Stranded

Robert D. Neely, United States commissioner, had just graduated from the Omaha High school. He was 16 years old and decided that Omaha was too small a place for him to stay in.

In Ottumwa

We quote the following foreword of a news story which recently appeared in an Ottumwa paper: 'It has been a weird, wickedly wanton week for Ottumwa in the chambers of the city police court...

Executed by Chloroform, "Nan" Dreams of Those She Lured to Bloody Death

Mrs. "Nan" Capricorn, a female of the species, who had lured unlimited thousands to a quick and bloody death, was executed with chloroform at South Omaha the other day.

HOW OMAHA GOT HIM

Tom F. Quinlan

BY EDWARD BLACK. Thirty years ago, more or less, a boy entered a grocery store in Blair, Neb., and bought a gallon of molasses. The lad was bare-footed and he wore a large straw hat.

VOICES OF THE NIGHT

A male resident of the Hanscom park district, whose saving grace is a sense of humor, has cultivated a habit of quoting Shakespeare to suit certain domestic situations.

PUMPING AZONE

"Doc, what's on the other end of this tube with which you supply your famous ozone inhalations?" "It opens into my garden, which contains an unlimited quantity of good fresh air."

ARTISTIC SOUL OF AN ARTIST IS COMFORTED BY EXERCISE OF HIS ART

The artistic soul of Doane Powell was tortured by the sight of a garbage can—no, no, we should say a refuse receptacle, which stood in the back yard of his home at Thirty-third and Marsha streets.

PASSPORTS NECESSARY FOR TRAVEL DURING CIVIL WAR UNDER DRAFT LAW

Draft regulations are not nearly as hard on the general public now as they were in the time of the civil war. Many have forgotten, if they ever knew, how difficult it was for a man of draft age to travel during our big family quarrel.

CRIMINOLOGY

It is not a crime— "To murder the king's dog." "To break into print." "To take the hair of your friends."

LAUGHTER

The Barber Creamery Supply company does business in Chicago. We wonder if this accounts for the hair in the butter.

ESTIMATE

Twenty-seven thousand girls work in the Woodmen of the World building. We made this calculation while waiting for an elevator in the lobby just before 1 p. m.

WILLING

"Buy food with thought; cook it with care," says the food administrator's slogan. Unfortunately we have to buy it with money and cook it with coal or gas.

LOFTY

"He's got awful high ideals," we heard one girl say to another, on Farnam street. We wondered which adjective had the most emphasis.

COMBINE

Harry Tedrow has just been appointed United States attorney for Colorado. His name looks like a Teddy-Woodrow compromise.

TRUTH

The movies teach us that all southern gentlemen and widowers with one beautiful daughter. Somewhere in the film the daughter must appear in riding togs.

AGED

According to the pictures on magazine covers, the American people are never less than 75 years old.

UNDER A PILE

Dean Ringer, city commissioner, had one of the real thrills of his life during his foot ball days. He was playing guard with the Cornhuskers and the game was on Northrup field, Minneapolis. He told about it: "I went down under a line smash and was under the pile. I had to use every muscle to keep myself from going flat. I knew that if I relaxed I might have suffered a broken neck. It was a thrilling time for a few moments and I will never forget it. My back was sore for three days. I believe that was a greater thrill for me than when the election returns came in on May 5."

THE LIMIT

"Joslar, do you mean to say you come home without havin' that tooth out?" "I do. The dentist wasn't there."
