HEARST, BOLO AND THE COUNT REGULAR CHUMS

New York Attorney General Says He "Has the Goods" on the Newspaper Publisher.

New York, Aug. 11.-Merton E. Lewis, state attorney general, declared in a statement tonight that he could show by a series of affidavits that William Randolph Hearst, newspaper publisher, had received at his recently hanged by France for trea- C. O. Lobeck son, and Count von Bernstorff, the former German ambassador.

Moreover, Mr. Lewis asserted that he was "prepared to show by many affidavits that Count von Bernstorff was a frequent visitor at the Hearst home at about the time of Bolo's visit to New York in the spring of 1916, when Bolo obtained $1,683,000 from von Bernstorff with which to carry on the same German peace propaganda in France that Hearst was then conducting in America."

Met Pasha Three Times. Mr. Lewis claimed that it had been shown "by the testimony of Hearst's Paris correspondent, Bertelli, given on the trial of Bolo for treason, that instead of Hearst meeting Bolo only once, he met him three times."

These meetings, according to Mr. Lewis, occurred when "Hearst entertained Bolo for luncheon, Bolo en-tertained Hearst at the Sherry diner and Hearst entertained Bolo at a theater party and supper."

Included in the statement were copies of nine affdavits regarding visits to the Hearst apartment house alleged to have been made by Bern-atorff and Bolo. Some of these af-fidavits were made by chauffeurs, who said they had driven Bernstorff, Bolo, both to the Hearst home at 137 Riverside drive, on one or more occasions, while others included those by the door man, superintendent and elevator boy at the apartment house. Carl J. Fredriksen, another chauffeur, deposed that he could identify photographs of Bernstorff and Bolo as those two men he had driven together to the Hearst home, "during 1916." They had remained there two hours, according to the affidavit. Bolo Visited Hearst.

Alexander P. Gazollo, now a priate in the national army at Camp Devens, in his affidavit said he was an elevator boy at No. 137 Riverside irive, asserted he took Bernstorff to the Hearst apartment five or six times and Bolo three or four times and "recalls distinctly" taking Bolo to the Hearst apartment once when Bernstorff was still there.

Asserting that employes of the house had nicknamed Bernstorff "Duke de la Brew" and Bolo "Duke de la Car," Gazollo's affidavit added hat he remembered seeing an invitation sent to Bolo for a costume party given in the Hearst apartment, but that he did not know whether he attended the party "for the guests ar-gived in fancy dress." Charles H. Jerome, superintendent of the apartment house, stated in his affidavit that he recognized "the man shown in the photographs as a gentleman who called upon Mr. Hearst on at least two occasions to my knowledge and was known as "The Pasha."

is a characteristic falsification by Mr. Lewis. Mr. Hearst said Bolo had brought excellent credentials, that he was "courteous to him, just as I have been courteous to Lord Northeliffe or to any other visiting journalist of any importance," and that he "did not know that Bolo Pasha would turn out later to be a spy."

"I had met von Bernstorff several times, and I had also met Jusserand and Spring-Rice, the French and British ambassadors," said Mr. Hearst. Americans, including the president of the United States.

But all of this occurred before the entrance of the United States into the war, and I had a perfect right to meet the German ambassador then, or any other ambassador."

The Bee's Fund for Free Milk and Ice

Every added degree of temperature these summer days means more misery and suffering in many homes where the family income does not permit the purchase of adequate food for the babies nor ice to preserve such food as is available. Into many homes of this sort in Omaha The Bee's Free Milk and Ice Fund has been carrying cheer and good health for the little ones all summer.

There is no more beautiful use to make of money than to use it in the creation of ruddy cheeks and smiling lips. Every cent which you give to this fund is used for this purpose, Today the fund passes the $800 mark, but the need is still urgent.

The failure of the spring head which feeds the lake is due to the same causes as those which threaten the destruction of the Omaha artesian basin, of which this district is a part. The failure of the artesian water supply at the South Omaha stock yards camalso be traced to this cause.

Situation Serious. J. H. Price, hardwa. dealer at Florence, whose father and family London, Aug. 11.-The anti-bol- and Union precincts, says the water situation in that part of the county is getting very serious.

Not Due to Drouth.

One of Omaha's most experienced and expert well drillers, who has done much work in developing sources of supply of artesian water for private and industrial concerns and property owners in the city and county says: "I cannot think that the failure of the Omaha artesian basin is due to drouth, but rather do I ascribe its failure to some mechanical drain, due to a geological fault or some uncontrolled springhead which is exhausting the reservoir by improper siphonage. If the source of this drain can be located and controlled I believe the artesian basin can be restored to its original strength and usefulness. Until this is done the persons and industries affected must be prepared to meet with an enormous loss of capital invested in wells that will soon be useless because of the failure of the district and with the loss of great sums of working capital which must be used to explore for and develop new sources of water, which l believe will be of only temporary value and benefit."

