Armours Play U. S. Navy Boys and Defeat Them by Odd Score

The Armours defeated the Navy team, 8 to 7 Sunday. They spotted the Navy six runs in the first inning, that is, after the side showed they have retired the Navy got to Andy Graves for six hits and scored six runs, after that he held them safe except in the fourth, when a two-bagger and single netted them another run.

The Armours took a brace and timely hits coupled with their opponents' errors and the wildness of Freynick allowed the Armours to win a great uphill game. During base running by M. Collins brought in the winning run for Armours, he going to third on a ball muffed in the outfield. Williams caught great ball. Nye, Lawler, Lyck, Riddle and Stevens led with the stick for the Navy.

Hopes and Ambitions of Nebraskans Mirrored in Letters From "Over There"

"We are at that popular town called 'Somewhere,' whence so many American boys are writing home," Harold Requisite recently wrote in a letter from France to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Requisite, York, Neb.

"It is very pretty, very sleepy looking, very foreign and quite what I expected to find," he added. "The people are simple country folk, wear wooden shoes and simple clothes. We did not see a whole lot of the town because a half-mist, half-rain, a 60-pound pack and a disposition grown rather ragged by transport life are not very conducive to sight-seeing."

"This camp is a rest camp or center of distribution and reminds me of an ant hill it is so busy. However, I think we will leave here tomorrow when I soon will be through with this 'on the wing' stuff."

Private Charles H. Plummer recently wrote a letter from Camp Merritt, N. J., to his father, L. L. Plummer, Ayr, Neb., in which he said: "Well, dad, I am finally going to get across. Today is the day I have been waiting for about nine months now—and at last it is here. We get on the boat soon, and then 'Goodbye.'"

Private Plummer is like the greatest majority of Sammies—they are all anxious to get across and "go after 'em."

Leslie W. Carr, one of the first Gothenburg (Neb.) boys to reach the firing line in France, recently wrote the following letter to his mother, Mrs. W. M. Kerr, Gothenburg, Neb.: "Well, now does this find you? I am feeling pretty good again. I got a light touch of gas, but am feeling better once more and expect to leave camp in a few days. The gas did not affect my lungs much. Most of the ill effects were in my eyes, but they are a lot better. I think my division will soon be going back for a good rest. They sure have been doing some hard fighting since they have been on this front."

"Two fellows who came over here with me got 'picked off' about a month ago. One was Walter Spennell and the other John Ridenour, who formerly lived in North Platte. "In closing I wish to say that we sure have been showing the Dutch what the Americans can do—and we will always show them."

"You folks back home don't need to worry that the army life will teach anyone bad habits. I, for one, haven't smoked, chewed or drunk while I have been in the service and I don't intend to. I don't want you folks to worry about me; keep up good cheer for that is what I am doing."

This cheerful bit of news was contained in a letter from Burton Brown, now "somewhere in England," which he wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown, Hastings, Neb. In addition, he wrote: "Haven't been homesick, although, of course, everyone would prefer to be back in the United States and I hope we all can get back. I am feeling fine and am having a good time. Write often, but don't send any papers, for we get lots to read here. Am resting in this camp and will be for a few days before we do any drilling. We'll get the kaiser when we get 'over there' and the sooner the better."

Sergt. Paul Ragan, with the Canadian forces and stationed in England, wrote the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Ragan, Hastings, Neb., recently: "I am very well and still carrying on here as usual. It doesn't look as though I would have to go back to France until next spring. Recruits are coming in very well under the military service act; in fact, during the month of May the wastage of troops from all sources was 8,000 and the recruits obtained were 37,000. So it seems that conscription has been a success after all, and according to the Canadian papers, even the Quebec people have had a change of heart and are coming forward in large numbers to enlist. Their leaders are evidently refraining from twisting the British lion's tail in public. I suspect that the clergy had a tip from higher up."

"Anyway, every one is very pleased at the turn affairs in Quebec have taken. Crop prospects seem to be good in western Canada, and no doubt the prices will be quite satisfactory. A Canadian farmer who does not make good during this war had better give it up as a bad job."

"There isn't much news here. I am still on the front line," he is rather unusual statement made by Lt. Frank Trierweiler, now in France.

Ruth Findley, leading woman in "A Successful Calamity" of last year, has been engaged to appear as the ingenue in Kitty Gordon's new play, "The Scar."

Malto—a picturization of Rupert Hughes' well-known novel, "We Can't Have Everything" is the photoplay attraction at the Rialto theater for the first half of the week. The story of the play deals with the vexatious problem of marriage and divorce in high society circles of New York. There are vampires galore and divorces and marriages come thick and fast in the film. In addition, another of the official war pictures is on the program.

Brandeis—On account of the continued capacity houses at the Broadway, the director of this famous New York theater has arranged with Metro Pictures corporation to extend indefinitely the engagement of "To Hell With the Kaiser," in which Lawrence Grant is featured as the kaiser and Olive Tell plays the American heroine. This is the second time that the engagement of this picture has been extended at the Broadway. Through many persons have seen "To Hell With the Kaiser" several times, coming to the Brandeis theater for a limited engagement beginning August 10, the most frequent and interested visitor to the theater has been the motion picture exhibitor. He has been absorbed in the originality and power of the story and particularly in its possibilities as a record breaker in theater attendance.

"The Beloved Blackmailer" being run at the Sun today has one of the best good scenes filmed in years. Carlyle Blackwell, the star, is pretty handy with the gloves and he is matched with Kid Broad, a well-known mitt swinger of several years ago. The scenes of the play show some of the prettiest parts of the New York mountain country near the Canadian border.

Lawrence Grant, who plays the part of the kaiser in "To Hell With the Kaiser," had the distinction of carrying a message from President Pierce Font of Andora, the smallest republic in the world, to President Wilson of the United States, recently.
