

OMAHA COMPANY TO BUILD 1,000 TRACTORS SOON

Now at Work on First Twenty Square Turn Machines; Omahans Behind Big Concern.

The Omaha Structural Steel company has obtained a contract for the construction of 1,000 Square Turn tractors, in which considerable money is invested, and is now at work turning out the first 20 machines of the contract.

A recent election of officers of the Square Turn Tractor company was held and the amount of Omaha capital invested in the corporation secured for this city three of the seven members of the directorate.

They are Walter S. Jardine, former Omaha city commissioner; Joseph Hayden of Hayden Bros., and C. E. Burnham, Norfolk banker and director of the Tenth district federal reserve bank.

May Move to Nebraska.

Omaha's representation on the directorate gives promise of bringing about the removal of the general offices of the concern to Nebraska.

The company now has a factory at Norfolk, Neb., which is being equipped with machinery to turn out 1,000 tractors a year, and there is no prospect of there being a change of location of the plant while the war is in progress.

Plans for building a big new factory in Nebraska have been postponed for the period of the war, the government expressing the wish that the company's capital be used instead in the production of tractors by contract. Sale of capital stock for this purpose has government approval, and material for use in the tractors is given preference in railroad shipments.

Was Movie Feature.

The Nebraska company recently received wide attention when one of its tractors was featured in 4,000 moving picture theaters throughout the country by the Hearst-Pathe film service. The Square Turn tractor was picked out of 100 tractors for a Pathe feature on woman's work on the farm in war time, because of the ease with which a woman can handle it. The steering is all done by power, enabling a woman or boy to control the entire machine by levers. Three of the Nebraska tractors will be at the demonstration at Salina, Kan.

The directorate and a number of other Omahans are driving to Salina to take in the big tractor show.

Judge Scores Newspapers for Keeping Boys on Street

"Newspapers that issue late editions, thus keeping small boys on the streets till an early hour of the morning, were severely criticised by Judge Sears and Probation Officer Gus Miller in juvenile court Saturday morning.

The rule now permits the small newsboys to deliver extras and evidences was brought into the court to show that the regular late issues are being treated as extras and boys being kept up all night to sell them. Every week complaints are made.

"I am constantly taking small boys off the street," said Mr. Miller, "taking their papers away from them and seeing the youngsters home." Edward Thompson, Nels Johnson and William Perlman, children under 14, were in court and testified that the World-Herald gave them papers to carry at night.

Start Drive Monday for Girls' Patriotic League

An intensive campaign to enroll the girls of Omaha in the Patriotic League will start Monday under the direction of the War Camp Community Service. The campaign will last throughout the week, ending Saturday night with a great pageant and musical program at Riverview park. It is expected that 10,000 girls will sign pledge cards during the week.

To become a member of the league requires only that the girl pledge herself to promote the Patriotic League pledge, thus maintaining the highest moral standards and a patriotic spirit. More than 1,000 girls will compose the group of singers for Saturday's program and any wishing to join in it is asked to attend a rehearsal Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the high school.

Complete Dope Outfit Is Captured by Police

A complete "dope" outfit, consisting of several bottles and boxes of cocaine, morphine, "snow pills," "hy-po" needles, and paraphernalia for cooking "hop," was produced in police court Saturday as evidence against A. E. Purrier and Ed Graham, who were arrested at Sixteenth and Dodge streets Friday on a charge of vagrancy.

A number of curiously shaped spoons and containers, which looked as if they had gone through a tornado, were produced in court. Purrier explained the possession of the articles by saying that he was taking them to a repair shop. Prosecutor Murray suggested that a "repair shop" would not be a bad place for the possessor of such articles.

Omaha Man Arrives Abroad Two Months After Enlisting

Frank P. Murphy of Omaha has arrived overseas with the 61st Engineers less than two months after he enlisted in service. Murphy, who lived at Eighteenth and Paul streets, enlisted in May and a card received from him by Pete McDermott, of Engine company No. 6, of the city fire department, announced his arrival in France nearly a month ago.

Any Auto Fair Mac Was Thief.

The insignia of Uncle Sam was no protection for the automobile which A. B. Waugh, Kellie building, left parked in front of the building Saturday afternoon. It was removed by some patriotic person who may have had his love of country roused by the trade mark. The car belongs to F. N. Orr of the United States Gypsum company, Chicago.

