Miss Snyder In Omaha To Discuss Mrs. Learned's New Patriotic Masque

Furlough houses for the American soldiers in France are to be erected through the efforts of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Although we have not heard much of this branch of war work in Omaha, a number of benefits have been given in Washington for the cause. These cottages built behind the lines will be "a little bit of Heaven" for the men who have been granted short furloughs and here the horror of the trenches may be forgotten in peace and quiet, for a time at least.

Miss Dorothy Snyder, daughter of Mr. Edgar C. Snyder, Washington correspondent of The Bee, is spending a few days in the city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Eddy. Miss Snyder has come to confer with Mrs. Myron Learned, who is writing a patriotic masque which will be given in Washington during the harvest time. Miss Snyder is staging the masque and the proceeds are to be given to the furlough house fund. She was one of the earnest workers for the general federation at the concert given in the capital city in May, when several Metropolitan stars donated their services and the entire proceeds were given to this fund.

Mrs. Learned's "Fantasie of the Flag" will probably be given in the Sylvan theater, which has the stately dome of heaven for its roof and is built beside the Washington monument, one of the most beautiful locations in Washington. This is the only government theater in the United States and it seems most fitting that this artistic playlet should be given in Uncle Sam's own theater, while the "box office receipts" will be used to make the lives of our boys in France a little brighter.

Engagement Announced

Another college girl and young officer have been added to the list of Cupid's conquests, for Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Detweiler announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Lt. Frank Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Carpenter. The wedding will not take place until after the war, for the young lieutenant expects to serve his country abroad very soon, and his fiancée will return to the university at Lincoln to complete her college course.

Miss Detweiler is one of the most attractive of the younger girls and her engagement is of great interest. She is a graduate of the Central High school and will complete her university course next June.

Lieutenant Carpenter is a graduate of the law school of the Nebraska university and a member of the Delta Chi fraternity. He entered the first officers' training camp at Fort Snelling, where he received his commission of senior first lieutenant. Mr. Frank W. Carpenter is also in the service of the government, for he has been stationed in the Philippine Islands for some time.

For French Countess

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kountze entertained at dinner Monday evening at their home in honor of Countess Madeline de Bryas. Covers were laid for nine guests. This attractive young French woman is spending such a short time in the city that few social affairs have been planned in her honor. Miss May Mahoney will entertain informally at her home this evening following Countess de Bryas' lecture.

Card Parties

A card party will be given by St. Michael's Altar society Wednesday evening at the church hall. Aside from the door prize, prizes will be given for every game.

PERSONALS

Mr. Benjamin Anchell and son, Charles, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been visiting Mr. Anchell's mother, Mrs. M. Anchell, and sister, Mrs. M. Kahn, left Sunday to join their family in the Catskills.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wallace left Friday for San Antonio, to see their son, Lieut. Glenn Wallace, who is ill with pneumonia.

Dr. and Mrs. V. M. Boal and Miss Virginia Ailor, of Auburn, Neb., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kearns.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Towle and Miss Marion Towle are now at Charlotte, N. C., where they have taken a house.

Miss Winifred Prouditt of Friend, Neb., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Prouditt.

Lieut. Frank Carpenter of Camp Dodge, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Frank W. Carpenter.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Spigle Monday, at the Ford hospital.

New Magazine "Carry On" Free On Request Should Interest Families Here

"Carry on!" That's the true soldier's command to his comrades when he drops wounded. A new magazine is being issued by the American Red Cross for the surgeon general of the United States army and its title is "Carry On." This magazine tells how the disabled soldiers are being made to earn as much or more than they earned before entering the army. Those really interested in this magazine should write to "Carry On," 311 Fourth avenue, New York City, for free copies.

Like the Petals of an Orchid

By GERTRUDE BERESFORD.

