

CHARGE DRAFT BOARDS RETURN REJECTED MEN

Negroes Discharged at Camp Grant Sent Back to Camp Funston; Army Men to Make Probe.

By Union Pacific R. R. Press Bureau. Camp Funston, July 28.—The practice of several southern draft boards in reintroducing negroes who have been once rejected by the army for physical disability, and sending them to Camp Funston, is being looked into here, and 17 specific cases, forwarded from a local board in Vicksburg, Miss. are being held for investigation and a ruling.

The men held here were originally sent to Camp Grant, Ill., it is said, and were returned from there as rejects. The causes ranged from underweight to a case of stammering which totally unfitted one man for service.

After their return to Vicksburg, at government expense, it is alleged that they were again picked up by their local boards without further examination, notwithstanding the fact that they had their draft discharge papers, and sent to Camp Funston in the colored quota last week. Several of the negroes claim that they were not given thorough physical examination by the surgeons of local boards before their first induction.

The cases under investigation are those of Sam Pittman, rejected for underweight; Charles Jackson, flat feet; John Carhron, Noah Pilate, defective teeth; Isaac Banks, old injury to jaw rendering him unfit for service; Hamp Davenport, stammerer; Henderson Walker, old fractured hip; Son Walker, canceroids; Obie Spates, defective eyesight; Eddie Taylor, flat feet; Clarence Hawkins, defective teeth; Richard Sutton, underweight; Willie Jiles, old fracture of leg rendering him unfit for service; Cicero Allison, hernia; Gulie Corsey, underweight; William Vebley, old fractured skull; Wade Clifton, fistula ano.

Take Aged Man.

Other cases which are not matters of record, but of similar nature, have turned up here from time to time, it is said. Railroad men tell the story of one negro arriving in a recent draft who appeared to be far above the military age.

"How old are you, uncle?" he is said to have been asked.

"Ah caint tell you, suh," was the reply.

"When were you born?" the questioner insisted.

"Ah doan es rightly know, boss," the negro answered.

On further questioning, he is said to have finally come forth with the astonishing statement: "Yo see, boss, when a white man has a big gun in de middle of yo' back and sez yo' am 26, yo' sho' am 26, dassall!"

The man was apparently in his fifties.

Roysterers' Wild Career Stopped by Pistol Shot

A joy ride that started with a bang was stopped with a pistol shot before it had proceeded very far by Police Officer Munch at Twenty-fourth and Martha streets Sunday evening.

The car was going at rapid speed down Twenty-fourth street, so fast, in fact, that the roysterers said no attention of Officer Munch when he bailed them. Munch fired into the air and the machine stopped at once.

The three men, Howard Callahan, 3022 South Twentieth street; Edward Pruss, 1312 South Thirty-second street, and Frank Weinert, 1726 Ontario street, were taken to the station house and booked on charges of drunkenness and disturbance of the peace. Callahan was also charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

Unable to Figure Out Why Dead Crossing Flagged

Conductors on the Dundee line are wondering why they have to get off the cars and flag the crossing at Forty-sixth and Dodge streets. The track is torn up on both sides of the street so that a railroad train could not possibly come from either direction.

Dundeeites now see the realization of their dreams of doing away with the grade crossing at Farnam and Dodge streets. Graders are filling up the place of the old track to the north of Dodge street and the watchmen have gone.

Protest Methods Adopted in Securing Conviction of Mooney

Laboring men on the South Side held a well attended meeting Sunday when resolutions were adopted protesting against the methods adopted to secure the conviction of Thomas J. Mooney on the Pacific coast and commending Governor Stephens of California for staying execution until December.

William Berger presided and the speakers were Jesse Brillhart, Judge Caldwell, Jake Davis, John Nightingale and Jerry Howard. A message was ordered sent to Governor Stephens thanking him for staying the execution of Mooney.

Sergt. Edward T. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson, 6113 South Forty-fifth street, has been appointed to enter the officers' training school at Camp Gordon, Ga., according to a message received by his parents.

Sergeant Johnson was in the quartermasters' corps. He enlisted last September. Prior to entering the service he was employed in the general offices of Armour & Co. here.

Omaha Makes Great Strides as Manufacturing Center

"Buy Omaha made goods and help Uncle Sam solve the transportation problem," is one of the slogans of the present day.

And it is a slogan filled with good, sound, practical horse sense. Omaha in the last year has made wonderful strides as a manufacturing center and the volume and variety of its products would fill nearly every need of its peculiar trade territory.

In the southern end of the city there has been a great expansion in the stock yards and packing industry, with the addition of the Skinner Packing plant, now in progress of erection.

In the center of the city the Sprague Tire and Rubber factory building is nearing completion, while in the north there is the Nebraska Tire company, the Douglas Motors Carburator and the United States Carburator plants almost ready for manufacturing their various products.

