Murderer Asks That He Be Not Pardoned for Crime

Paris, June 22.—Camille van der Marden was sentenced to death by the Assizes of Seine et Aise some three weeks ago. He had murdered an elderly woman to rob her of a few francs. There were no extenuating circumstances and in sentencing him the judge said that he was a monster who did not deserve to live.

Some days ago his attorney asked him to sign a plea for clemency which would be presented to President Poincare, asking that sentence of death be commuted to life imprisonment. Van der Marden refused to put his name at the bottom of the document, saying: "The judge said I didn't deserve to live." His lawyer, however, presented the plea for clemency over the refusal of his client.

President Poincare received the following letter: "Please do not pardon me. I don't want to be pardoned. The judge said I wasn't fit to live." It is signed Van der Marden.

Fifty thousand men would be accepted as Ireland's contribution, but if compulsion had to be resorted to the number would be regulated by population.