WHEN nature decided to make the most beautiful color in the world, she chose the petal of an orchid as her medium of expression—palest violet tinged with pink. She sometimes repeats this color at dawn, when the sun comes over the rim of the earth. Most of us waive the pleasure of witnessing that event! There is, however, a shade of orchid georgette crepe which repeats the petals of an orchid and the tinge of dawn. Every woman in the world, regardless of her age, weight or coloring, should have an orchid crepe gown. Georgette crepe requires little elaboration to be a success. This model is simply developed in that fabric. Bands of tucks are inserted in the tunic and form the collar and cuffs. A bib and tiny apron of shadow lace are attractive touches. The grade is of deeper orchid satin ribbon.

The "Autochir"

The word "autochir" has been invented by Americans in France to describe an American motor truck train carrying a special type of load to the front. The first syllable is plain enough; the second is from the word "chirurgical," the old way of spelling surgical. Combined they describe an American Red Cross truck train of eighteen camions carrying a knock-down form of tent hospital of 200 beds. One truck transports a complete operating room ready to be bolted together and put into operation in a few minutes. Its trailer is a sterilizing room which is backed up against the operating room structure. From this trailer the nurse passes sterilized instruments and supplies to the surgeons around the operating table. The other trucks carry double tenting, sturdy framework, floors in sections, window frames, heating stoves and full equipment for diet kitchens. Red Cross construction crews specially selected and trained for this work go with the trucks, and within a very short time after the first truck reaches the selected point the wards are ready to receive the patients.

Two more young women have received official notice of their acceptance for Red Cross work abroad. Miss Helen Louise Cornell of Omaha will do canteen work overseas, and Miss Kathryn Sedwick of Lincoln will be assigned to social service work.

Canning 'Don't's.
Don't try to improve the method. Follow one method faithfully—a mixture of advice may result in failure, says a bulletin from the National War Garden Commission of Washington, which will send you a free canning manual for the asking.

Don't mistake simmering water for boiling water. "It was boiling just a minute ago" doesn't meet the requirement of boiling water at the moment of using, says a bulletin from the national war garden commission of Washington, which will send anyone upon request a free canning manual.

Take Plenty of Time TO EAT

If you eat too rapidly you are most likely troubled with indigestion and constipation. Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly. Then when you feel dull and stupid after eating, which shows that you have eaten more than you should, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets to aid digestion.

FLICKS OF FASHION

Vogues of the Moment in Omaha Shops

"In the dresses of Spring and Summer Shortness has been their strength. But the dresses of Fall and Winter are adding an inch to their length."

A buyer of ready-to-wear in one of our large department stores says that when on an eastern purchasing trip she observed several fashionably dressed women at The Ritz, whose dresses were ankle length. "Every well-gowned New York woman," she says, "is now wearing her skirts not more than five or six inches from the ground."

Miss Izetta Smith, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Smith, was seen at the Happy Hollow club very jauntily attired in a black slip-over sweater of soft Shetland wool, purled at the waist line in white, and also boasting an extraordinarily large white collar. With this very stunning sweater she wore a white linen skirt, and black silk stockings and white oxfords. I understand the sweater came from a very fashionable Fifth avenue sweater shop.

Fringe as a trimming for dresses is growing in favor. On a navy blue serge frock, which was just taken from its tissue wrappings yesterday, was seen the heavy corded fringe such as we use to associate with the upholstered furniture of the mid-Victorian period.

Jersey is highly pleasing for cool weather frocks. In one of our stores was seen a beautiful array of these in shades of Java, taupe, Joffre blue, navy, mahogany and black. Most of these were quite elaborately braided in soutache, embroidered in heavy harness stitching, or beaded. A few of the dressier models are combined with satin of a self-tone shade.

Great varieties of separate skirts for fall are shown. These are slightly longer than summer styles, reaching the shoe-top at least, and in some cases the ankle. They have the effect of narrowness.

Very recent arrivals in one of our shops are gowns of black satin. One very striking model noted had the long Mandarin blouse effect, with the new becoming, rounded neck. The edge of this blouse was finished with silk fringe a foot in depth.

Sixteen rows of tailored silk braid on the edge of the Russian peasant blouse of a blue serge frock gave it a very handsome effect. Eight rows of the braid finished each cuff, while the round neck had but two. A slip-over sash added an air of nonchalance.