Willie's Nerve Fades When Stern Law Turns Toward Him

Three-year-old Willie Weldon, 2864 North Twenty-seventh street, came swaggering down Dodge street as proud as you please Saturday afternoon. He looked in all the shop windows, pecked in all the doorways, stopped to admire all of the movie posters and received the admiring glances of all the pretty young women who passed.

But Willie's nerve gave out when he saw a policeman coming across the way. "What's your name?" sang out the policeman. "W-W-illie W-W-eldon," he quivered. And when the officer swung the lad to his shoulder, the tears at last gave way, and "I want my muvver," he shrieked. "We'll find your muvver for you, all right," said the officer.

Just as Willie and his escort arrived at the police station a frantic appeal came over the telephone wire and a mother's anxious voice asked the police to find her boy. Little Willie was lifted to the telephone and "I'm all right, muvver, don't you worry; the great big policeman found me," he assured his mother. A half-hour later Willie was in his mother's arms bound for home nor did he get a spanking this time.

Life Story of EDWARD A. RUMELY

Man Who Bought the New York Mail for the Kaiser

(Copyright, 1918, U. S. and Canada, the N. Y. Herald Co. All rights reserved.)

A series of articles sketching the career of Dr. Edward A. Rumely, who has been created on a charge of having bought the New York Evening Mail with money furnished by the German government and of having used it for German propaganda.

By FRANK STOCKBRIDGE. (Former Managing Editor of the Evening Mail.)

By the time I reached New York again on the Monday after the sinking of the Lusitania the international situation so far as America was concerned had assumed a genuinely serious aspect. The newspapers were beginning to discuss the possibilities of war; the "man in the street" was, for the first time since the European conflict began, beginning to show his colors publicly. Up to that time most Americans had been content to keep their war sentiments to themselves; our German neighbors were the vocal ones among us, and we were content to "let them rave."

All the big plants which produce food products are working overtime, as are all of the farm equipment factories and related industries. At the present time there are several hundred manufacturing institutions turning out all kinds of products in operation in Omaha and their output will be the largest in history this year in the industrial value of the city.

The variety and quality of their products commend them to careful buyers and they almost completely fill the needs of the buyers in the regional district of Omaha. All things being equal, Nebraska and Iowa, as well as South Dakota and Wyoming buyers, should give Omaha products consideration, and Omaha consumers should give them first call as a matter of local pride and a patriotic desire to help out the government in transportation difficulties made acute by war conditions.

Hamilton County Phone Users Grow 'Igdignant'

Aurora, Neb., July 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Five hundred stockholders of the Hamilton County Farmers Telephone association yesterday held a mass convention in court here, and denounced action of the state railway commission in enjoining the building of a farm line north from Hampton, Neb. The order was granted by the commission upon the application of the Lincoln Telephone company without notice to the farmers' company. At the meeting today impassioned speeches were made denouncing the tactics of the big telephone companies in forcing the cooperative concerns out of business and then absorbing the territory.

An Offensive Against Berlin Possible, Declares British Aviation Chief

New York, July 28.—An aerial offensive to cities of Germany, including Berlin, is possible in the opinion of Major-General W. S. Brancker, controller general of equipment of the British air ministry.

Major-General Brancker in a statement to the Associated Press laid emphasis on the organization of the air forces on a basis quite independent of the land and sea. General Brancker believes eventually the United States will be obliged to create a secretary of air forces. For the success of the allied cause, he feels strongly that the quicker air independence is established in this country the better.

"It is within the realm of certainty," said General Brancker, "that we can bomb Berlin in the spring if not in the fall with airplanes we have building, as we have already bombed Cologne and the Rhine cities, but we have not the numbers for a really big offensive, in my understanding of the term. We have plenty of planes and can build plenty more, but we lack engines, and we have about reached the limit of capacity for engine production."

"We have built up a big airplane program to take the Liberty motor and bomb Germany, but America cannot now spare these motors, and so I fear that our airplanes will be wasted and the real offensive from the air seriously delayed."

"The delivery of certain types of planes by flying them across the Atlantic is feasible. If we can fly to Berlin and back, which is more than 800 miles, we can fly from Newfoundland to the Azores (the longest lap of the journey) which is 1,200 miles. This means a big organization, airdromes and repair plants in Newfoundland and the Azores."

Stenographers Make Own Salary Demands In These Times of War

"I declare it's beyond me to say what a good stenographer is worth nowadays," comments H. B. Boyles, president of Boyles College. "Six a week has been sort of a standard but war conditions have knocked out all stenographic scales of wages until the beginning stenographer almost gets his own price. The business man is just helping things along by demanding stenographic service regardless of salary figures, and the figures are far higher than what was the standard."

"The government hasn't set a price for stenographers in the mercantile world but I notice that the business man has raised his bid considerable and the wages are now on the continual increase. If the young person could only realize the opportunity offered to stenographers and the almost negligible time consumed in preparing for this branch of office work there would be very little urging needed to bring them into line."