THE HEN should be our national emblem instead of the eagle. She is the most patriotic citizen we have, furnishing a large portion of our food and revenue. This, in spite of all the abuse which we heap upon her. We take little care of her and let her hustle for her own living. This is the real cause why eggs and fried chicken are high. The cost of feed is not the reason why so many poultrymen fail. On a proper diet a broiler can be raised to weigh one and a quarter pounds in six weeks which, in almost any market, will bring a dollar or more. In eight months a properly fed and bred capon will weigh twelve and a half pounds and yet the average is probably less than half. To succeed in poultry, you must cull out your unprofitable birds and feed the survivors for eggs and meat. The most successful poultrymen do not attempt to raise their own feed, but will buy by-product feeds which have been to get something for nothing and we ence. These feeds contain what the chicken needs, preventing overfeeding or undernourishment of any of the necessary nutrients.

In no other industry has there been so much literature written. Every poultry-feed manufacturer issues a hand-book which, if faithfully followed, will not fail to bring results. Every agricultural college and the U. S. Government can give you all the necessary information.

Keep dry mash feed always before them in a protected vessel, giving scratch feed only a short time before they go to roost.

Suburbanites and those who have limited space can successfully raise chickens if they will follow the rules and buy the proper feeds. A hen is an egg-making machine and if fed properly she will grind out eggs without fail. Its great weight crushed in the whole building and it continued forward until the structure was flattened out, with the enemy machine gunners thoroughly effaced.

> Tank Crushes Entire Village. After this success, the four com panion tanks engaged various groups of the enemy and the house wrecking machine proceeded to roll down and flatten nine other houses. This tank literally crushed the entire village and all the enemy within. When the French infantry, who had paused until the way was made clear for them by the British tanks, proceeded on their way, they met no resistance. On the other side of the town Germans who had witnessed its demolition fled in terror. German prisoners have boasted that their forces now are equipped with new anti-tank rifles, firing a large projectile at great velocity. Actual encounter with these rifles, however, demonstrates that they are complete failures.

During the advance east of Rosieres British cavalry sent back word that they could not proceed because of heavy firing from a woods on their front. A number of swift "whippets" rolled around to the back of the wood, but the Germans saw them coming and ran for their lives. The cavalry then charged and the Germans were sabered right and left and 700 of them surrendered.

That was only one of the many instances where British cavalry during the course of the battle, in addi-tion to scouting far ahead of the advancing infantry and rounding up enemy forces, has made thrilling charges with the traditional dash of the mounted forces. If the Germans have had a hard time of it with the allied infantry and artillery, they have had doubly a hard one with the cavalry and the tanks. The battle is progressing at this hour from one end of the line to the other and the most favorable results are reported everywhere for the allies.

In 1652, when Peter Stuyvesant was governor of New York, he decided that the little colony, which was then only about a thousand strong, needed more protection against the Redskins who were always prowling about, and the other colonists who might look at their land with covetous eyes. So he ordered a wall built across the island from river to river. Forty-three of the most prosperous citizens lent the necessary money, which was $2,020. This wall played an important part in the history of early New York.

There were two gates, one where Trinity Church now stands called the Land Gate, and the other at Pearl street right at the shore called the Water Gate, and no one was allowed to enter or depart from the city at certain times excepting through these gates. Wall street follows the north side of this barricade. In 1699, Governor Dongan ordered the old wall to be torn down, it had become so dilapidated, but it did not disappear entirely, for it left is name to the street that follows its site.-New York

Munich Post Admits the Failure of German Submarine Campaign

London, ug. 11.-Germany's unrestricted U-boat warfare could neither keep the army of the United States from taking part in the battles on the fields of France nor break the will of the allies to continue the war is the admission made by the Munich Post, a copy of which has been received here. In a review of the situation at the beginning of the fifth year of the war the Post says:

"Eighteen months of unrestricted warfare could not break the enemy's will to war nor prevent America's putting a well-equipped army of a nillion men on the western front. Hopes that after the conclusion of peace in the east the final struggle in the west would be decided in favor of Germany and bring a general peace, have proved deceptive, and the eastern peace itself is a disappointment.

William Madgett

Republican Candidate for U. S. SENATOR Primaries, August 20th.

Personal Letter

I have neither the time nor the money to write personal letters to the voters of Nebraska. You cannot expect a man to give all of his time and spend $25,000.00 in postage and advertising and if elected give you a square deal as your representative in Washington. Therefore, I take this means of reaching the voters. I assume that my standing with the people in the community where I have lived since childhood, is what the voters of this state desire to learn. The following endorsement is what the home people think of Mayor Madgett: Endorsed by the Hastings Church Federation, Ministerial Association, Hastings Carpenters Union No. 1672 and laboring men. Editor Hastings Tribune says, "Mayor Madgett has saved the taxpayers of paving inspection alone he saved the city $10,804.27.' Hastings Democrat says: "Mayor Madgett has saved the taxpayers $175,000.00 in paving contracts. Vice President A. R. Thompson of the Nebraska National Bank says, "Mayor Madgett is honest, a born leader, a thorough business man and thousands of dollars and in the item can deliver the goods." If my platform and record meets with your approval, tell your friends, organize in every district and put Mayor Madgett "over the top" on
