BURNS BAKING COMPANY KICKS ON REPORTERS

Objects to Publicity Given Government Closing Order and Says It Is Quite Innocent of Charge Made.

Verbal tilts regarding the right of newspapermen to be present marked the hearing Thursday afternoon of the Jay Burns Baking company before the food administration for alleged excess use of flour in cakes and pies.

"I should like to know," said Matthew A. Hall, attorney for the baking company, "how the Omaha newspapers learned of the order of last Monday closing the pie department of the bakery before the bakery itself learned of it. And I should also like to know what business newspapermen have here now."

"Orders to hold this hearing and to close the pie department of the bakery came from Washington," replied John M. Parrish, attorney for the food department.

All Records Open.

"Do orders from Washington say that matters affecting Omaha business men should be made public?" asked Hall.

"We have no 'star chamber' sessions here," said Parrish. "All the records are open to anyone at any time."

The baking company had been cited by the food administration through orders from Washington to close its pie department beginning last Monday and to appear yesterday afternoon to show cause why the order should not be made permanent.

Claims Small Excess.

Jay Burns, president of the company, admitted in the course of the hearing that his company had, by its own figures, used 12 barrels of flour for products other than bread and rolls during the last six months in excess of the government allowance. Burns contended, however, that this was undoubtedly an unintentional oversight, which could easily have been concealed if he had so wished.

Burns contended that his company had used more than 300 barrels of flour less for bread and rolls during the six months' period than the government allowance and that he should be credited with this saving. In view of the 9,000 barrels of flour used by the company during the six months in question, 12 barrels was but a small discrepancy.

Use Company's Figures.

The hearing was brought about by figures drawn from Burns' own monthly reports to Washington, which revealed an excess use.

These figures showed an excess of from 50 to 60 barrels a month for some months. Burns superseded these figures by others at the hearing on the basis that the figures furnished the government were at fault through a bookkeeper's error. It was on the basis of the later figures that his admission of an excess use of 12 barrels for the period was made.

All of the testimony taken at the hearing will be transcribed and sent to Washington. Figures bringing the records of the company up to date will be furnished by the company within a day or two. The company will bake no pies until a rescinding order from Washington is received.

Lightning and Hail Do Heavy Damage at Boston

Boston, Aug. 8.—Lightning, hail and a high wind lashed this city and nearby places last night leaving a trail of property damage amounting to many thousand dollars. Lightning struck the steeple of the Second church (Unitarian) and two large granite blocks crashed to the roof. The damage is estimated at $20,000. A weather vane fashioned in 1721 out of old brass kettles was hurled to the street.

Union Pacific Employes Plan Big Crowd at Picnic

Frank Roach of the Union Pacific, who is chief executive officer of the company, said that the picnic to be held in Krug park Saturday afternoon of this week is now predicting an attendance of 5,000 persons. He has advices that indicate that, in addition to the local people, there will be a considerable attendance from out in the state.

The picnic is to be a basket affair. There will be a big card of athletic and sporting events and a dance for all who desire to participate in this amusement. There will be two bands on hand to supply music.

Denison Lad Undergoes Operation to Get Into Army

Lenihen Lally, of Denison, Ia., 19 years of age, has just undergone an operation at a Denison hospital, in order to fit himself for military service, and expects as soon as he has recovered, to enlist in the aviation corps. Lally came to Omaha Monday to enlist and found that because of an injury which he had received when playing football in school he was disqualified until he should submit to the operation. The young man is a son of the late P. E. C. Lally, for many years a prominent Iowa lawyer.

Holt County Cattle Will Be Fattened on Iowa Corn

O'Neill, Neb., Aug. 8.—Thousands of head of cattle raised in this part of Nebraska will go to Iowa to be fed out this winter. The corn crop in a large part of Iowa will be good. County Agent Frank H. Lancaster has listed 16,000 head of cattle for sale this fall, and arrangements have been made to bring in Iowa cattle feeders to buy the stock. Thurston county, Nebraska, men are also buying some feeders here.