The automobile of Frank Backman, Florence, Neb., was stolen from the corner of Fifteenth and Dodge streets at noon Saturday.

How British Aviators Made "One Up" On Adversaries

London, July 27.—How a British flying squadron turned the tables on German airmen who had been bombing their aerodrome is related by Lt. W. A. Barnes of the Royal air force. "We had been giving the Hun a lively time," the officer says, "bombing his dumps, billets, communications and towns nightly. When, therefore, he bombed our aerodrome two nights in succession and completely upset all our arrangements, it was generally agreed that he had scored one over us. Much as his enterprise was admired, however, it was decided to try to check it.

"The plan evolved was simple. The next day the British machines were flown over to a neighboring aerodrome, where it was believed they would be safe from raids. Then they started off just after dusk to make a reprisal attack.

"We arrived at the enemy's lair," Lieutenant Barnes narrates, "at a most opportune moment, for a second relay of his machines were just 'taxying' across the ground to 'take off' in the flare path. In our wildest dreams we had not hoped for such luck as this, and every possible advantage was taken of it. "A few well-directed bombs were dropped right in among the machines that were awaiting their turn to take off, set fire to two and badly damaged others. Some equally well-directed incendiary bombs set fire to a large shed, and then the real fun of the fight began.

"By this time the first relay of enemy machines, sent as we afterwards learned to bomb our own aerodrome again, began to return. As they were on their own side of the lines, and in blissful ignorance of the fate of their aerodrome, they were flying with navigation lights full on, thereby giving their position away in the darkness.

"Relieved of our bombs we were able to give fight, and successfully shot down one in flames, while another was distinctly seen to crash on top of a wood.

"Having thus paid our debts in full we left the remainder to land on a bomb-riddled aerodrome, no enviable task at night, while we went off home to celebrate a good night's work, with the comforting assurance that the R. A. F. were at least 'one up' on their adversaries' game."

L. C. L. FREIGHT "SAILING" DATES ARE SCHEDULED

New Method of Shipping Freight to Conserve Cars Will Be Effective Monday in Omaha.

"Sailing" dates for L. C. L. freight, or as it is known to the layman, freight in less than car lots, becomes effective Monday. The schedules as applied to the several roads operating in and out of Omaha prepared by the sub-committee, working under the direction of the regional director are in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution among shippers not later than Monday morning. There are 300 closely printed pages of schedules.

The committee is working on a schedule for the handling of freight in car lots, but it will be several days before it will be ready for publication and distribution.

The "Sailing" date plan for L. C. L. freight has the approval of the federal railroad administration, the officers of the roads, the commercial bodies and practically all of the large shippers. In making up the schedules, representatives of the commercial bodies and many of the shippers were called into conference to aid and give their advice relative to the plan.

In some of the eastern railroad zones the "Sailing" date plan has been worked out and is said to give entire satisfaction in this, that it expedites the movement of freight, conserves railroad equipment and manpower.

Briefly, the "Sailing" date plan will regulate the routing of freight over the short line of road and sending it to destination on certain designated days and in cars loaded to capacity.

Short Line Used.

Under the old method of railroad freight, consignments might be sent to Lincoln over the Burlington, the Rock Island, the Northwestern, the Union Pacific, or the Missouri Pacific, or the shipper so determined, notwithstanding the distance by way of the Union Pacific, Northwestern and Missouri Pacific is 50 to 75 miles farther than by way of the Burlington or Rock Island.

Now in apportioning business and determining the routing the Burlington will take all the L. C. L. freight going out of Omaha, destined for Lincoln, while that shipped from Council Bluffs will be routed over the Rock Island.

In Nebraska the Burlington will take the business from Omaha into Lincoln, Crete, Beatrice, Hastings, York, Seward and intermediate points. The Northwestern will take Fremont and Norfolk and beyond, as well as intermediate points, while the Union Pacific is given Columbus, Grand Island and beyond.

Business coming from Chicago will be routed over the Burlington, the Northwestern and the Milwaukee. That into Council Bluffs will be over the Rock Island and Milwaukee, while that for the transfer will be over the Northwestern.

Conserves 400 Cars.

