

MURMAN COAST CEDED FINLAND BY BOLSHEVIKI

Finnish Government Under the Control of Germans, but People Hostile; Ukraine Rising Spreading.

By Associated Press. London, Aug. 1.—There are indications that the situation has changed in the last three weeks in northern Russia and that the Germans shortly will begin an offensive against the southern part of the Murman railway.

The Germans have induced the bolshevik government to agree to the cession of the whole of the Murman coast to Finland, notwithstanding the desire of the inhabitants to remain Russian.

In the Ukraine the peasant rising has assumed large proportions and apparently seriously menaces the German and Austrian communications.

HARNESS RIVERS OF WEST, SAYS FORD

(Continued From Page One.) edge of the potentialities of this section such as I have gathered from the trip I have been making. I have great faith in this section and I want to see the time when all of the immense power of the Missouri river and the other streams in this district are harnessed and utilized for industry and commerce.

"I believe there are feasible means for impounding the waters of these streams in times of flood and releasing them in times of low tide. Surplus waters could be used for irrigation and a system of internal waterways in the shape of canals developed which would solve the question of cheap transportation.

"I want to see a condition brought about when all of the industries of the country will be so localized that every small town can have its factories where farm labor can work at producing machinery in the winter and at raising crops in the summer.

"The nation has accomplished wonders in mobilizing its brain power, man power, resources and wealth to the arts of war as an emergency measure. We are like a young giant who has awakened to a knowledge of his strength.

U. S. to Heal War Wounds. "After peace is declared I believe a condition will be created where we will insist in the same mobilization of all of our brain, brawn, wealth and resources for the benefit of all mankind.

"The great world crisis has proved us a people of altruistic unselfishness and of limitless potentialities for accomplishment. We are the people and if we insist our government at Washington will reflect all of our ideals however great they are.

Mr. Ford believes the tractor, while in its infancy, will solve nearly all of the farm labor problems of the time. It will lend itself to intensive farming and to a larger use of land for the reason of increasing the efficiency of the modern husbandman.

"I could sell 10,000 tractors if I had them today," said he. "I now have my agents looking for sites for my various factories, sites where we can use waterpower and do away with steam. It is all right to make the forgings and castings where we have iron and coal, but the machine work can be done anywhere where there is water power and the assembling at any convenient point.

"We are going ahead with war activities at our plants," said he. "We are building submarine destroyers at the rate of one a day. They are 200 feet long, of five and one-half foot beam, and develop a speed of 22 miles an hour. They are fabricated in a building 1,700 feet long and 400 feet wide, with an addition 400x175. Each boat requires 246,000 rivets, and we also weld plates by what is called the 'cray arc' method. Each boat is equipped with a 3,000 horse-power steam turbine engine which we ourselves build."

After a visit to Fort Omaha this morning the Ford party will proceed in their automobiles to Des Moines today.

CONGRESSMEN FIND U. S. BOYS FULL OF COURAGE

London, Aug. 1.—Nine American congressmen who, with the members of the naval committee of the American house of representatives, make 22 members of congress now in London, arrived this morning from France and Italy. They had visited the Americans on the Marne front, saw the fighting there and said that they were prouder than ever of America.

"We knew of America's wonderful effort," said Representative Cassius C. Dowell of Des Moines, Ia., "but we did not realize so much had been done. It no longer is a case of the United States just getting into the war. She is in."

Congressman Dowell added that he had found the same spirit everywhere. "It was wonderful," he said. "We knew what stuff our men were made of, but we had to visit the battle front to appreciate what they were doing. There isn't a man in our party who will return home with any other thought but that this war must not end until German militarism has been crushed for all time."

May Mean Higher Fare. Washington, Aug. 1.—The war finance corporation, with an available fund of $500,000,000 to lend war industries, is prepared to give financial assistance to some of the companies for whose employees higher wages were ordered. The corporation insists, however, that companies' credit be good, and that adequate security be furnished.

No Intent to Take Lines. President Wilson is understood to have declined to act recently on a suggestion of the war labor board that he take some drastic action to increase street car fares generally throughout the country on the ground that the federal government should not shoulder the financial responsibilities for thousands of utility projects whose needs and nature of service are best known locally.

Directors of the war finance corporation, however, are said to be willing to investigate applications from companies with impaired credit, and to recommend informally to state or local public service commissions that fare increases for the railways be allowed. It was to stimulate this local responsibility for local problems that President Wilson, Secretary McAdoo and the war finance corporation recently issued statements urging public service bodies to expedite consideration of applications of utilities for rate advances.