Bows of narrow fringed braid adorn a blue serge dress.

Bessie Love has designed a service bar pin for women relatives of American soldiers to wear.

Every "extra" thinks genius climbs the steep stairs to success, while luck goes up in the elevator.

A strong five-reeler depicting the ravages of rum will make more converts than six Billy Sundays.

Francis Marion has written ten Mary Pickford stories, all of which have been screened by Paramount and Artcraft.

Jack Pickford, Paramount star, is working for the government in two ways. He's a sailor making tours for the Liberty loan drive.

Marie Pagano, known because of her famous stunts before the camera as being the rival of Rodman Law, is a member of the cast of "The Judge," a World picture, featuring June Elvidge and John Bowers.

In "The Captain of the Grey Horse Troop" Edith Storey leaves the village wearing a straw lid embellished with cherries. Three years later she returns wearing the same bonnet, and the cherries are still there. Hoover should give Edie a medal for saving 'em so long.

It may be that it will be a long time before movie fans see Irene Castle in screen plays after her new Pathe release, "The Mysterious Client," and a couple of others already made, but not yet released, for the beautiful young widow of Capt. Vernon Castle has volunteered to go to France, along with other famous artists, to entertain our soldiers who are serving in the trenches.

My Hat Diary —BY— Carita Herzog

I am just wild about golf, aren't you? Went out to the club yesterday with Harold Stoner to play, and I will have to confess that he is a much better player than I am. I am just learning, so, of course, you wouldn't expect me to play as well as a real professional. Dolly Blake was there playing with Captain Grainger. He says for "over there" next week, so I see why Dolly is monopolizing most of his time. I just wonder if the captain likes her. I don't see how he can help it, she is such a dear, and so pretty and stylish, too. Yesterday she wore the best looking golf hat, just splendid for keeping the sun off. It was one of those "Salvation Nell" shapes, with a very high crown. It was made of green satin, faced with white satin with green printed polka dots. A narrow band of that same material was around the crown. Dolly looked very sweet in it. I have never seen a better looking golf hat, have you?

Advice to Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Gum Problems.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Seeing your good advice to others I thought I would try.

I am a girl 18 years old and work in a candy factory. A couple of us girls put our names in a box of candy and I received a letter from some boy the other day. Do you think it would be proper for me to answer it?

What does it mean when you receive a stick of gum in a letter and the party doesn't say a thing about it in the letter. Also can you have a service flag in your window for uncles and cousins.

Thanking you in advance. ANXIOUS.
Don't make acquaintances in such a cheap way. These friendships are never lasting and very often bring regrets. I wouldn't attach any significance to presents of gum sent in letters.
Service flags are usually displayed for a husband or brother.

Marry Him.
My dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a girl of 22 and have been engaged for about a year. The man to whom I am engaged has a very good position and has home all built for me and we were to have been married the first of August, but as he is of draft age we do not know what to do.

Please tell me what to do. I am a trained nurse and am very well able to take care of myself. Also tell me if it is all right to wear a veil or just a traveling suit. What color would be the most appropriate—blue, black, gray or purple?
Please state in The Bee as soon as possible, as we are both anxious to hear from you. We love each other very much and it would break our hearts to part. Hoping to hear soon, I remain, yours truly, SARA JANE.

Marry him by all means. Wear the color most becoming to your style and complexion. A veil would be out of place with a suit.

New Flour Price for Omaha Is Fixed at $9.89 a Barrel

Food Administrator Wattles has advised from Washington announcing the new maximum mill price on flour in car lots, f. o. b. Omaha. It is $9.89, an advance over last year in a sum that will just about amount to the increase in the freight rates. The price fixing this year is on a different plan than last year. Last year millers figured the cost of operation and then charged a net profit of 25 cents a barrel. This year the country is divided into zones. In the Omaha zone the maximum mill price has been fixed at $9.89 a barrel, this charge to include the cost of operation and the profit.
The new prices will be applied to the flour made from the wheat of this year's crop.