Freight going to Sioux City and beyond will be routed over the Northwestern. The Rock Island will take the business for Des Moines, Moline and Peoria and intermediate, including common points. The Wabash will handle everything between Omaha and Shenandoah. The Omaha-Chicago business will be divided between the Burlington and the Northwestern, with the Missouri Pacific taking the business destined for Kansas City and St. Joseph. The Great Western will be given the St. Paul, Minneapolis, Ft. Dodge and Mason City business. Denver will be divided between the Burlington and the Union Pacific, with the Rock Island taking consignments destined for Pueblo, and in a similar manner will be divided the business routed out to the hundreds of stations that are tributary to Omaha as their market town.

Regular dates are designated for making shipments and that they may know the dates on which shipments will be made, jobbers will be provided with schedules giving the desired information relative to routings and connections on branch lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe Greet Son Over Wire As Leaves for Front

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Metcalfe said goodbye to their son, Captain Buehler (Ole) Metcalfe, over long distance telephone last night. Mrs. Metcalfe held an extension line and father and mother heard their son at the same time.

The captain said he was leaving for France.

"When I saw my wife in tears I thanked God for the enemies I have made in opposing those who do not love America," Mr. Metcalfe said at the democratic county convention last night, while relating the leave-taking of his son.

"I am grateful for the privilege of making this supreme sacrifice of giving my boys, and while making these sacrifices, will not submit to the taunts of traitors at home."

Nights Are Always Cool at Camp Cody, Says Omaha Boy

J. L. Williams, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams, 2627 Davenport street, who is stationed at Camp Cody, Deming, N. M., is home on a 10-day furlough.

He left Omaha with Company B of the "Dandy Sixth" Nebraska more than a year ago. He was assigned to military police duty at Deming for several months.

"We get good treatment and plenty to eat," declared Williams. "Of course the days are hot and the sand is something awful, but the nights are cool enough so we always need blankets."

"There are many thousands of Nebraska soldiers at Deming and hundreds of them are officers. A Nebraskan has a right to be proud of the showing his state makes at Deming."

Williams was formerly an employee of the Union Pacific company here. He was married last month to Miss Phoebe Bassor of Los Angeles, Cal. He will return to Deming next week.

Sues for Divorce Because Husband Is Sent to Prison

Because her husband is serving a sentence of five years in the Iowa state penitentiary, Mrs. Ruby Coles has filed suit against him. She says that her husband, William Coles, was sentenced to a term in prison last December for grand larceny.

The cruelty of her husband is so extreme, alleges Mrs. Lela Mae Bruce, that she finds it impossible to live with him any longer. She fails to specify details, but says that she has tried it for nine years. She wants her maiden name of Lela Mae Bayne restored to her.

Nellie D. Black has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Fred L. Black, for nonsupport after 20 years of married life.

Eugenia Thomas sues her husband, John W. Thomas, for nonsupport. They were married 11 years ago.

Retain Liberty Bonds, Is Warning Received in Omaha

If a plausible individual approaches you and offers to trade stock in something for your Liberty bonds, call the police or drag him to the nearest bank for investigation.

Warning has been received by the Chamber of Commerce from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that many persons are being swindled by this means. They are trading their gilt-edged Liberty bonds for stock which has little or no value besides the paper on which it is printed.

"Keep the Liberty bonds you have and buy more," says the warning. "They are the safest investment on the face of the globe."

Sophus Neble Gives Salary Check to Red Cross Fund

Sophus F. Neble, county commissioner, has given the Red Cross a check for $750. This contribution, in connection with six other contributions previously made to the Red Cross, Young Men's Christian association, Knights of Columbus, National league of Women's Service, and one or two other patriotic movements, covers the entire amount of money received by Mr. Neble as county commissioner.

Mr. Neble made a statement when selected as county commissioner, that he would give his entire salary to patriotic work.

No Farm Feminalls for Her, Declares This Omaha Woman

"Doing farm work during her vacation will not include the wearing of feminalls, declares Miss Esther A. Johnson, assistant probation officer. Miss Johnson leaves Monday for her vacation, which she expects to spend on the farm of her sister near Oakland, Neb. She expects to help swell the nation's food supply, but as to feminalls—well, we have to draw the line somewhere, says Miss Johnson.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPH.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Thomas, Mrs. G. W. Linsinger and P. L. Haller are Omahans who are registered at the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York City.

