Mrs. F. S. Kalk, Mother of Dead Hero, Off to France for War Work

Mrs. F. S. Kennedy is home from New York, where she went to see her sister, Mrs. F. S. Kalk, off for France to do war work. Mrs. Kalk's only son, Lt. Stanton Kalk, gave his life at his post of duty when the John Jacob Jones sank several months ago. Mrs. F. S. Kennedy says that half the women of New York are in uniform. The khaki of the motor driver's outfit, the white of the Red Cross worker and the blue of the canteen service are all blended in the crowds seen on Fifth avenue, and when one has the privilege of seeing those who are leaving for overseas duty it seems that the whole world has donned some special garb of war service.

Mrs. Kennedy spent some time with her sister before Mrs. Kalk's departure for France, and as no one can go across unless they are in some branch of war service, there is an immense crowd of uniformed workers leaving on every liner. Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Canteen and Y. M. C. A.—all are represented. The canteen worker's suit is most attractive, as it is of gray whipcord with a joffe blue collar. With it is worn a blue hat and shirt waist with a green cape, which also has its touch of French blue on the collar.

Mrs. Kalk expressed herself as not being at all afraid of the submarines, for she said that if the soldier boys could brave the dangers of the sea, surely she could. Mrs. Kalk will go immediately to the Y. M. C. A. in Paris, where she will be assigned to some canteen behind the lines.

The happy custom of standing on the pier and waving goodbye to a departing friend or relative is now denied to those left behind, for the piers are so closely guarded no one is allowed to come within 100 yards of the docks. Mrs. Kennedy says that she could not even see the ship on which her sister sailed, for the goddys have to be spoken so far from the water front.

For June Bride.

Mrs. J. Abrahamson entertained at the Blackstone Sunday afternoon honoring Mrs. A. Abrams, a recent bride. The affair was a miscellaneous shower followed by cards. Pink and white carnations were used in the decorations and forty-five guests attended the affair. Mrs. Abrams, who was formerly Miss Anna Abrahamson, will leave July 1 for Portland, Ore., where she will make her home. SOC

Will Choose Canteen Workers.

Mrs. J. A. Sammis has been appointed by the Dundee Woman's patriotic club as chairman of a committee to receive applicants for canteen service abroad with the Red Cross. It is the object of the league to entirely finance one canteen worker and assist another with the money they realized from the recent street carnival. The only requirement, other than those demanded by the Red Cross, is that the girl must be a resident of Omaha.

For Graduating Class.

Miss Frances Adeline Swift entertained some of the members of the graduating class Monday evening. The guests included the girls in the class and the evening was spent playing games.

On the Calendar.

Mrs. F. Englen will entertain the St. James Orphanage Sewing club at her home Thursday afternoon.

At the Country Clubs

Country.

The Country club is the scene of many a pretty luncheon these warm days and such a delightful affair was given today for Mrs. Harold Estey of Boston, who is the guest of Mrs. D. C. Bradford. Mrs. Eva Wallace was the hostess and around the luncheon table with its basket of snowy daisies you might have seen:

Meddames—Meddames—
Harold Estey, Edwin T. Swobe,
D. C. Bradford, A. V. Kinsler,
T. F. Kennedy,
Miss Claire Helene Woodard.

A number of large parties will be given Wednesday evening at the dinner dance, many hostesses planning their affairs before the summer travelers leave the city. Mr. J. A. Cavers will entertain a dinner party of 14 in honor of Mrs. Harold Estey, the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Baldridge will have 25 guests in their party and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Burdick will entertain 12.

Field.

One afternoon has been set aside at the club for a little recreation and the bridge parties will be continued during the summer, the first game taking place this afternoon.

The kiddies will have their first dancing party of the season Friday afternoon.

Happy Hollow.

Miss Margaret Wattles entertained informally at luncheon at the club today when her guests numbered five. Miss Myrle Gilchrist will entertain a party of the younger girls and men this evening at the club, the occasion being her birthday. Covers will be laid for eight at the table, gay with its centerpiece of red roses.

Red Cross

The Manderson auxiliary will meet Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. in Druid Hill school for work on hospital garments.

The Ladies of the Maccabees, Hive No. 952, will meet at the home of Mrs. J. M. Thompson Wednesday afternoon to sew for the Red Cross.

Miss Kathryn Osterberg and Miss Helen Beisel will leave this evening for Kansas City to spend the week-end with friends.

June Weddings

Brando-Myers.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Myers, to Lt. Marlo Brando, son of Mr. E. E. Brando, will take place Saturday in Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. Myers and Miss Betty Myers will accompany the bride west, leaving Wednesday morning. The ceremony will take place at the Trinity Episcopal church, Rev. C. Y. Grimes, a cousin of the bride, performing the ceremony.

