six chickens, two geese and one sheep, and are hoping that someone will donate a couple of pigs." All wishing to volunteer services in collecting material are requested to call South 237. Or they may communicate with Mrs. Frank Furness, chairman; Mrs. Frank Ames, vice chairman, or Mrs. Roy Dennis, secretary and treasurer of the salvage committee.

PUBLIC UTILITY EXPERT CONFERS WITH CITY HEADS

Edward W. Bemis, public utility appraisal expert of Chicago arrived Saturday morning to confer with Mayor Smith and Corporation Counsel Lambert. The mayor went to Chicago a week ago to visit Mr. Bemis on the day that Col. Theodore Roosevelt was here.
The Chicago man is seeking a commission in connection with the forthcoming appraisal of the Omaha gas plant. He is now making an appraisal of the Chicago plant.
Questioned on the prevailing Omaha gas rate of $1.15 net per thousand feet, he said: "Probably the Omaha rate is higher than the average rate of cities at this time. Of course, there are various factors to be considered, and a rate that may be reasonable in one city would be high in another city."
He said that the average rate paid by householders for gas in Chicago is 72 cents per thousand feet.

MILLION DOLLAR BOND ISSUE NOT APPROVED BY U. S.

Secretary Bourke of the Board of Education has received advice from the Capital Issues committee at Washington, D. C., stating that the Omaha $1,000,000 school bond issue has not been approved.
The committee stated that the sale of these bonds is not compatible with national interests at this time.
The school board announced at the time the bond issue was submitted to the voters, that most of the money would be used for the erection of a new high school of commerce which institution the board members agree is not adequate to the needs.
The board, however, is not disposed to accept this decision of the committee at Washington as final. They will reopen the case and will enlist the support of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

CENTRAL MARKET IS PRIDE OF OWNERS

Modern Shopping Place Equipped With View to Perfect Sanitation.

Imbued with the same spirit of the prideful housewife who decks her table with immaculate napery, shining silver, cut glass, whose facets reflect the glinting play of rainbow shades in changing lights; dainty china, bouquets of flowers of ravishing beauty and scents, and who garnishes her entrees to entice appetite, the promoters of the Central Market, which opened its doors at 1608-10-12 Harney street Saturday, have equipped a food bazaar which pleases the eye and sensibilities of the most fastidious.
Every accessory of the market was planned and designed to give an aesthetic appearance to the most prosaic of business, that of the vending of raw and manufactured food products. But above this every known modern appliance has been employed to guarantee absolute sanitation.

Finished in Marble.
The spacious room, 66x132 feet in dimensions, which will house 11 distinct departments, is tiled with terrazo and wainscoted in Alaskan marble of beautiful shades and mirrored glass. Meats will be sold from counters of heavy layers of Carrara glass, which, because of its lack of porosity, accumulates no waste to develop tainting odors or unpleasant appearance.

Meat coolers, of great size, finished in Alaskan marble and plate glass, through which one can see tempting quarters of beef or lamb, and cut roasts present a sold front of 90 feet of surface. They are lighted on the inside with electric reflecting lamps which diffuse brilliant illumination inside and out. Fish are iced and washed by a system which instantly removes all refuse and flushes the counters and tanks continuously.

Refrigerator System.
Vegetables, butter, eggs, lard and commodities of a perishable nature are refrigerated with a piping system, which forces air to the equivalent of the frigidity of 20 tons of manufactured block ice daily.

Butter will be churned daily in a snow white tub in the display window and the fresh, golden butter and the gratefully acid buttermilk, fresh from the churning, sold to the customers. Bulk butter will also be sold over butter counters of glass, marble and silver plate and will be taken in moulds from huge revolving cylinders of glass, the human hand never touching the golden product.

Sausages will be made in the basement and elevated to the selling floor. There will be no elevators to take no steps to climb or tiresome walks to take.

