Appear Before State Board to Show That Many Counties Have Cut Down Land Valuations

From a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 12.- (Special.) -Three Douglas county officials-Commissioner O'Connor, Deputy County Attorney W. C. Ramsey and County Auditor George Anthes, appeared before the state board of equalization Monday afternoon to make complaint against land assessments and total tax valuacounties of the state. It was charged that in 14 counties a less acreage of land is listed for taxation this year than in 1917. The aggregate shortage is given as 346,-499 acres. It was declared that four counties have reduced their assessed valuations on land by a total of $757,-

Seventeen counties were named where the total tax valuations were decreased by the county authorities of a rare malady known as myeloma, after the state tax levy had been made. This caused a shrinkage of $2,604,649 in the assessed valuation of the state. It was stated at the hearing that clerical errors were largely responsible

Board Takes Action.

The board went on record by instructing its secretary to communicate with each of the 35 counties affected and report the explanations offered for its consideration.

The loss of 346,497 acres of land and a shrinkage in land values of $757,239 from the assessment rolls of 1918 would mean a loss in state taxes of thousands of dollars. Rest of State Suffers.

The complainants set forth that the loss of taxable property thus brought about falls upon the remainder of the Douglas county in 1917 returned a total valuation of $53,659,-827 to the state board, afterwards increasing the amount by an additional $414,919, while 17 other countles were doing the reverse, the members point-

County Clerk Dewey of Douglas. who was not among the party, has furnished a written report embodying these facts. A recent investigation of the assessment records at the capital by County Audior Anthes revealed these figures, the statement

The following counties are named as having unlawfully cut down their total tax valuations: Burt, Chase, Cheyenne, Clay, Gage, Hall, Keith, McPherson, Otoe, Phelps, Pierce, Red Willow, Rock, Scotts Bluff, Sherman, Thayer and Washington. Four Counties Reduced.

The list shows the following four counties as having reduced their land fix rates within its own borders. valuations for 1918: Dakota, $318,-396; McPherson, $47,402; Nance, $220,-852; Phelps, $170,589. Total, $757,-

The counties alleged to be short in assessed acreage this year, as compared with last year, together with pared with last year, together with the number of acres missing in each county are: Arthur, 179,728; Brown, 10,532; Cherry, 18,398; Dakota, 7,208; Deuel, 6,449; Garden, 5,651; Keith, 4,-210; Loup, 11,162; McPherson, 28,065; Morrill, 5,302; Scotts Bluff, 21,667; Sioux, 21,745; Stanton, 21,947; Thur-ston, 4,435. Total, 346,499.

One Shows Decrease.

McPherson is the only county showing an actual decrease from last year in the valuation of all property. the protestants said, there being a general increase in total assessments throughout the state ranging from 1 to 20 per cent.

This is Douglas county's first kick to the state board that it is assessed too high in comparison with other counties. Heretofore complaints have always been by other counties that Douglas county assessments, particularly on merchandise, were lower than they should be and lower in proportion than the rest of the state.
