SOUTH SIDE WILL CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH IN STYLE

Biggest and Most Patriotic Day Ever Staged in Magic City Under Way.

Plans for the biggest and most patriotic Fourth of July celebration ever held on the South Side were outlined at a meeting of representative citizens at the South Side city hall Monday night.

It was agreed to abandon plans for a celebration at Spring Lake park and hold a joint celebration in Mandan park. Attorney John C. Barrett was appointed general chairman, and the committees in charge of the big demonstration were appointed as follows:

Program, John C. Barrett, S. L. Winters, Dean Ringer; music and amusements, W. W. Fisher, M. P. Hinchy, John Kramolish; chairman of attendance committees, Thomas Kozio, Joseph P. Uvik, J. C. Vana, W. W. Fisher, Frank Helen. A committee of Lithuanians, who will canvas the Lithuanian settlement, was named as follows: Joseph P. Uvik, B. Malausky, A. Poskus, A. Akron, F. Zigmant, A. Zinlap.

Plans for the big demonstration were gone over in detail and it was decided to have races for children, both boys and girls, 15 years old and under. These races are scheduled to be held from 2 to 5 o'clock. People are urged to bring basket lunches and make it a regular old-fashioned picnic.

Chief Justice Morrissey of the Nebraska supreme court will deliver the principal address of the day at 7 p. m. A number of other prominent speakers are also listed on the program.

Detailed Program. The meeting which will be held at 7:30 p. m. will be called to order by John C. Barrett, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Band music will be followed by singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the Armour Glee club, church choirs, J. C. Wrath director, and audience.

Reading of the Declaration of Independence will be by Leo Fried, followed by the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

An address by Mrs. Leff-Caldwell on "Americanization," will follow, with music by the band and singing societies, and reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Chief Justice Andrew M. Morrissey is chief speaker.

Retreat of the flag, by soldiers of Fort Omaha, under charge and direction of Col. John C. Maher will close the program.

All Serbian societies under leadership of Peter Plechas will attend in a body.

Swift and Company President Protests Against Charges
Louis F. Swift, president, Swift & Co. protests on recent charges made against that firm.

"Swift & Co. protests against certain unwarranted statements in the report issued by the Federal Trade commission on war profits. In them, they give the public a false impression regarding the profits and the conduct of the packing business."

"Swift and Company can justify its profits as not only reasonable, but necessary for efficient conduct of the business, to finance large inventories at high prices and to expand facilities at increasing costs."

"The report states that the five large packers have a monopoly of the meat industry and manipulate the market without regard to law. This is a serious charge unsupported by facts. Swift and Company, in competition with all other packers, has no control over prices and the policy of the company is to obey the law."

"Packers' profits are unjustly aggravated by the statement that four large packers made a profit of $140,000,000 during the three war years, as against an average annual profit of $19,000,000 for the three years before the war. This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit and the $19,000,000 should have been $57,000,000 to make the comparison just."

Tops Market With 18 Steers
Averaging 1,323 Pounds Each

William Oeltjen of Creston, Neb., topped the South Side cattle market Tuesday with a prime load of 18 Hereford steers that averaged 1,323 pounds and sold for $18.25 per 100 pounds. These were the lightest steers to reach this figure on the Omaha market. They were part of a drove of 106 feeders purchased by Mr. Oeltjen on this market last December. At that time they averaged 728 pounds and were bought for $10.50 per 100 pounds.

Charles L. Corkle of Tilden, Neb., topped market for yearling steers with a load of fancy whitefaces that were sold by Melady Bros' Commission company to a local packer for $17.35 per 100 pounds. Mr. Corkle is one of the best known breeders of fancy cattle in the state. The steers marketed Tuesday morning were of his own feeding and raising.

SOFT DRINK MAN IS ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Joseph Schneider Faces Third Complaint for Violation of Prohibition Law; Friendly Caller Loses Purse.

Joe Schneider, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, 6321 Railroad avenue, was arrested Tuesday on a charge of illegal sale of liquor, after Fred Hafka, Plattsmouth, Neb., who was arrested on a charge of illegal possession of liquor, told the officers that he had purchased the liquor from Schneider. Hafka had part of a pint bottle of whisky in his possession when arrested.

This is the third time Schneider has been arrested in connection with violation of the prohibition law. He was discharged in one case, and was fined $100 and costs for illegal possession of liquor last January.

Mekkelson gave chase and recovered the coat, minus the purse. Detectives Zaloudek and Creal recovered the purse, from which $30 had been extracted, and arrested Florence Gordon, who is being held for investigation.
