Two "Juney" Nuptials in July Take Pretty Omaha Girls

June days were crowded to the brim with weddings and we find that a few young couples gave us the slip and although their nuptials were as Juney as could be with tulle veils and rose leaves we did not even have a hint until now in the warm midsummer days the secrets are being told. One of these bulletins from Dan Cupid comes today, for Mrs. Martha Farmer announces the marriage of her daughter, Martha, to Mr. Jay M. Cook, which took place in Sioux City, June 15. The ceremony was performed at the Cathedral Epiphany, Rev. D. J. Schleiss officiating. The young couple will make their home in Omaha.

Women Are Finding Their Places And Going 'Over the Top' in Efficiency

Photographs recently received in this country from England show that the men's places in bakeshops have been taken almost entirely by women. Judging by reports, these women bakeshop workers are not only making good, but their employers are now wondering why they had not thought before of this sort of help. It is very probable that before long women workers in American bakeries will be the rule and no longer the exception, and there is no good reason why here, too, the members of the fair sex will not be all, and perhaps a little more, than the men workers have been. Women as a rule are more apt at learning and adapting themselves to new conditions than men, and what is more important, they are more inclined to cleanliness, surely a great factor in the modern commercial bakery. One baker in Rhode Island, who does a very large business, informs us that he replaced most of his men with women—not young, foolish things, but workers of middle age—and he has found their services not only equal to those of the men, but in many instances far superior and more profitable—Bakers Weekly.

Why You Should Invest In First Mortgage Bonds

THERE are many reasons why you should invest in First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds if you want to secure absolute safety for your principal and an assured interest rate of 6%, payable semi-annually.

The First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds offered by us are especially attractive investments because—

They have behind them security, in the shape of direct first mortgages on improved, income-producing city real estate, always worth about twice the amount of the mortgage.

They are not affected by panics or manipulation and are acceptable security for loans.

They are always worth dollar for dollar what you have paid for them plus accrued interest.

They can be secured in denominations of from $50 to $1000 and in maturities of from 2 to 10 years, and can thus meet almost any investment requirement.

The owners of the property mortgaged are always individuals or corporations of financial strength and the highest business reputation.

The margin of safety is constantly increasing as the serial bonds are retired, no portion of the mortgage being released until the last bond has been paid in full together with all interest due.

In short, these bonds possess all the basic essentials of the safest and most desirable investments to a marked degree.

Our booklet, "How to Choose a Safe Investment," describes these bonds fully and contains much valuable investment information. Send for a copy today.
