FAITH IS HEART OF OUR RELIGION, SAYS DR. SMITH

Kansas City Congregational Leader Speaks at First Congregational Church.

An unusually large summer congregation and a brilliant sermon by one of the leaders of Congregationalism in the United States made the morning services at First Central Congregational church notable in the beginning history of this new church organization.

The speaker of the morning was Dr. Frank G. Smith of Kansas City, pastor of the First Congregational church there.

Dr. Smith took as his subject "The Larger Meaning of an Old Word." His text was 1 John 5:4, "And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith."

After his introductory remarks in which he gave the definition of a word as the sign of an idea the speaker entered upon a discussion of the word faith, which he said is one of the great words in religion. Religion, he said, through the operation of faith, purports to offer a solution to the problem of life.

Problem of Life. "That problem," said Dr. Smith, "can be defined in one proposition and three consequent questions. The proposition 'Things are.' This is the most obvious fact in life, the fact of the existence of things.

"The three questions which constitute life's problem are, 'How did things come to be? What is the end of the things to be? What ought to be the program of life?'

"In their attempt to solve the problem of life men have become divided into three camps. There are first the philosophers, who try to find a solution by speculation, by reason, by thinking things through.

"There is also the camp of science—those who are seeking the solution of the problem of life by the laboratory method, by tearing things to pieces and looking into the minutest detail of their construction.

"The third camp is the camp of religion, of those who believe in revelation. Those who believe that there is an eye that can look out beyond the ken of the natural eye. Not that religion does not believe in philosophy and science, but that it believes that the ultimate solution of the problem of life will be found in a consciousness of the supreme power.

"Faith is the heart of religion. How may this old word be defined, then, to make it effective in bringing us to the solution of the problem of life? "On its intellectual side faith is a reasonable inference from accepted facts. Without faith no great scientific or speculative discovery was ever made.

"On its inner, or passive side faith is best defined in the words of scripture, 'Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.' We make real the promise of life before it has become a fact to us by the power of faith.

"On its active side faith is a program of life." Dr. Smith illuminated his subject by a rich fund of enlightening illustrations. He is a skillful weaver of words, and he held the undivided attention of his audience for nearly an hour by the power of an unusual eloquence of expression.

City Allows Raise in Gas Rates for Plattsmouth

Plattsmouth, Neb., July 28.—(Special.)—Last night at a special meeting the city council raised the rates of gas from $1.75 to $2.10. The matter of rates has been under controversy for some time between the Nebraska Lighting company and the city, and there has been an ordinance pending for some time. The lighting company served notice on the consumers that the gas would be shut off on July 30. The passing of the ordinance has caused the company to rescind the order.

NEBRASKA MAKES MARK IN CAMPAIGN

Four-Minute Men of Cornhusker State Rank High Among States in Liberty Loan Drive.

Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—That the Nebraska branch of the division of four-minute men of the United States committee on public information is a front-rank leader among the states is shown by the efficiency table, based on the third Liberty loan campaign, just published at Washington in the "Four-Minute Men News."

In the percentage of chairmen who reported on the campaign, Nebraska ranks first in number of local organizations, first in the number of chairmen who conducted that campaign, second in the number of speakers, fourth in the number of addresses, and seventh in the aggregate audience.

Nebraska's 312 local branches, which Prof. M. M. Fogg, the state director, announces has been increased to 336 since May, puts her at the top—above New York, which ranks second with 288. Kansas is third, 220; Iowa, fifth, 180.

Nebraska's 1,875 four-minute men speakers are outnumbered by only New York's 3,814. Missouri is third, 1,849; Illinois, fourth, 1,672; Iowa, sixth, 1,151.

Nebraska's record of 4,070 addresses in the third Liberty loan campaign was exceeded by only three states—New York, Missouri and Illinois. In aggregate audience, Nebraska's 1,105,800 was seventh. New York's 6,201,000 is third.

In the percentage of chairmen who reported on the campaign, Nebraska's 94 per cent (equalled or exceeded by Illinois and four small organizations of less than 100 branches) was eight ranks above New York, 10 above Iowa, 16 above Massachusetts, 14 above Kansas, 20 above Missouri, Michigan is tailender among the 29 states in the honor roll. Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California missed this honor list.

SIGNS POINTING TO REPUBLICANS CARRYING STATE

Convention of Party Largely Attended and Much Interest Displayed by Voters.

From a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, July 28.—(Special.)—Everything points to a big republican victory in Nebraska, according to reports being brought into Lincoln by candidates who have been attending republican county conventions out in the state.

The attendance at the conventions as a rule is good and the enthusiasm shown indicates that the people are alive to the situation and that there will be a reversal of judgment when the voters get a chance to cast their ballots. In one county where clubs have been organized it is reported that large numbers of democrats are joining these clubs, announcing that they are done with the democratic party forever.

Democrats Feel Fearful. Much intergat is being taken in the coming state republican convention to be held in Lincoln Tuesday, and there is every indication that it will be the largest convention held for many years.