These military weddings are planned in such a hurry that the pretty bride-to-be has to forego all the pre-nuptial parties and very often even a white wedding gown, but Miss Myers will be a mist of tulle over white satin and her bridesmaid, Miss Betty Myers, will be gowned in delicate pink.

Lieutenant Brando, who is stationed at American Lakes, expects to sail very soon for over-seas service, and his bride will remain with him as long as possible. She will then return to Omaha to continue her nurse's training course at the university, where she has been studying for several months, that she, too, may serve her country in the near future.

Conroy-Morearty.

Such a pretty wedding took place today, and all in the cool of the morning. The scene of the nuptials was St. Peter's church, Rev. Father McCarthy officiating. To the soft strains of the organ and the violin played by Mrs. Ed. E. Morearty, jr., and Miss Clara Snyder, the two little flower girls, Miss Eileen Michaelson and Miss Corrine Morearty entered, all in pink and white, scattering pink sweet peas in the path of the bride, who followed them.

The bride, Miss Dorothy Mae Morearty, entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Ed. E. Morearty, and was met at the altar by the bridegroom, Mr. Martin J. Conboy with his best man, Mr. Hilliard Morearty.

The military note was supplied by the ushers, one of them being Lt. Charles Morearty of the Port Omaha halloo school. It was planned to have Lt. L. J. Conboy of the United States navy, as another usher, but, owing to the submarine dangers on our eastern coast, he could not obtain a furlough. Mr. Will Michaelson of the aviation section, took Lieutenant Conboy's place in the wedding party. Mr. and Mrs. Conboy will take a short wedding trip and will be at home in the Drake apartments after July 1.

Lonergan-Wrigg.

A pretty June wedding took place Monday morning at St. Philip Neri church in Florence when Miss Hulda Wrigg of Bennington became the bride of Mr. Maurice Lonergan of Florence. Father Barrett read the marriage mass.

The bride's sister, Miss Clara Wrigg, was her only attendant, while the best man was Mr. Charles Lonergan, brother of the bridegroom.

The young couple will make their home on Mr. Lonergan's farm near Florence.

McCarthy-Wagner.

A wartime wedding, pretty in its simplicity, was that of Miss Edna Wagner, daughter of Mrs. S. A. Wagner, and Sergeant E. McCarthy which took place Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother in the South Side. Rev. Father Gannon officiated.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. W. J. Leary, sister of the bridegroom, who was matron of honor. Mrs. Leary is the wife of Chaplain W. J. Leary, now at Long Island, N. Y. Mr. Paul C. Hayes of the great Lakes naval training camp was best man. Sergeant McCarthy left immediately after the ceremony for Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., where he was recently transferred from Camp Funston.

Dance at Walden Wood.

A gay party of young people will motor out to Walden Wood, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Learned, this evening for a little moonlight dance. The honor guest will be Mr. William Sears Poppleton, jr., the occasion being his 13th birthday. The grounds will be hung with bright colored Japanese lanterns and the twenty guests will one-step on the smooth floor of the broad porch.

Service League Luncheon.

A luncheon will be given on Saturday by the board of directors of the National League for Woman's Service for Miss Ethel Langdon Drake, founder of the Drake motor service abroad, and Lieutenant Chandler, recruiting officer for the league, who comes to Omaha to recruit ambulance drivers.

Junior Red Cross Meeting in Omaha

After the first Nebraska state institute for Junior Red Cross workers has been held on Saturday there will be a similar meeting in each of the 14 districts and still later in each of the 93 counties.

The plan is entirely new. Nebraska is the first state to adopt it. The state has to the credit of the children 83,602 articles made for Red Cross. This includes surgical dressings, hospital garments, knitted goods, refugee clothing, knitting needles, benches, tables and checker boards.

An account of the work has been written in detail by the state director, L. E. Trester. This will be made into pamphlet form and 2,000 copies distributed at the National Educational Association convention to be held in Pittsburgh this month.

Junior Red Cross work is conducting its summer program in co-operation with the junior extension work at the University of Nebraska, in the lines of food conservation, farming and sewing. When the credits are given for summer work they will be added to the next year's school work and the Red Cross will also get credit.

Omaha Girl to Direct Recreations of Army Workers in War Zone

When Miss Mabel Salmon arrives in the war zone she will be the first representative from Omaha to do recreational work among the nurses and munition factory workers.

This is the branch of the service to which Miss Salmon has been called through the Young Women's Christian association. The fund which will be used to defray her expenses will be a part of the $4,000,000 drive to which Omahans contributed last fall. This work of building up the strength and soothing the overwrought nerves of these active war workers, is one of the greatest importance, and this Omaha young woman is particularly fitted for such a post.

After graduating from the Central high school she took a degree at the University of Nebraska and a certificate for athletic work. For two years she served as physical director in Springfield, Mo., and four years at Winona, Minn.

