

Nebraska
NONPARTISANS
MUST DIVULGE
NAMES IN COURT

Manager Evans Insists Membership Be Kept From Attorneys; Gooch and Manahan in Tilts.

From a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, July 5.—(Special Telegram.)—A list of the membership of the Nebraska Nonpartisan league must be produced in the present nonpartisan State Council of Defense hearing on an order by the court, although Manager Evans, of the league, insisted it must be kept from the lawyers because there were secrets of the organization which the lawyers must not get hold of, nor the Council of Defense.

The reason given by Mr. Evans was that efforts had been made in some localities to try and get men who had given checks in membership to withdraw them, and if the council got hold of the list it might cause the members considerable inconvenience and bother.

Attorney Strode gave as his reason for wanting the lists examined that officers of the league had sworn that the league had from 15,000 to 20,000 members, and he didn't believe it. He said the league was charged with trying to get its membership from pro-Germans and he believed the court could verify it by an examination of the names.

This afternoon H. E. Gooch of the Gooch Milling company and president of the Star Publishing company, was on the stand all of the afternoon as a member of the State Council of Defense. James Manahan, attorney for the league and Mr. Gooch had several tilts and once the court was compelled to order Mr. Manahan to his chair after a more than usually windy combat between the counsel.

Mr. Gooch had admitted that he had given $50 to a representative of the Grain Exchange of Omaha to help fight the Nonpartisan league, and this appeared to stir Mr. Manahan considerably. Manahan charged Gooch with being "yellow," because he had not enlisted as a private after Mr. Gooch had said that he had enlisted in the Seventh regiment as an officer.

FARM LIGHT MEN GATHER IN OMAHA

More Than 100 Salesmen and Distributors of Lally Wilson Holding Convention at Fontenelle.

E. R. Wilson and James A. Flynn, of the Omaha branch of the Lally-Wilson farm light and power plant, were the hosts Friday for more than 100 of their salesmen and distributors who are holding a convention at the Fontenelle hotel.

The convention opened with salesmen present from all the leading points in Nebraska, southern South Dakota and western Iowa. There are distributors present from Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Denver, Kansas City, Wichita, Dallas and Cincinnati, who are getting pointers on how the Nebraska branch is securing its trade.

A history of the Lally light and power plant was given by George E. Willis, after which there was a description of the working parts of the plant, given by W. Kendall, manager of the technical department of the Detroit factory.

A unique feature was the demonstration of the approach and sale made by a salesman of the Lally light to a farmer prospect. R. R. Cook, of Chicago, acted as the salesman and F. P. Paul, the prospect. The questions asked and answered were those encountered under every condition of sale and inquiry wherever the plants are introduced.

A general talk was made by E. R. Wilson who spoke along technical lines and salesmanship.

Today a number of dealers will arrive in the city and the convention will close with a trip to the den to witness a performance of "The Land of Rum Bay," by Ak-Sar-Ben thespians Monday night.

There are luncheons for the delegates at the Fontenelle each day and a representative of the Saturday Evening Post and Mr. Harold, of the Willard Storage Battery factory are guests of honor.

Over 1,000 farm light plants have been sold by the Omaha branch since headquarters were established here a year ago.

Explosion of Gasoline Stove Causes House of DeWitt Man to Burn

Beatrice, Neb., July 5.—(Special.)—The farm house of W. H. Jewell, three miles southeast of DeWitt, was destroyed by fire with all of its contents. Last winter his hog barn with a large number of swine burned and recently his barn was destroyed. Six head of horses perished.

Table Rock, Neb., July 5.—(Special.)—The fire bell rang out at an early hour and the barn of Capt. H. P. Jennings was found to be on fire. It was impossible to save the building. The barn on the farm of Ed Wopata, some six miles northeast of Table Rock, was burned to the ground, together with a number of farming implements. Mr. Wopata had recently built a new barn, in which his horses were housed or the loss would have been more serious. The origin of the fire is unknown.

WAHOO'S FOURTH NETS $60,000 FOR RED CROSS FUND

More Than 20,000 Persons Participate in Patriotic Celebration and Even Water Sells for Big Price.

Wahoo, Neb., July 5.—(Special.)—One of the biggest celebrations in the history of Wahoo was held July 4 and the Red Cross received every cent, which amounted to more than $60,000, spent during the day by the 20,000 or more people who participated. It was a gala day for Wahoo in every respect.

Frank Kirchner, as chairman of the executive committee, was assisted in staging the event by Mayor Ed Bradenburg, E. E. Plack, Dr. E. O. Weber and M. A. Miller. Their plans were so efficient that the town was closed tight for anything but that which helped to swell the Red Cross fund.

Everything that was sold during the day meant that much more money for the Red Cross. Even water was no exception, and several paid high prices to quench their thirst. An auction, comprised of goods of every shape, color and style, was among the big events of the day and the exact proceeds are yet unknown—they haven't been able to count the money to date. Five automobiles, on each of which the dealers had donated $50 of the purchase price, were sold for approximately $28,000.

Moving pictures were taken of the big parade, held early in the day and of the many special features on the program. The rain interfered—but only a little, for Wahoo was staging a patriotic event.

Little Tots Stay With Mother at City Jail

Mrs. Beryl Jenkins, 1104 North Sixteenth street, and two of her six children, Mamie 9 years old, and Opal 3 years old, spent Thursday night in the marion's department at the city jail. Jenkins deserted his wife about three months ago and went to Kearney, Neb., where he works in a lumberyard. Three of the children are living with Mrs. Jenkins' mother at Kearney. According to his wife, although he has written her several times, asking that she and the two children come to Kearney to live with him, he has not provided for their support and she has had to work in a restaurant to earn a living.

Jenkins came to Omaha about five weeks ago and without his wife's consent took their youngest child, a baby, back to Kearney with him.
