

BOOZE RUNNERS COME TO GRIEF AS PASS GAUNTLET

Morals Squad Swoops Down on Druggist, Pool Hall Keeper, Porter and Harnessmak-er, With Results.

Members of the bootleggers' syndicate can fool all the morals squad some of the time, and part of the morals squad all the time, but they can't fool all of 'em all the time, and several alleged whisky runners have learned that they take a big chance in bringing booze into Omaha.

T. C. Farran, druggist, 4815 Burt street, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Captains Briggs and Haig on the charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor and illegal transportation. Farran was arrested in an automobile at 2812 North Twenty-fifth street, with 173 pints of whisky packed in two suitcases.

Sam Milian, pool hall keeper, 1117 Pacific street, also tried to slip one across on the police, but he was arrested and booked on the charge of unlawful possession of whisky. When Detectives Jensen and Knudtson raided his place they found one pint of whisky. After he had been released on a $105 bond he accused the detectives of carrying the bottle of whisky into his place of business.

W. Clarkson, Chicago, Pullman porter, attempted to run the gauntlet with eight quarts of booze, but was picked up by Special Officers Cashman and Heizer. Previous to his arrest he had sold four quart bottles to A. R. Tooser, a switchman, 607 1/2 California avenue, for $16. Charges of unlawful possession and illegal transportation were placed against him.

Max Siref, harnessmaker, 1406 North Twenty-fifth street, acted as the supply keeper for a nearby "soft" drink parlor, the police allege. Thursday afternoon Sergeant Allan, and officers Schwager and Muldoon of the morals squad raided the harness shop and confiscated 31 pints of whisky. The detectives say that whenever the "soft" drink parlor proprietor rang a bell Siref would deliver a pint of whisky. He was released on a bond of $105.

Save Wheat and Help Win the War

In a publication of the U. S. Food Administration, of January 26th, 1918, is the following comment:

"A baking powder concern in Chicago is distributing a placard that consumers purchase double-size packages of all food articles packed in tin, thus saving about 25% tin plate for use in ammunition. Baking powder is also recommended with corn bread and a special booklet of War Time Recipes is offered housewives who are interested."

The baking powder concern referred to was the Calumet Baking Powder Company and its efforts to conserve our resources were thus commended.
