Professionals were in abweek ago.

Corn prices ranged from 3 to 5 cents higher for the early market with the extreme advance in white and other varieties period manifesting such an utter lack of the selling several cents up. One car of public interest. This was most evidenced in the rails, many of which were unquoted.

News of the day was constructive for the No. 4 white of only slight damage brought Stover yesterday's top in this grade. Out figures were $40 higher. Three cars of No. 3 white sold at 77c for early sales. Wheat was in excellent demand at prices unchanged to le advance.

In the rails, many of which were unquoted. News of the day was constructive for the most part, although the discussion over copper prices at Washington and the conference of railway executives to effect a satisfactory form of contract with the government were among the deterrent factors.

Only nominal rates were quoted for time money, indicating further withdrawal of 321 such funds by local financial institutions. Nevertheless forecasts favored partial recti-fication tomorrow of last week's heavy contraction in excess reserves.

Col. Harry Cutler of Providence, R. I., chairman of the Jewish welfare board, has issued a call for volunteers to give at least six weeks of their summer vacations to the work of the board in the camps and cantonments. This appeal is directed particularly to school teachers and others who are unemployed during the summer.

The welfare board announced recently that it would send 100 men to France to work among the Jewish soldiers there. Since the first quota of these men will be recruited from the workers who are now engaged in camps and naval training stations in this country, men will be needed in short order to fill the vacancies, tem-
