Food Administrator Gets Big "Voluntary" Contributions for Infractions of Food Laws.

In response to the persuasive eloquence of J. M. Hunter, food administrator of Holt county, the Red Cross of that county has been enriched by $500, being the amount of "voluntary" contributions made by sundry individuals and mercantile establishments as the result of infractions of the food administration rules.

Four of the fines, amounting to $25 each, were imposed on residents of Emmett, who developed "back to the farm" tendencies. They went to O'Neill, where they represented themselves as rural residents, purchasing 48 pounds of flour each, being twice the amount allowed those who dwell in towns.

At O'Neill were Thomas Quinn, F. J. McManus, J. C. Horiskey, E. A. Dimmitt, R. K. Morrison, John Melvin and Abe Santos. At Atkinson the contributors were: J. T. Bauman and E. Tomnick. At Emmett, James Shorthill and Gaspar Englehaupt paid fines.

At O'Neill the Bazelman Lumber company, Fred Bazelman being the manager of the grocery department, received a fine of $100. The offense in this case was the selling of canned hominy and chicken feed as a substitute with flour.

Mr. Hunter has been one of the most active of the county food administrators in the state and the Red Cross has profited largely by his work.

Mrs. Sunderland Obtains Divorce in District Court

Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland was granted an absolute divorce Tuesday from her husband, Ralph E. Sunderland, vice president of the Sunderland Brothers' company, by Judge Day. Mr. Sunderland did not appear in court, but was represented by his attorney, Charles A. Goss. Both Mrs. Sunderland and her attorney, Alvin F. Johnson, were present.

Alimony, suit money and other financial matters relative to the division of the property will be settled out of court. No court order was made at this time relative to the custody of Dean Page Sunderland, 19, only child of the couple, who is at present spending his vacation in the east.

Mr. Sunderland had filed an answer in district court Tuesday to the petition for divorce of his wife. Sunderland admitted that he had property and enjoyed some income, as alleged in his wife's petition, but denied practically every other allegation.

Mrs. Sunderland filed suit for divorce two months ago, charging that her husband had treated her with extreme cruelty and that he had abandoned her on May 1, 1918. She asked a division of her property, alimony and the custody of her minor child, Dean Page Sunderland, born in 1899.

The Sunderlands were married in Minneapolis in 1894. They have been prominent in the life of the city.

Will Take No More Chances On Poor Marksmanship

Mrs. Estella Jackson, colored, wife of Ole Jackson, also colored, well known politician and man about town, thinks that she owes her life to the poor marksmanship of her husband. But she refuses to run any more chances. In a suit filed for divorce she alleges that last Sunday he fired a revolver at her, but missed her. She says also that he has treated her "with extreme and inhuman cruelty." She wants her maiden name back, which was Estella Gaines, an absolute divorce and a court order restraining him from annoying her.

Demands Heavy Damages For Fall on Icy Steps

On the allegations that a fall on the icy steps of the house she had rented has reduced her to a nervous wreck, Mrs. Ida Davis has sued Arthur Theodore, her landlord, for $25,072. Mrs. Davis alleges that she rented a house at 1602 North Twenty-seventh street from Theodore, and that both she and her daughter slipped on the icy steps and porch at different times. She was 10 days in a hospital as a result of her fall, she says.

Says He Will Enjoin Paying For Home Furnishings

When the matter of allowing a bill of $788.85 in payment of the furnishings purchased from Brownell hall, for the equipment of the Girls' Detention home, which were procured by Commissioner Ringer, on an emergency came up for discussion in council, Tuesday morning, Attorney Claiborne warned council he would enjoin the payment of the account, if allowed.

More Than 20,000 Men Have Joined Here Since War Began

Since the declaration of war against Germany more than 20,000 men have enlisted in the army at the Omaha recruiting station. Of this number, 10,461 were Nebraska men. The Omaha district includes all of Nebraska and the greater part of Iowa. The population of the Iowa portion is greater than that of Nebraska.

