Musicians Add Cooking to List of Fine Arts

That cooking in wartime is an art and a fine art at that, is the belief of two Omaha women, who are devoted to that other art, music.

Early in the spring Miss Rees invited the Omaha Woman's Press club for a buffet supper on the club's regular meeting day, which is Wednesday—without giving a thought to the edicts of one Herbert Hoover.

"How can I bake a cake without flour?" she puzzled and straightway entered her kitchen to experiment.

That the experiment was successful, Good Housekeeping, that unquestioned authority, which gave to Miss Rees the prize, besides printing a photograph of the cake, will testify.

This is the recipe of the Omaha "kitchen soldier": 1/4 c. margarin, 1 t. soda, 1/4 c. sugar, 1 c. canned stoned cherries, 1/2 c. molasses, 2 t. cinnamon, 1/2 c. hot water, 1 t. nutmeg, 1/2 c. ground cloves, 1 c. finely ground oatmeal, 1/2 t. salt, 1/2 c. baking power, 1 t. sour cream.

Cream the margarin and sugar together, add the molasses, and the yolks of the eggs beaten until lemon-colored.

To this add the rice potato and one cupful of oatmeal mixed thoroughly with the spices, salt and baking powder.

This recipe has the highest food value of any recipe given in this number. It includes 3,822 total calories of which 378 are protein.

Mrs. Edith L. Wagoner, another musical member of the Press club, has frequently evolved recipes which have won her prizes and Mrs. Keene Abbott, still another member, boasts of great success in the culinary art.

Grinnell Reunion. Miss Clara J. Anderson, who is in Omaha helping the Young Women's Christian association with its war work, will be entertained in Council Bluffs Wednesday evening.

Entertains for Visitor. Miss Eleanor McGilton will give a luncheon at the Country club Tuesday honoring her house guest, Miss Sarah Powell of Milwaukee, Wis.

Wedding Date Set. The marriage of Miss Alvina Grapp, daughter of Mrs. Mina Grapp, and Dr. J. F. McAviney will take place very quietly Wednesday, after which the young couple will leave on a western trip.

Mrs. Grace Ford Gholson has returned from Fullerton where she addressed an audience of 5,000 Sunday at a chautauqua, on Y. W. C. A. war work.

W. A. Pixley left Sunday evening on a business trip to Minneapolis and Duluth.

Mrs. Ada Lee Piersall and three daughters left Saturday evening for Chicago, where they will visit Mrs. Piersall's nephew, Ensign Roscoe East, in the Great Lakes naval training station.

The baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gulfoyle last Wednesday has been named Michael Holland Gulfoyle. Mrs. Gulfoyle was formerly Katherine Holland of this city.

Lt. and Mrs. Lyle Hubbard left last evening for a short honeymoon at Lake Minnetonka, after which they will go to Dallas, Tex., where the lieutenant is stationed.

Mrs. D. R. Mills has been ill with an attack of summer gripe.

E. G. McGilton left Sunday evening to attend the Commercial Law league convention in Chicago.

Miss Jewel Perrin of Wichita, Kan., will make her home in Omaha as she intends to study the harp under Miss Loretta Delone.

Lt. Roger S. McCullough, commanding a balloon company at the new Mulberry Island training camp, is at home on a short leave, visiting his parents, Col. and Mrs. T. W. McCullough.

Miss Sarah Powell of Milwaukee, Wis., arrived this morning to visit her Smith college friends, Miss Eleanor McGilton.

Mrs. D. C. Baum and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Omaha are recent arrivals at the new Broadmoor hotel, Colorado Springs, Colo.

County Comptroller's Assistant Is a Bride

Miss Blanche Manning

An interesting announcement of marriage is that of Miss Blanche Manning, daughter of William F. Manning, a pioneer resident of Omaha, to Wilbur D. Thompson.

The wedding took place at the home of her father, 1006 South Twenty-fifth street, Saturday at 8 p. m.

Miss Manning had been for nine years employed in the city comptroller's office, where she gained a large circle of acquaintances.

Some grossery stoar men would sooner throw away sumthin that is too ripe to sell than give it to a boy to eat, though it would cost them nuthin.

When Dots Our Eyes Delight

By GERTRUDE BERESFORD.

No summer wardrobe is complete without a frock of foulard. Old blue dots on a white ground produce an unusually lovely gown when combined with white georgette crepe.

Cotton voile in dotted and plain weave may be substituted for the more expensive silk. A bib-like front continues into the girdle, which may fasten with pearl buttons sewed through with all blue thread, or continue into sash ends.

The monk's collar of white georgette crepe gives an artistic neckline. Two bands of dotted foulard are effectively balanced with the plain material of the white georgette skirt.

A wide white hat is faced with blue taffeta. A taffeta ribbon, made by picot finishing taffeta, ties the crown and completes a picturesque summer costume.

WOMEN IN WAR TIME

Lincoln Girl to Serve in France. Miss Helene Mitchell, daughter of Dr. A. R. Mitchell of Lincoln, is the latest Nebraska addition to overseas canteen workers.

This is the most unusual instance that has yet occurred in Nebraska canteen service, for by the request of Dr. Lambert, who gained fame as the physician of ex-President Roosevelt, Miss Mitchell waived all preliminary examination and expects to sail the middle of September.

To Entertain Soldiers. The War Camp Community Service has inaugurated a series of games to take the place of dancing on some occasions, giving variety to the entertainments for the soldier boys.