Specialized Departments.
Individual departments, all equipped with highly specialized conveniences and accessories will be maintained for meat, fish, groceries, butter and eggs, fruits, flowers, bakery goods, candies, delicatessen, teas, coffees and crackers.
The Central market is the dream of the Kulakofsky who have been wholesale and retail dealers in food products in Omaha for the last two decades at 210 North Sixteenth street. Peace Offensive Foreshadowed by Comment of Press

Paris, June 15.—(Havas Agency)—Berlin has not abandoned hope of obtaining a "good" German peace soon. The press is following with curiosity and interest the preparations for a peace offensive, which seems to be clearly outlined and about to pass from the newspaper domain into official circles.
The Petit Journal, voicing the unanimous opinion of its colleagues, declares that German intrigue will fail before the unshakable will of the allies. The only possible peace for them is a peace of justice and civilization, it says.

Hand Sprayer Flunks On Job; Owner Hikes To Court for Solace

Because Welter DeVaugh is alleged to have failed to provide a good, well-working, perfect and satisfactory hand sprayer, that would spray various bug-destroying concoctions five or ten feet, he is made defendant in a damage suit for $25.25. The petition was filed in district court Saturday morning by F. W. Fitch, who alleges that he bought a hand sprayer from DeVaugh for $12.25, but that it was defective. He alleges that through DeVaugh's failure to replace the defective sprayer with one that would work, a number of trees have been destroyed by tree-loving bugs. He places the value of the trees at $25.

POLITICAL POT BEGINS TO BOIL ON COUNTY FIRE

Entrants File for Primary to Be Held August 20; Interest Centers on Race for County Attorney.

The political pot is beginning to boil once more in the good old summer time.
Entrants are beginning to file for the county primary, which will be held on August 20, together with the state and national primaries. Filings will be closed by the election commissioner on July 20.

Local interest is centered at present in the race for county attorney. A. V. Shotwell and Charles Battelle have filed as republicans, while J. P. O'Hara and H. L. Mossman have filed as democrats. There are others who are said to have their eyes on this job. Charles E. Foster, formerly police judge, announced yesterday that he will file. Judge C. W. Britz of the municipal court, J. P. Palmer, Henry Murphy, Ray J. Abbott, Sidney W. Smith, Thomas Hollister, Arthur Pancoast and W. W. Slabaugh have been mentioned in the dispatches. Democrats are a little bit chary about filing for this office, as they generally concede that a republican will be elected this year, as they also believe that most of the county offices will go to the republicans.

There will be little or no contest against Sheriff Clark, who will make the race again. James C. Dahlman, former mayor, has been urged to file for sheriff, but he is thinking of opposing Congressman Lobeck for a seat in the national congress.

Frank Dewey, county clerk, has announced that he will file on June 27, which will be his birthday anniversary.
Louis E. Adams has filed again for county surveyor and Harry Pearce for register of deeds, both being republicans.

Basing the population of the United States at 100,000,000, if every person should go to the meat markets and demand one pound of beef each there would not be enough on hand to supply the trade. This is the information from Mr. Hoover, according to Food Administrator Wattles.
Mr. Hoover has obtained data on beef in storage in the United States, June 1. He estimates it at 227,000,000 pounds, as against 346,000,000 pounds in storage January 1, this year. Of the quantity in storage, about 130,000,000 is in process of preparation for shipment to the soldiers abroad, or to the allies of the United States, leaving only 97,000,000 pounds for domestic consumption.

The Government Is Spending Millions to Save the Teeth of Our Men

UNCLE SAM IS MAKING SURE

This will not happen to the American boys. Uncle Sam knows what bad teeth will do to a man. That is the reason that no man is accepted for service until he has passed a critical dental examination. And after he has passed, all through his training, right up to trench and dugout, Uncle Sam's dental officers are there to keep him fit. In field and at sea the government is doing this wonderful work—a work that is going to mean better teeth and better health for America when the boys come home.

The McKenney Dentists

—feel a little pardonable pride in the importance placed on good teeth by the U. S. Government. For years Dr. McKenney has been preaching and practicing the doctrine that good health depends on good teeth (and preaching it at a time when the whole idea was scoffed at.) He was not alone in this great work, but the workers were so few that it took years to convince the public. Now the world's greatest authorities recognize and point out the danger. But it has taken war to bring home to the great public the necessity of good teeth to sound health.

Just as important is the work of keeping the price of the best dentistry within the reach of the poorest person, and to have just one price for rich and poor alike—and to tell them the price before commencing any work. It is probable that our prices will have to be raised, as all materials are rising in price daily, but for the present we are going to maintain the prices as low as is consistent with the best work.