Food Administration Urges Farmers to Market Wheat

The national food administration has asked the Nebraska office to suggest to the farmers of this territory the importance of marketing their wheat at the earliest possible date. This comes from Washington, not as a demand, but merely as a friendly suggestion

Attempts Suicide After Praying Divine Forgiveness

Mamie Byers, negro, 2017 Paul street, attempted suicide late yesterday afternoon by swallowing a quantity of choloform. She was removed to the Lord Lister hospital. She is now out of danger.

Before attempting to take her life she wrote a note in which she said that she was sick, friendless and penniless—not even having enough money to buy medicine. She also said in the note that she had prayed and believed God has forgiven her all she had ever done and that which she was about to do.

The Byers woman is a housemaid and is said to be separated from her husband whom she has not seen for several years.

Suspected Slacker Arrested.

Lewis W. Jones, Oklahoma City, was picked up last night in the Union Pacific railroad yards. He is being held for investigation. Jones says he is a registrant, and has telegrams and letters to show that he is on his way home to report to his local exemption board, but he has been following up the harvest and lost his registration card.

AT THE THEATERS

Ready to Start at Gayety.

Immense congregations will assemble at the opening performances of the season at the popular Gayety tomorrow; this is indicated by the demands being made on the Gayety's boxoffice where Henry J. Hower will still preside. He is a true disciple of "Old Man" Johnson's creed and can find more aisle seats in the Gayety than can the boss himself. The opening attraction, "The Golden Crook," arrived bag and baggage direct from New York last Wednesday afternoon. The company, headed by that prime favorite, Billy Arlington, numbers 42 people and aside from opening the Gayety's season, it will on the same occasion open its own season. The company has been rehearsing on the Brandeis theater stage since arrival, as the Gayety's stage is still occupied by stage mechanics preparing it for the theater's 40 weeks season.

Eva Tanguay to Open Here.

Eva Tanguay affixed her signature to Orpheum contracts last week, and under the schedule arranged she will play in the Orpheum theaters until next January, opening in Omaha August 18. Miss Tanguay is billed as "The World's Greatest Eccentric Comedienne." The cyclonic one has new songs and costumes. Strange as it may seem, Miss Tanguay has never before played an extended tour of the Orpheum circuit.

Promises of the Press Agents.

Empress—Shackles, handcuffs or rope have no terror for Hayce, the hand-cuff king, now playing at the Empress theater. Last night he was bound hands, feet and neck together, but was loose in a second. Hayco will present some entirely new features at each performance and invites thorough investigation from the audience.

LANGFELD SAYS WHOLLY LOYAL TO HIS COUNTRY

Omaha Physician Says He Has Twice Applied for Service and Been Rejected; Says Charge False.

Dr. Millard Langfeld brands as an "infamous falsehood," statements of disloyalty attributed to him by A. G. Beeson in a Thursday afternoon newspaper.

"I will state unreservedly that this whole thing is untrue. I don't think that I need to defend my patriotism. I applied twice for medical service and was rejected on physical grounds. I now have an application pending for British medical service," the doctor said.

"I was born in Glasgow, Mo.," he continued," and my father was in the civil war on the federal side. I applied for service in the Spanish-American war and was appointed as second lieutenant."

No Investigation Ordered.

The published statement set forth that Mayor Smith had ordered an investigation and when questioned the mayor replied:

"I have not spoken to anybody about an investigation, nor have I discussed the matter with anybody. This is the first I have heard of this affair."

Mr. Beeson, who is the head of the Nebraska Insurance Inspection bureau, stated that he had been correctly quoted by the newspaper which printed the article.

"I did not regard the doctor's statements at the dinner table at the Colonial as being altogether loyal. The doctor asked me if I did not think that reports of German atrocities in Belgium had been exaggerated and he made other statements which did not agree with my ideas of patriotic utterances. I reported this affair to City Commissioner Butler and he was the only official to whom I spoke. I did not speak to the mayor."