In the Silent Drama

Sun—Credo Harris' popular novel of the Kentucky race tracks "Toby," being shown under the title of "A Dollar Bid" with J. Warren Kerrigan in the leading role is a powerful photograph of a charming romance. A poor boy, raised in the negro quarters of a southern town comes to the notice of a beautiful girl, the daughter of a plantation owner and is given an opportunity to make good upon the plantation. The love story that follows is full of dash and action and brings to it the charm that has made him so successful in portraying the characters in his former western stories. In addition to the feature there is also being shown at the Sun now the next of the series of the war films of England under the title "Britain's Bulwarks." The series shows the work of the army of England on land and sea, the advance to Bardad the work done by mine sweepers and by destroyers and the home work in England itself.

Rialto—The interest at present attaching to the various inventions in armament on both sides of the world conflict renders the new Dorothy Dalton picture, which is being presented at the first half of this week at the Rialto theater exceptionally timely. A "Ray Rifle"—more powerful than any weapon of his character, is the central element in a mystery tale that is perhaps the most thrilling that has been seen in Omaha in a long time. Today's program also includes the second installment of Official Government War Pictures, Pauline Frederick, in "Her Final Reckoning" is the feature picture looked for the last half of this week at the Rialto, beginning tomorrow.

Strand—Elsie Ferguson, the popular Artcraft star, is being presented the first half of this week at the Strand theater, in a splendid pictorialization of Henrik Ibsen's famous psychological play "A Doll's House." In this photograph the gradual development of this child wife into a strong, resourceful woman is the basis of an exceedingly interesting psychological study, of which Miss Ferguson's abundant dramatic talent makes the most. This is a picture which will never be forgotten. Vivian Martin, in "Viviette," will be the feature at the Strand the last half of this week, beginning tomorrow.

Empress—Lovers of music will greatly enjoy the program at the Empress which will be shown for the last times today. The Seven Serenaders begins being staged of unusual ability, offer selections of special melody and costume and worthy of special mention. Tomorrow there will be complete change of program. A story of the gay and frolicsome life of the latest Fox tragedienne, marks Peggy Hyland's latest production, "Other Men's Daughters," the best that this English actress has done in many months, which will be shown at the Empress for the last times today.

Mus—Theda Bara will be presented today and tomorrow in Porter Emerson Browne's play "A Fool There Was," based on Rudyard Kipling's poem, "The Vampire." This is a 1918 version of the production that made Miss Bara famous. The story as presented is absorbing and powerful and grips from beginning to end.

Lothrop—Tom Mix in the cowboy comedy drama "Western Blood," will be here today and Thursday. The play pictures a young Texas ranchman meeting an army officer's daughter while breaking a horse in the corral at Los Angeles when on a trip to sell stock. A thrilling end to the play occurs when bandits capture the girl at the instigation of the crafty horse buyer, and Tex rescues her after a running fight with the bandits. One of the finest animal pictures of the year will be shown in the new Sunshine comedy, "Hungry Lions in a Hospital," which is also on the bill.

COUNCIL VOTES THAT BAD MEAT WAS SOLD IN CITY

Upholds Commissioner Ringer in Contention That Inspection Has Been Lax.

Commissioner Dean Ringer was upheld by the city council in his contention that diseased meat was sold by independent packers of South Omaha to consumers in this city, and that there had been a very lax inspection of cattle and hogs killed by such packers in the past.

A report was submitted to the city council at the Tuesday morning session, reciting that city inspection of animals slaughtered in the independent plants in the past has been inadequate, and for the past few years animals have been slaughtered for days of a time without ante or post-mortem inspection.

The report stated that 75 per cent of the head glands of animals killed for food were not examined and whatever inspection there was of the six plants, widely scattered, was inadequate.

It stated that fully 10 per cent of the cattle and hogs slaughtered were diseased and the meat of such animals was unwholesome and dangerous for public consumption.