Discus War Work. Mrs. Carrie M. Spellman, president of the Y. W. C. A. of Beatrice, and Mrs. Grace Ford Gholson, state director of the war work campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in Nebraska, were guests and speakers at the meeting of the Liberty club this afternoon at Happy Hollow club.

Present Patriotic Clubroom. Mrs. G. F. Gilmore, president of the Young Women's Christian association, will formally present the new club room in the association building to the patriotic clubs of Omaha this evening.

At "Pollymack" Farm. "Pollymack Farm" is the inviting name given their country home near Noroton, Conn., by Pauline Frederick and Willard Mack.

CHAPTER II. Building Airplanes. (Peggy is awakened at dawn by General Swallow, who tells her an army is marching by. She finds it an army of millions of tiny United States workers under the leadership of General Thrift.)

At the end of the street was a huge factory wallled in by a high board fence. The entrance was a large gate, which was locked fast.

General Thrift's auto drove up before the gate. The army of Whizzes swept right over the fence in a steady march, which reminded Peggy of pictures she had seen of warrior ants in an African forest.

"Isn't this annoying?" cried General Thrift. "My auto can't climb this wall and I've got to waste time walking when I'm needed in a hundred places at once. How stupid of me not to bring an airplane!"

"Come ride with me in my aerial chariot," suggested Peggy.

"If it will not bother you," hesitated General Thrift.

"Nothing that will help win the war is a bother to a patriot these days," replied Peggy.

The added weight of General Thrift did not seem to make any difference to the Scarlet Tanagers or Blue Birds, and they carried the chariot quickly over the wall.

Peggy found a tremendous lot of excitement. Whizzes were everywhere, working with snappy energy. They were unloading cars, carrying material into the factory and performing hundreds of tasks.

"What are they building?" asked Peggy, who couldn't make head or tail out of the rush of work going on.

"Can't you guess?" replied General Thrift.

Peggy looked around more carefully. Some men were gluing pieces of wood together, some were stretching cloth over frames and varnishing it, some were twisting wires.

"It looks as though it might be some kind of a furniture factory," she commented.

"Look in the next room," said General Thrift, and they floated along in where men were fitting wooden sides to frames.

"It's a boat factory!" declared Peggy.

"Come on to the next room," urged General Thrift.

My Hat Diary

By Carita Herzog

Well for evermore if it isn't almost 10 o'clock and me just rolling out of bed. I'll be late for Red Cross and I promised Mrs. Gillen I would take her place as captain of her table this evening.

I was out so late last eve. Four of us went out to the beach to swim. When we came out of the water we went rowing in the boat Dick Moore made himself. I was afraid to get in it but Betty Moore said she had rowed in it before and that she had found it perfectly safe so I got in and really it was lovely.

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN. A Baby Vamp? Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha: I am about to ask you a question that makes me laugh to myself when I ask it.

That is a very queer question, but you will understand when I explain. I am 16 years old, but will be 17 next month. I dislike so much to be flattered, but so many persons have told me I'm the prettiest girl in the town in which I live.

I have so many admirers I don't know what to do with them all. If I go with a boy once I have a terrible time getting rid of him. They just won't take no for an answer.

What is worrying me is that not a few have become real serious and have really proposed. I tell them that I am entirely too young to even think of love and that they must consider me one of their best friends.

I confide everything to mama and she tells me not to encourage them in the least and I try not to.

I dress as young as possible, wear my hair down in curls about all the time, caught with large ribbons and bowdies of the times they come without my knowing they are coming.

They all treat me with so much respect that I hate to hurt their feelings by telling them they are coming on to me. I go with steady thinkers I hadn't ought to show anyone else any attention at all.

Now, Miss Fairfax, don't think I run with first one and then another, for I do not. Mama wouldn't allow that. But they come to me all the time, and I don't of the times they come without my knowing they are coming.

Red Cross

Omaha is to be divided by the block system scheme to facilitate Red Cross salvage work.

Mrs. Allan Farmer will head the organization with a captain and lieutenant in charge of each district's stations.

Sixty dollars was the proceeds from the collection of tinfol by Campfire girls last month. Additional receipts have been placed in all clubs and at the two posts.

The Ideal Button and Pleating company has offered to make all buttonholes on hospital garments free.

Mrs. Charles McLeland, 1846 Sherman avenue, has five fox terrier setter pups she will sell for $2 each and donate the proceeds to the Red Cross.

A traveling man Saturday gave $1.50 he had earned by carrying another salesman in his car, to the Red Cross.

You cannot go far wrong. Keep your conscience clean, know that you are doing the right thing and forget about what jealous persons may say.

Christmas gifts should be nothing more than candy of flowers or simple gifts as a token of friendship.

Evil Tongues. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha: I have been married a little over a year and my husband went "over there" with Pershing in the first contingent.

My mother urged me to get out of the house as much as I love my husband, I have no desire to do otherwise than to be loyal and true and brave in doing my bit, as my soldier husband is serving his country.

That is a very queer question, but you will understand when I explain. I am 16 years old, but will be 17 next month. I dislike so much to be flattered, but so many persons have told me I'm the prettiest girl in the town in which I live.

Quit Laxatives, Purges; Try NR NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, which irritate the bowels and force bowel action.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary?

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this right for a week or so. NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action.

This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out.

This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best.

"GRACIOUS" THOUGHT PEGGY. "HE MUST BE A GERMAN SPY."

ing, Whizzes by the thousands were helping with tools and supplies. It was marvelous to Peggy how they speeded up the workmen by keeping materials rushing to them, and it was astonishing how they avoided getting stepped on.

"What are they building?" asked Peggy, who couldn't make head or tail out of the rush of work going on.