Dr. Langfeld intimated that he would defend himself through the courts. Mr. Beeson declared that he will defend his statements in court if necessary.

City Charter Convention Talks Firemen's Salaries

The city charter convention last night indulged m o free-for-all over the proposition to include in the proposed charter an increase in pay for policemen and firemen.

The net result of the conference was the charter which will be submitted will include a revision of that section of the old charter relating to these compensations, the changes to be in substance as followe:

On account of the war emergency existing, the city council shall be permitted to grant an increase of 30 per cent, to those who are receiving less than $100 per month, 20 per cent increase to those receiving from $100 to $125 per month, and 10 per cent increase to those receiving from $125 to $150 per month.

Bandmaster Again Accused of Auto Theft

C. B. Mullen, bandmaster of the disbanded Nebraska Seventh infantry, who got a 30-day jail sentence in Council Bluffs when a district court jury fixed the value of a new Ford car he had stolen at $15, has been placed under arrest at Sioux City charged with the theft of an automobile, which police found in a private garage he had rented.

"Keep your stomach in good working order during the hot summer months and you will have little to fear in the way of sickness" the advice many physicians give as hot weather approaches.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $ 30,000.00

BLOOMINGTON, NEBR., July 25, 1918.

To The Loyal Democrats of Nebraska:

As the father of two boys, all that I have, who are now fighting at the front, and in behalf of these boys and the thousands of other boys who are making similar sacrifices, I appeal to you to nominate Richard L. Metcalf as the democratic candidate for United States Senator. When men like Roosevelt are losing their boys, and men like ex-Mayor Mitchel are giving their lives in this struggle, our duty is plain to put none but the loyal on guard and our candidate for United States Senator must be an hundred per cent American.

As a democrat I want the democratic party to stand by our boys both now and when the war is over by nominating a man for Senator who is mentally capable of dealing with the great questions that will have to be settled as well as one whose loyalty is firm and unflinching. We must not nominate a man for this high office who opposed the President's war measures, fought the selective draft and sought to prevent our soldiers going to France.

With Metcalfe as our nominee we will have the support of every loyal democrat. Let the others go to Berlin.

Respectfully yours,

S. Y. Hartt.

NOW ENJOYS GOOD HEALTH FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS

Adams Says Wife is Like Different Person Since Taking Tanlac.

"Ever since my wife has been taking Tanlac she looks like a different person, for it has built her up till she is a strong and healthy woman once more," said Walter L. Adams, who is employed as engineer at the Harding Creamery Company's plant and lives at 3923 North Forty-second street, the other day.

"For the past two years," he continued, "my wife had been in a dreadfully rundown condition and seemed to be getting worse all the time. She had no appetite and what little she forced down soured on her stomach and did her so little good that she lost all of ten pounds in weight. Her liver did not act right and she was constipated all the time, she suffered from a catarrhal condition of the system and felt worse in the mornings than she did when she went to bed. She complained of being tired and worn out and was really too weak and miserable to look after her housework properly, although she tried her best not to give up.

"She had taken pretty near everything we could hear of trying to get well, but got so little help that we were both greatly discouraged, when I read so much in the papers about Tanlac that I got her a bottle. Well, sir, she began improving almost from the very first dose and has been getting better ever since. Her appetite picked up so it sure does my heart good to see her eating so heartily and enjoying her meals once more and her food is doing her a lot of good. She sleeps like a child all night and her whole system seems to be transformed, and she says she is actually enjoying good health for the first time in years. She has become so much stronger that she is now doing all her housework and, when she feels like it, is able to put through a big day's washing and ironing to boot. Tanlac has sure done her a world of good and we are glad to recommend it whenever we can."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., corner 16th and Dodge streets; 16th and Harney streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Farnam streets; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets; West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a Special Tanlac Representative, and in South Omaha by Forrest & Meany Drug Co.—Adv.