That democrats are fearful of the result is evidenced by the fact that democrats and democratic papers are endeavoring to stir up a fight in republican ranks. Even they are beginning to recognize that the republican forces are alive and primed for the battle, and that they have but one chance to win, and that is that the republicans will get to fighting and have another split. Upon this they are hanging their hopes for victory and not upon any idea that they may be able to retain the confidence of a long suffering public.

Their attempt to gain strength by appealing to the idea that there should be no politics in this campaign and that politics should be adjourned during the period of the war, has gone into the discard, for by their own acts they have shown that politics has not been adjourned, but is on tap in the democratic camp with two spigots in each barrel and the bung hole wide open.

Beach Not Talking. The presence of National Chairman Will H. Hays of the republican national committee is bringing about a feeling that the party will be strengthened greatly by his presence and much is expected from his address.

There is absolutely nothing in the democratic story that Hays will mix in the selection of a state chairman for the republican party. That Beach has put in some good work is conceded, but he refuses to say that he will be a candidate again for the chairmanship, contending that a chairman should be selected by the republicans of the state and not through the candidacy of any man.

Few Nebraskans Violate Food Administration Rules

Nebraska's patriotism has been much in evidence in its response to the appeals of the food administration. With a few minor exceptions the various counties of the state are not only complying rigidly with the rules which make the conservation of fundamental foods of even more consequence than the Washington suggestions contemplate.

A visit to nine counties in the central part of the state by A. C. Law, deputy food administrator, emphasized the conservation that is being followed in Nebraska. Law has just completed a tour of Seward, Saline, Fillmore, Clay, Hall, Hamilton, Merrick and Polk counties, where he met with the county food administrators and their deputies.

In all counties 95 per cent compliance with all rules and regulations were reported by the county officials.

SAVIDGE NOT TO PRAY TO THE ANGELUS

Pastor of Peoples' Church Refuses to Join With Omaha People in Supplication To Virgin Mary.

Rev. C. W. Savidge in his sermon at the Peoples' church Sunday morning took for his subject the "Angelus," which Omahans have been asked to recite at noon.

"The Angelus is a sectarian prayer to the Virgin Mary, commonly said in the Catholic church three times a day," said Rev. Mr. Savidge. "Pope John XXII instituted this office in 1316 and several popes have granted indulgences to those who say the Angelus on their knees.

"I do not pray to the Virgin Mary. She is the handmaid of the Lord, but she is not the Diety to whom prayer should be addressed. I pray to God through Jesus Christ, who is the true and only intercessor with God.

"I do not believe in set and stereotyped forms of prayer. Forms of prayer shackle the soul and stifle and destroy true prayer. True prayer is the sincere desire of the heart uttered to God in faith in the name of Jesus Christ for a particular object.

"In this call to prayer, all classes of people are asked to join, irrespective of their moral and spiritual condition, the bootlegger, the Sabbath breaker, the adulterer and the profane swearer.

"The Bible tells us that the sacrifices and prayers of the wicked are abominable in the sight of God. The wicked can only pray one prayer; that is the prayer of penitence. God does not ask the wicked to pray, but to repent.

"Spiritual freedom and religious liberty are the precious heritages of this republic."

PHILLIP PRAMER DIDN'T EXPECT TO BE WELL AGAIN

Couldn't Turn Over In Bed When He Began Taking Tanlac—Feels Fine Now.

"To show you what an awful condition I was in before I started on Tanlac, just this spring I was down with rheumatism so bad that I couldn't turn over in bed," said Phillip M. Pramer of 2419 Parker street, the other day.

"For the past 12 years," continued Mr. Pramer, "I had suffered so terribly from catarrh of the stomach that I thought at times it would about do me up. I had to diet myself for a long time, living on the very simplest kinds of food, and even that would bloat me up with gas so I could hardly breathe. I suffered from awful headaches, and dizzy spells would come on me at times that lasted for two or three hours before my head would clear up. I ached so with rheumatism all over my body that many a time I could hardly stir out of my bed. I seldom knew what a good night's sleep was and would get up in the mornings with my head feeling as big as a bushel. Nothing I took did me a bit of good and I got so at last that I hardly expected ever to be a well man again.

"But when I read so much in the papers about Tanlac I got more hopeful and thought I would try a bottle. My stomach began to respond to the first few doses and it wasn't long before I had the appetite of a horse. I could eat anything now, onions, cabbage, turnips, meat, all kinds of things that I didn't dare touch before. I never have any trouble with gas or bloating or dizziness, and headaches are a complex stranger to me now. But best of all that awful rheumatism has gradually left me and I am feeling just fine. In fact I am so well and strong that I am helping my son, who runs the Alhambra moving picture theater at Twenty-fourth and Parker streets, and I am no longer a sick man like I was before I started taking this wonderful Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., corner 16th and Dodge streets; 16th and Harney streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Farnam streets; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; north-east corner 19th and Farnam streets; West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Omaha representative, and in South Omaha by Forrester & Meany Drug Co.—Adv.