The report commended Commissioner Ringer in taking action to expose the situation and it recommended that sufficient city or government inspectors be named to make a complete inspection of the animals slaughtered for food at independent packing plants, and the same be paid out of funds of the city of Omaha.

Teh report was adopted with Butler voting no, the mayor and Dean Ringer not voting, and Zimmerman Ure, Falconer and Towle voting in the affirmative.

Minnesota's Ten Thousand Lakes Invite Vacation Seeker

Minnesota's play grounds, covering an area of 5,000 square miles of crystal waters, comprised into something like 10,000 chartered lakes, to say nothing of the hundreds of rivers and streams, add inviting surlines to the vacation seeker. The national forest area offers a little over 800,000 acres of primeval woodland, while the state, through its legislature, has set aside an additional 250,000 acres to be known as state forests. In all directions excellent motor roads have been constructed and are still being constructed, so travel is easy.

Hello Girls Enjoy Picnic And Dance at Krug Park

Some 50 girls who have been in the employ of the Nebraska Telephone company for a period of five years or more, enjoyed a basket picnic at Krug park Tuesday evening.

Instead of answering "Number please?" they insisted on saying, "Will you hurry up another sandwich?" and after the cats the girls took in all the amusements, ending up the evening at the dance pavilion. A similar outing will be held each month during the summer season.

Draws Three Months for Stealing Two Bags Sugar

Anton Menonsek, car inspector, pleaded guilty in federal court Tuesday morning to stealing two sacks of sugar from box cars. He was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

Gillan Makes Trip for The War Industries Board

Manager Gillan of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial bureau, left Monday night for Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Minneapolis to study methods being pursued in the development of the work of the War Industries board. Omaha was recently made regional headquarters for Nebraska to make a survey of the industries of the state in order to indicate where war material contracts can be filled to the best advantage. Mr. Gillan's trip is preparatory to arranging the work of the state in this line.

This Man Fears Chiggers And Super Gallinippers

Former City Attorney Harry B. Flecharty has gone with his family to Maize, Izzard county, Ark., where they will spend a three weeks' vacation on their farm.

Harry says he will not go barefooted. The native democrats there, for the reason he is not immune to the attacks of the ticks and chiggers which infest the region. He is taking a shotgun along to bag some of the gigantic gallinippers, as the big mosquitos of that section are called, and will bring some specimens back to Omaha to show his friends. Samples of the big game hunting there.

Extend Rule Prohibiting Giving Liquor to Soldier

Rules prohibiting the sale or gift of liquor to soldiers have been extended, according to information just received from the committee on public information. The new rules specify that liquor shall not be given to guests in khaki. This applies to all states and makes it a crime for persons living in a "wet" state to serve alcoholic beverages to soldier guests. Five-mile zones are to be established wherever 250 or more soldiers are stationed for 30 days or longer.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. A. J. Ames, for a number of years police surgeon at police headquarters, and well known in this city, is here from Porter, Cheyenne county. Dr. Ames, who is a prominent oculist of western Nebraska, has a son in the O. R. T. camp at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky.

Novel and Striking are the July "Hy Art" Taffeta Silk Petticoats At $3.85

A GAIN, as shown above, we offer style, also quality, fit and colorings, in taffeta silk petticoats, the equal of those at higher prices, for only $3.85.

Only made possible by the way they are produced, as follows:

1st—We are associated with a large group of city stores, who contract one year in advance for the entire output of the $3.85 HY ART Petticoat Factories, consisting of two styles per month

2nd—The factories knowing what to count on one year in advance can arrange for materials at lowest prices.

3rd—Making the same two styles, colors, materials and lengths for every store, just like large automobile production, results in large manufacturing savings.

4th—By this plan there is also a large saving in wholesale selling expense.

Therefore one can readily see how we can give such unusual values at the modest price of $3.85.