VIERECK GETS LABOR RELIEF BUREAU FUNDS

Contributions of Pro-Germans To Aid Enemy Aliens Pock-eted By Editor of Fatherland.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 27.—Evidence that George Sylvester Viereck, whose claim to Americanism is being investigated, obtained $100,000 for his own uses from pro-Germans who believed they were contributing to improve the status of enemy aliens has been obtained through examination of witnesses and of his bank accounts, it was announced today at the office of Merton E. Lewis, state attorney general. About half of this sum was invested in German war bonds and municipal securities.

After America entered the war and Viereck changed the name of his publication, The Fatherland, to Viereck's Weekly, his source of revenue, which was the German government, was cut off. To carry on his alleged German activities, it was charged by Alfred Becker, deputy attorney general, he employed agents to collect funds under the representation that the money was to be used to finance the agricultural and industrial labor relief bureau, which he said was organized to aid unemployed enemy aliens. These agents, called as witnesses, told of their work in all parts of the country and of obtaining sums ranging from $5 to $800.

Bought German War Funds.

According to Mr. Becker, the evidence indicated that Viereck paid himself a salary of $700 monthly and that the labor organization placed $400 or $500 worth of advertising in Viereck's Weekly each week. In these two ways, Mr. Becker declared, Viereck apparently obtained personal possession of virtually all the contributions. Transcripts of his bank accounts are said to show he purchased through Hugo Schmidt German war bonds and Berlin elevated and subway company bonds. It was Schmidt, now interned, who acted for the German government in placing millions of dollars in American banks to the credit of former Ambassador Von Bernstorff in connection with the Bolo Pasha case.

Incidentally, Mr. Becker declared, it has been discovered that when the Fatherland was launched, just after the European war began, Count Von Bernstorff was the first contributor, placing $1,000 in Viereck's hands. Between that time and America's entry into the war, the German government financed the weekly to the extent of $100,000, Mr. Becker said the evidence shows.

Denies Editing Dernburg Speech.

Dr. William Bayard Hale in a statement issued from his summer home at Asland, N. H., tonight denied that he

Petrograd's Famine Tragedy Reflected in Destitute Scenes

Petrograd, July 27.—Petrograd is a city of despair and near starvation. A great majority of the 2,000,000 population now crowded into the once proud capital of Peter the Great, know what it means to be without food—and know that winter is coming with worse in store.

The people talk, dream and—when they can—eat food. Long lines form early in the morning before the shops to buy food. Thousands storm incoming trains in a wild scramble for food brought in by peasants and traveling soldiers. In front of every shop window where foodstuffs are displayed people stand and gaze longingly.

Petrograd is a city with its pockets full of worthless money. Money presses are working overtime and wages are increasing, but neither can keep up with the rising prices. The Nevsky Prospect, the principal street of Petrograd, is a picturesque evidence of the city's interest in food. In this season of white nights every hour of the 20 of daylight sees it lined from one end to the other with street vendors, selling cakes and chocolate and candies and queer little pancakes called "bleenies," and sugar in lumps from carefully guarded little boxes.

had edited the speech attempted to justify the sinking of the Lusitania delivered by Dr. Dernburg in Cleveland, as charged yesterday by Attorney General Lewis. Dr. Hale declared he had no "part or lot" in the speech.

Rabbit Fanciers to Hold Table Exhibit in Omaha

Rabbit fanciers of Nebraska are arranging to give a table show at the home of C. R. Pinneo, 3117 Lincoln boulevard, August 12.

Present indications are that there will be more than 200 entries of the finest examples of the different breeds of utility rabbits in the state. Prizes, such as silver loving cups and other articles of value, will be offered for the best displays in the different classes.

Speaker Clark Again Says Can't Come to Nebraska

Washington, D. C., July 27.—Special Telegram.—Speaker Clark will not go to Hastings to attend the democratic convention next Tuesday.

"I have told National Committee man Mullen that I cannot go to Nebraska, because the law will not permit me to appoint a speaker pro-tem for more than a day at a time. I told Mr. Mullen that I would be pleased to go to Nebraska providing congress was in adjournment on the date set for the convention, but as congress is only in recess I must forego the pleasure of meeting with the democrats of the prairie state."