A special course in Young Women's Christian Association National headquarters in New York have taught her how to solve the most varied kind of problems pertaining to recreational work.

This evening the North Side Presbyterian church will add the 47th step to their service flag during a reception which will be held in honor of

Mabel Salmon

Miss Salmon. She will depart this month to be ready to sail in July with 50 other workers who will go abroad.

Social Settlement Notes

Campfire Girls of the South Side Social Settlement will present a Campfire play, "Spruce Cone and Bunch Berry" Thursday evening at Camp Brewster, the Young Woman's Christian association camp for business girls. This is visitors' night of Campfire week.

Miss Juliet Griffin and Miss Alta Davis will direct the play in which the following girls will take part: Kathleen Kresse, Marie Wolf, Clara Kinnair, Bernice O'Brien, Maggie Bluvast, Katherine Powers, Katherine Coulter, Rose McCarty, Marion Corr, Mary McLaughlin, Martha Novak and Rose Pesheck.

The Misses Ruth and Ruby Swenson, students of the University of Nebraska, are guardians of this group. Nearly 4,000 persons, 3,910 to be exact, was the attendance at the settlement during the months of May and June, according to a report made by the head resident, Mrs. W. S. Caldwell, to board members. There were 90 visitors, two employment cases, five juvenile cases, five civilian relief, 15 nurses, 21 medical cases and 375 visits. Seven talks were given, 1,019 phone calls, 66 interviews and 12 meetings attended.

The visiting nurse association's baby station was opened at the settlement, June 3. Nineteen attended, June 10, 20 babies were brought. Camp fire girls attended the council fire at Hanson park, and also had picnic with their new guardian at Riverview park. The Russian Progressive club had a picnic at Riverview park, June 9, when 65 attended. A picnic was given for little girls of the sewing classes at Riverview park by teachers, June 6. Two new nationalities were added to the foreign classes.

Social Service Notes.

Men who never would work before are feeling the compulsion to work now, according to Ensign Walter Grantham in charge of the Salvation Army Industrial home. The home is well filled with men, but they are having no difficulty finding work.

Thomas B. Powell, executive secretary for the War Camp Community Service and its founder in this city, will leave soon to do field secretarial work. He has won considerable praise for his work here. J. M. Parker of Cedar Rapids, Ia., has arrived in Omaha to fill the vacancy.

Two thousand pairs of shoes intended for the Belgians have been turned over to the Volunteers of America, because they were mislabeled. Instead of tying the shoes together in pairs, many people threw them into the wagons sent for them. They are in such confusion that they are not worth shipping and the local organization will try to get them mated up and utilize them.

A farewell luncheon for Miss Grace Odde, employment secretary at the Young Women's Christian association, who is leaving Omaha, will be held Wednesday noon at the Commercial club by the social service workers of Omaha. The regular board meetings are held on Tuesday, but this meeting has been changed to Wednesday and will be the last meeting held this summer.

Tablecloths Government

Issue in Germany

"As is well known," says the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger of March 7, "the use of tablecloths in public eating places has been long forbidden, except when table tops are rough and have no other appropriate sort of cover. Even for such cases it is said that there will soon be issued a prohibition against which all proprietors concerned urge their objections vigorously."

"The Berlin Union of Hotel proprietors and many others interested called a meeting at the Central hotel to protest against the further extension of the ban on tablecloths. In the meeting attention was called to the distress already prevalent in hotel circles and the point accented that the enactment of the prohibition would still further lessen the tax-paying abilities of the proprietors, as also that this new rule would impair foreign respect for Germany."

"The meeting decided upon taking steps to communicate with the imperial clothing bureau and recalled that the hotel proprietors had already placed all available household linen at the disposal of the imperial bureau."

Proportions in Which Wheat Substitutes Should Be Used

These weights and measures were tested in the experimental kitchen of conservation division, and of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, office of home economics.

In substituting for one cup of flour use the following measurements. Each is equal in weight to a cup of flour.

Barley 1 1/2 cups
Buckwheat 3/4 cup
Corn flour 1 cup (scant)
Corn meal (coarse) 3/4 cup
Corn meal (fine) 1 cup (scant)
Cornstarch 1 1/2 cups
Peanut flour 1 cup (scant)
Potato flour 3/4 cup
Rice flour 3/4 cup
Rolled oats 1 1/2 cups
Rolled oats (ground in meat chopper) 1 1/2 cups
Soy-bean flour 3/4 cup
Sweet potato flour 1 1/2 cups

This table will help you to make good griddle cakes, muffins, cakes, the U. S. food administration, home cookies, rop biscuits, and nut or raisin bread without using any wheat flour.

You will not need new recipes. Just use the ones your family has always liked, but for each cup of flour use the amount of substitute given in the table.

The only difference is the substitution for the wheat flour. Everything else remains the same. You can change all of your recipes in a similar way.—Colorado Agricultural College News Notes.