Persons who formerly owned limousines and lived in palace-like homes along the Nevsky are selling candy and biscuits in the streets to earn their living. Their customers are opulent sailors and workmen who buy biscuits at fabulous prices.

One need not be surprised if the lady dressed in silks and satins—one of the bourgeoisie—who sells a biscuit on the corner addresses him in any of the two or three foreign languages she knows. Then one may buy newspapers from gray-beards in frock coats and silk hats and former army officers in shiny boots. All are trying to earn a livelihood in the "commune" of Petrograd, where property is confiscated and incomes have vanished.

Some of those on the Nevsky are girls, pretty ones, and they walk the long length of the street all day and into the night asking for the little postage stamps that pass for money in Russia now—because they are hungry. And there are other girls, and the number grows larger every day, who do not exactly beg but look wistful and hungry and sell themselves, instead of biscuits or chocolate or newspapers, to the rollicking sailors and debonaire speculators.

Better Mind When Called; He May Be an Officer

A flippant answer to Chief of Detectives Briggs' advice to Jack Rhodes, 2608 Dewey street, to turn on his light, cost Rhodes a couple of hours in jail Saturday night and may cost him a police court fine. Briggs called out from the police automobile to Rhodes and another man and a young woman in a roadster at Eleventh and Farnam streets. "You had better turn on those lights." "I guess we don't have to," came back the light-hearted and gay reply. The police car was turned around and within a block had overhauled Rhodes, who was arrested.

Mullen Given Big Swat By Demos in Old Home Town

O'Neil, Neb., July 27.—(Special Telegram.)—The Holt county democratic convention this afternoon "steam-rolled" National Committee man Arthur Mullen, who learned his politics here, by ruthlessly overruling his recommendations. The convention platform endorsed national prohibition, woman suffrage and Metcalfe for senator, and was overwhelmingly adopted over protest of Mullen's mouthpieces.

Offers Reward for Body of Man Drowned in Carter Lake

A reward of $25 has been offered for the recovery of the body of Joe Scavo, 2621 Sherman avenue, who is believed to have drowned in Carter Lake near the Illinois Central bridge Friday night. The reward is offered by James Dematteo, 2817 South Twenty-seventh avenue, Scavo's uncle.

CAMP FUNSTON TO HAVE MODEL PLATOON SOON

Picked Men to Be Trained Up to Minute in Gas Defense and Also in Bayonet Work.

With the idea of making it a model, to which troops in training can look up as an example, absolute efficiency, a crack infantry platoon is to be trained here.

The picked men in it will receive special instruction. British and French officers, instructors sent here by the foreign military missions, will co-operate with officers in the shaping of the model organization. They will receive gas defense training from men who have been through the clouds of the d-dly vapor in the front lines of France. The latest wrinkles on bayonet work will be given by men with records at Hun sticking. They will be drilled to West Point precision and given every possible experience short of that in the actual fighting line.

Will Aid New Troops.

The model platoon idea is expected to be a great aid in the fast training of new troops here. When, for instance, Lieutenant John Doe's organization shows a deficiency in bayonet work, the model platoon will be called upon. Doing the thing exactly as it should be done, it will prove an object lesson which can be seen and profit from. The same will be done in gas defense, trench practice and the hundred and one other details of infantry training.

The idea is a new one. Heretofore individuals have acted as instructors for organizations in such work. They will still do so, but with the huge advantage of being able to call in the model platoon as a supplementary instructor, teaching by force of perfect example. It should also go far in establishing a spirit of rivalry which has been found of immense advantage in training.

Other model platoons are to be formed, it is said, until one is in every regiment here. The idea was originated in the headquarters staff here and is expected to prove an immense advantage in the fast intensive training of the men at Funston.

Omaha Goes "Over the Top" In Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund

Omaha responded splendidly to the drive for a $25,000 Omaha Soldiers' and Sailors' war fund. The committee has received more than $20,000 in pledges payable monthly for one year. The wholesalers of the city have pledged $5,000 in addition, making up the $25,000 goal.

A wholesalers' and manufacturers' outing at Krug park next Thursday evening is scheduled, at which the proceeds will go to the $5,000 fund.
